RESUMED AFTER COURT HEARING
ON WRIT PLEA'Very Harmonious' Session Held — Suit for Injunction Against Governor Taken Under Advisement.

Representatives of Public Service Co. and the union of its bus and streetcar operators met again today with Daniel C. Rogers, chairman of the State Board of Mediation, to resume efforts to settle the wage dispute that caused a three-and-one-half-day strike last week.

The sessions were interrupted yesterday for a hearing on the union's petition for a temporary injunction against enforcement of the state's King-Thompson public utility anti-strike law under which Gov. Phil M. Donnelly seized and is operating the company pending a settlement. Circuit Judge Robert L. Aronson took the case under advisement after the hearing.

Two-Hour Session Held.
After the hearing, the parties went back into negotiating sessions with Rogers last night at Hotel Jefferson. A two-hour joint session followed separate meetings of Rogers with each side. The joint session was the longest held thus far, Rogers said, and was "a very harmonious discussion of the wage dispute," he added. He declined to say what progress, if any, was made.

All testimony at the court hearing yesterday was offered by the union in support of its contention that Public Service Co. is engaged in interstate commerce, within the meaning of federal legislation, and that it is thus subject to federal laws in the matter of labor relations.

It is the union's basic argument that in this field federal law is supreme and such a state law as the King-Thompson act is an unconstitutional attempt to infringe on the Federal Government.

In seeking a temporary injunction against Gov. Donnelly and Chairman Rogers, whom the Governor designated as his agent to operate the transit property, the union asked that the court order a revocation of the seizure, a bar on any further action by the two defendants under the King-Thompson Act, and a restoration of the labor dispute to its pre-seizure status.

Judge's Comment.
After Morris J. Levin, union counsel, concluded his case, Judge Aronson remarked that the need for prompt relief had not been made clear to him. "You must realize," he told Levin, "that as this case is presented, you are asking the court to act immediately, or within a few days after you bring a law suit, and on skimpy testimony, to take one of the most drastic actions that the State can take. You want the court to set aside a statute legally enacted by the State Legislature and to put aside action of the Chief Executive of the state, whom I am not yet convinced you can sue in this type of matter."

The judge noted that the King-Thompson act distinguishes between ordinary business enterprises and those that are affected by a public interest, that is, public utilities. He recalled testimony to the effect that 225,000 transit riders are affected daily by the operation of Public Service Co.

"Now the fact that there have been some proceedings before the National Labor Relations Board does not make it clear that the State of Missouri has no power to regulate matters that are so vital to hundreds of thousands of citizens."

Women Who Escaped From Robbers

ROBBERS INVADE HOME, 2 WOMEN ESCAPE BY RUSE

East Side Victims Flee Unharmed From Two Captors, Who Leave Emptyhanded.

Mrs. Armen Kurkjian and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sue Kurkjian, were terrorized today in their home by two robbers who bound the two women and threatened to kill them. They live at 4 Signal Hill boulevard between East St. Louis and Belleville.

While one robber was upstairs looking for money and jewelry, the women succeeded in escaping without injury by duping the man standing guard over them. The robbers, one of whom was armed, then fled without taking anything.

Mrs. Armen Kurkjian told the Post-Dispatch she received a telephone call at 11 a.m. today from a stranger inquiring if her husband, a grocer in East St. Louis, were home. She said "No."

About 10 minutes later, two men appeared at the front door. Mrs. Kurkjian cautiously opened the door a few inches, keeping one foot behind it as a brace, but one of the men forced it open.

Threatens to Kill Her.
He shoved a pistol into the woman's side, warning: "Don't make any noise or we'll kill you." Then his companion entered and clamped gloved hands over Mrs. Kurkjian's mouth and said: "Someone's in the kitchen." She said, "I was afraid she'd come in and they would kill her. I managed to pull the robber's hand off my mouth and said: 'Someone's in the kitchen, don't fire at her.'"

When Mrs. Sue Kurkjian, who is 63 years old, appeared and saw the man with a pistol, she fainted, falling on the floor in a reception room.

The robbers then dragged her on the floor to a point beside a couch, ordered the younger woman to lie on the couch, and tied the hands and feet of both women with an electric cord.

As the man with the pistol went upstairs, Mrs. Armen Kurkjian pleaded with his companion: "Please don't harm us. I have a heart condition. Just let me get my pills."

Simply a Ruse.
Mrs. Kurkjian told the Post-Dispatch she does not have a heart ailment but was simply attempting to divert the robbers' attention, hoping that something would happen to allow their escape.

She said the robber, who seemed to be in his 20s and much younger than his companion, finally agreed to untie her and accompany her to another room, where she knew her husband kept pills for a heart ailment he has.

"Just as we got into the room, I heard my mother-in-law screaming, 'Help, help,' and I saw her running out the front door," Mrs. Kurkjian related.

"That gave me a chance. I gave the robber a hard shove, knocking him over, and I also untied her."

NEW METHOD SPEEDS THIRD ST. HIGHWAY TRAFFIC

A new method of directing traffic speeded up flow of vehicles into Gravois avenue from the newly-opened Third Street Interregional Highway at the rush period yesterday, and Maj. William Cibulka of the police traffic division, said there were no long delays as there had been Monday.

Westbound vehicles on Gravois were stopped while westbound cars from the new thoroughfare moved in, and vice versa. On Monday, cones had been used to merge the flow, admitting only two lanes from the expressway. Yesterday no cones were used, and four lanes of cars from the east flowed simultaneously.

The decision to alternate the influx at that intersection was made by Cibulka and Frank Kriz, director of streets and sewers.

Manual control of electric signals will be continued for several weeks, Kriz said, and if that method continues to be satisfactory, the signals will be adjusted for automatic operation.

FLAG OF TULIPS PLANTED HERE TO HONOR PRESIDENT

Hugo Wurdack, stanch Republican and former member of the St. Louis Board of Education, was busily engaged today on a horticultural project celebrating President Dwight D. Eisenhower's apparent recovery from a heart attack.

He is installing a large tulip bed, 50 feet long and 25 feet wide, in the front lawn of his home at 3501 Lindell boulevard, which, when the flowers bloom next spring, will be a huge American flag, unfurled in all its red, white and blue splendor.

Wurdack is planting 2500 tulip bulbs imported from Sasnehe, Holland, the flower bed, 1000 white, 1000 red and 500 blue. One white tulip will represent each of the 48 stars. When the bed is in bloom, about the end of April, it will be plainly visible from the street.

"However, I am keeping my fingers crossed this winter," he said. "It's a little tricky to get the tulips all in bloom at one time, but after consulting with the grower, I believe I've got that problem licked."

LAW VIOLATION IN DIXON-YATES HINTED IN OPINION

Halt in Settlement Talks Followed GAO Letter on Possible Conflict of Interests.

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 — Back of the decision of Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, to break off negotiations with the Dixon-Yates combine for settlement of its claim under its now-defunct Dixon-Yates contract was an opinion by the Comptroller General's office that evidence presented to a Senate subcommittee "indicates the possibility of a violation" of criminal statutes relating to conflict of interest.

As previously disclosed, Strauss was informed by letter dated Oct. 3 by the office of the Comptroller General of the United States.

"We suggest that in view of the questions which have been raised at the hearings before the subcommittee on anti-trust and monopoly legislation of the Senate Judiciary Committee, appropriate means be considered to protect the interests of the United States under any settlement agreement in the event it should develop that the United States is entitled to relief from liability on the ground that the Dixon-Yates contract is void or voidable because contrary to public policy."

'Possibility of Violation.'
The letter, sent over the signature of Frank H. Weitzel, Assistant Comptroller General, went on to say, it was learned today.

The General Accounting Office has no jurisdiction to determine whether or not the criminal statutes of the United States have been violated.

"However, the evidence so far presented before the subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee indicates the possibility of a violation of Sec. 434, Title 18, United States Code, or other conflict of interest statutes in connection with the negotiation of the Dixon-Yates contract."

These "facts," Weitzel wrote, might well affect the contract "and under the circumstances we cannot say that the validity of the Dixon-Yates contract is beyond doubt."

Four days after receiving this letter, Strauss informed Senator Clinton P. Anderson (Dem.), New Mexico, by letter dated Oct. 7, that negotiations with the power combine were being held in abeyance. Strauss said the AEC "has been conducting a study of the potential effects upon the contract of the questions of public policy and conflict of interest" stemming from "facts" developed in hearings conducted last summer by the Senate subcommittee, of which Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem.), Tennessee, is chairman.

Decision by AEC Implied.
The implication in Strauss' letter was that the AEC had initiated a study and analysis of the circumstances attending the negotiation of the Dixon-Yates contract and that the decision to break off talks of a settlement of claims resulting from the agreement being voided was that of the AEC.

In his letters to the AEC, Weitzel pointed out that Kefauver had referred testimony taken in the hearings to the Department of Justice for study and possible action. He advised Strauss that the liability of the Government under the contract was dependent upon its validity.

"The consummation of a settlement of claims by the Government would be dependent upon its validity," Weitzel wrote.

DENTAL, MEDICAL SPOKESMEN OK FLUORIDATION, OPPOSE REPEAL

Testify for Ordinance at Aldermanic Hearing — Mayor Urges Retention of Treatment of Water.

Spokesmen for dental and medical societies of St. Louis today defended fluoridation of the water supply, and urged defeat of a bill that would repeal the ordinance under which the measure to reduce tooth decay in children is now in effect.

Approximately 200 persons attended the hearing before the Board of Aldermen on the repeal bill, which the committee on legislation had reported out on Friday to the board.

After closing the meeting at the end of three hours and 10 minutes, Alderman Anton Niemeyer, vice president of the Board of Aldermen and chairman of its committee on legislation, said the committee would meet Friday to consider recommendations it would submit on the repeal to the board. He has proposed submitting the bill to a popular referendum.

The medical and dental experts testified after Mayor Raymond B. Tucker told the aldermen that when the history of the board is written, its action in authorizing fluoridation of the city's water will probably be pointed out as its most important achievement. He urged them to retain the ordinance.

Doctor Questioned.
Alderman Clinton Watson, who said he had quit drinking city water on a physician's orders because of a heart ailment, handed a bottle marked "2 per cent fluorides" to Dr. Willard Bartlett and asked him whether it was poisonous.

"It most certainly is in that concentration," the physician, who is chairman of the St. Louis Medical Society's committee on fluoridation, said. "And so is digitalis," he added, referring to a well-known heart medication.

Watson asked Dr. Bartlett whether any harm could come from drinking the presently fluoridated St. Louis water.

"That's the easiest question I have been asked today," was the reply. "The answer is no."

Question on Toxic Effects.
Another witness, Dr. Theodore Rosebury, professor of bacteriology at Washington University, was asked by Watson regarding the toxic effects of the 2 per cent solution of fluorides.

Watson was told that concentration was quite poisonous. "But that concentration represents two parts of fluoride to 100 parts of water," the witness said. "The amount in the water supply is one part in 1,000,000 parts of water."

Others Testify.
Other witnesses in favor of continuing fluoridation were Dr. Daniel Sexton, president of the St. Louis Medical Society; Dr. W. A. Young of the Mound City Medical Society; Dr. Alfred Schwartz, president of the St. Louis Pediatric Society; and Dr. J. Earl Smith, city health commissioner.

All emphasized that fluorides, when present in the proper proportion in the water supply, reduce decay in children's teeth and no scientific case against the safety of the process ever has been made.

Speaking for the repeal measure, Weldon Riley, Kansas City, Missouri chairman of the Christian Science Committee on Publications, said members of his church cannot effectively practice their religion if forced to undergo what he called "a form of preventive medicine."

He called fluoridation a "violation of liberty and an infringement of religious rights."

He added Christian Scientists believe their religion is forced to undergo what he called "a form of preventive medicine."

Miss Anna D. Rooney, a past president of the Women's Real Estate Board, said she was opposed to compulsory medication.

She said she was in agreement with some proponents of fluoridation who expressed opposition to Thirty-third street.

DULLES VISITS PRESIDENT, REPORTS 'MEASURED HOPE' FOR SUCCESS AT GENEVA

MULTI-BILLION AIRCRAFT WARNING SYSTEM OK'D

FCC Authorizes A.T. & T. to Install Air Force Network After Defense Secretary Wilson Intercedes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (UP)—

The Federal Communications Commission today authorized American Telegraph & Telephone Co. to construct facilities for SAGE—the Air Force's planned multi-billion dollar aircraft warning system.

The Air Force contract with A.T. & T. will amount to $2,400,000 over a 10-year period. The FCC said that it acted on the basis of recommendations by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. Last week the FCC had told A.T. & T. that its application to start work on the multi-billion dollar project lacked sufficient justification.

The FCC noted that Campbell General Joseph Campbell had frowned on the Air Force contract with A.T. & T. on the ground that it had not been authorized by Congress.

An FCC spokesman today said Wilson had informed the commission that he had asked Campbell to reconsider his opinion.

The FCC action authorizes A.T. & T. to start construction of underground cables and microwave relays to supplement existing Air Force facilities between various points in New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

But the commission suspended until February 1956 the operation of any new rate schedules under the A.T. & T. system and ordered hearings into the lawfulness of the charges proposed by A.T. & T. starting Nov. 21.

The Western Union Telegraph Co. has protested against the rate schedule proposed by A.T. & T. in connection with the project. SAGE rates also would be available to commercial customers under the A.T. & T. system.

SAGE derives its name from Semi-Automatic Ground Environment system.

MEXICAN TOWN BURIED IN MUD, 50 BODIES FOUND

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19 (UP)—Rescue teams which reached Mexico's storm-battered Pacific coast today reported 50 persons dead in the town of Atencuque, which was "literally buried" by mud and debris.

Some sections of the three-state area flooded by a violent storm which blew in off the Pacific three days ago remained inaccessible.

Red Cross teams were flown to Atencuque, in Jalisco state, and reported the "whole place" was covered by mud with "only the church steeple showing."

The teams said 50 bodies had been recovered.

At Mexico City, officials said they had had no communications with the little coastal state of Colima for more than two days. It was reported "virtually all under water."

CHARGED WITH IMPALING BROTHER ON STAKE IN FEUD

TOULON, France, Oct. 19 (UP)—A 55-year-old Frenchman who had feuded with his 60-year-old brother for years was arrested today on charges of impaling his brother on a wooden stake, fatally wounding him.

Police said the feud reached such heights that the brothers, Armand and Toussaint Audifren, built a fence down the middle of the courtyard of their house to keep themselves apart. The quarrel was believed centered over whether they should sell the house.

BIRDS HIT EMPIRE STATE BUILDING, 100 ARE KILLED

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—About 100 birds were killed during the night by crashing into the upper part of the Empire State Building.

Most of the birds were apparently were on their way south for the winter.

Most of the birds were described as warblers. Two bats of a type that flies south for the winter also were found dead.

The birds were found on various setbacks of the building and on Thirty-third street.

RESULTS LIKELY ON GERMAN UNITY AND EAST-WEST ISSUES, HE SAYS

Eisenhower Said to Be Studying Ways to Help Big Four — Presidential Message Hinted.

By JAMES DEAKIN

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

DENVER, Oct. 19—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he and President Eisenhower share "a measured hope" that concrete progress will be made at the forthcoming Geneva Big Four foreign ministers conference.

Dulles, who conferred with Mr. Eisenhower for 25 minutes this morning, told reporters he believed the Big Four meeting would produce tangible results in two areas—the reunification of Germany and better contacts between the East and West.

"I believe concrete progress will be made toward the reunification of Germany within a framework of European security," Dulles said.

The secretary disclosed that Mr. Eisenhower is considering ways in which he might help achieve the Big Four meeting. He hinted that the form of a presidential message to the foreign ministers when they convene.

He declined to say whether such a message might be forthcoming but said Mr. Eisenhower was "thinking about the whole subject and may do something."

Parley Oct. 27.
Dulles said the conference, which opens Oct. 27, should help "clear away some of the misunderstandings that seem to have arisen" on the subject of disarmament.

"The problems of German reunification and European security have been linked for discussion at Geneva. Russian leaders have said unification of East and West Germany should be a European security system involving mutual guarantees against aggression."

Dulles foresaw "concrete progress" on the first three and a hope for some improvement on the last.

He said he reviewed preparations for the Geneva meeting with Mr. Eisenhower in the latter's room at Fitzsimons Army hospital and received the President's "counsel and advice."

"The President has, as I have said, been thinking about the whole subject and may do something."

The meeting will bring together the foreign ministers of Great Britain, France, the United States and Russia to implement directives handed down by the heads of state of the four nations at the "summit" conference last summer.

Test of Good Will.
Mr. Eisenhower has said the foreign ministers' talks would be the "acid-test" of the good will produced at the "summit" conference.

Dulles said he did not expect "spectacular" results from the Big Four talks, "but any results at all would make an advance over any or all of our previous conferences with the Soviet Union."

"I do not expect Germany will be unified within the next month, but I do expect that some of the obstacles to that unification have been surmounted," he went on.

"I believe we shall make some concrete progress on the item of increased contacts between the East and West."

"I feel confident the talks will have about disarmed what will clear away some of the misunderstandings that seem to have arisen."

Dulles' comments on the meeting were among his most optimistic.

"I go to Geneva," he said, "with the assurance that I have behind me a President who fully knows the issues and who has given me a full and comprehensive mandate to speak for our nation at that conference."

Hopes for Deeds.
Dulles said he had never used the word "optimistic" to describe his feelings about the prospects for the Big Four talks.

"What I have said is that this will be a conference where I hope and expect that something will be done," he told reporters.

He said last summer's "summit" conference was not designed to be a conference at which something concrete was to be done.

It was designed to create a spirit of good will. The forth-

FAURE EXPECTS RESPITE AFTER SECOND VICTORY ON NORTH AFRICA

Wins Vote of Confidence, 308 to 254 on Algeria — No New Threat Likely Until After Geneva.

PARIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Twice victor in National Assembly votes on his North African policies, Premier Faure appeared today to look forward to a month's respite from parliamentary attack.

The Premier won his latest victory last night with a 308-to-254 vote of confidence from the Assembly on his plans for restoring order and promoting political reforms in Algeria. The 54-vote margin surprised even his most optimistic supporters.

Nine days earlier he had carried off an even more surprising 477-to-140 indorsement of his Moroccan policies.

Each time the Premier came back from what looked like certain defeat. Each time he benefited from special circumstances, but his own nimble parliamentary footwork also contributed to his successes.

Reform Program.
With the two voting hurdles behind him, Faure now should be able to concentrate on applying the reform programs for Morocco and Algeria which the Assembly approved.

The Assembly's work schedule has not been set yet, but it appeared unlikely any debates dangerous for the government would be scheduled until after the Geneva meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers. That conference opens Oct. 27 and is expected to continue three or four weeks.

In voting confidence in the government, the Assembly approved the same resolution it had turned down last Friday on a procedural vote. If Faure had not forced a delay by asking for a vote of confidence, he would have been defeated then in a ballot on the substance of the resolution.

The four-day postponement gave the assemblymen time for second thoughts which saved the life of the cabinet. Faure's troubles were far from over, however. A big segment of his support has slipped away from him and his enemies are waiting only for an opportune moment to give him the ax. He got a number of votes yesterday from deputies who announced they opposed his policies but hesitated to plunge France into another government crisis now.

Christian Pineau, a member of the Assembly's finance committee, said today an additional $2,000,000,000 francs ($134,225,700) would have to be appropriated in 1955 for the extended military operations in North Africa. The total military outlay originally was figured at $26,000,000,000 francs ($2,731,427,850).

320,000 Troops.
Faure told the Assembly last week France now has about 320,000 troops in North Africa, most of them in Algeria.

The government's Moroccan program already is under way, with unpopular Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat in retirement in the international zone of Tangier and a part-Nationalist regency council exercising his powers. Still to come are the formation of a representative Moroccan government and negotiation of a new French-Moroccan agreement giving the protectorate a measure of self-rule.

The government has no such concrete program for Algeria. Under the French constitution a part of European France despite the Mediterranean between. About all Faure has offered is continued military action against terrorist bands and a series of conferences in the rest of the year with representatives of all factions in Algeria, seeking a formula of co-existence among the 1,000,000 Frenchmen and 8,000,000 Moslems living in the territory.

NIXON AND HALL FLY TOGETHER TO NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and G.O.P. National Chairman Leonard W. Hall flew together today from here to New York where Nixon will address the New York Investment Bankers Association tonight.

Hall said it was only a coincidence that he had passage on the same plane with Nixon. However, Hall and Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks conferred briefly with Nixon in the Vice President's Capitol office just before the flight. Hall rode to the airport with Nixon. Nixon said that Hall and Weeks had asked him to fill two speaking engagements in December. Nixon declined to say where the possible engagements were because it was not definite that he would fill them.

police homicide squad theorized to be an ax or a hunting knife. The coroner's office said the Schuessler boys had been hit on their faces with what appeared to be the flat side of a knife. But Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's pathologist, who examined the bodies, said strangulation caused the death of all three.

The Schuessler boys appeared to have been strangled by bare hands, while young Peterson apparently was strangled with a rope, the pathologist reported. Tracing the boys' movements, police found that they had gone to two bowling alleys Sunday night, apparently after attending the movie in the Loop.

The ditch where the bodies were found is about 10 miles northwest of the loop. Aiding the investigation are 20 hand-picked Chicago detectives, the sheriff's police, forest preserve rangers, the county state's attorney's police, and state troopers.

Sheriff's Lt. Walter Fleming said the search for the killer or killers is "the biggest manhunt in this area since the Bobby Franks thrill slaying in 1924."

In the 1924 case, Bobby Franks, 14, was kidnapped and murdered by two brilliant and rich young men, Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr. Leopold still is in prison for the crime, which he and Loeb committed because they "wanted the experience of killing." Loeb was killed in a prison fight with another convict.

The murder of their sons brought heartbreak into the homes of Anton Schuessler, a tailor, and Malcolm Peterson, a carpenter.

Anton and John were the Schuessler's only children. Robert was one of four children. Their grades at Farnsworth School, where Robert and John were in the eighth grade and young Anton was in the sixth, were described as "average or better."

Robert's mother, Dorothy Peterson, collapsed and was put under a physician's care. Seven blocks away from the Peterson's home, the other mother, Eleanor Schuessler, sobbed uncontrollably.

"My life... my arms... my legs... now gone," Mrs. Schuessler cried. Once she started to rise from the couch as neighbors and a priest attempted to comfort her, screaming: "...I want my boys! I want my boys! I want my boys!"

Schuessler said: "When you get to the point that children can't go to the movies in the afternoon and get home safely, something is wrong with the country."

MOROCCO ASKS BEN SLIMANE TO BE PREMIER

Throne Council Offers Post to Moderate — He Asks Time to Consider It.

RABAT, Morocco, Oct. 19 (UP)—The new throne council asked Si Fatmi Ben Slimane to become Morocco's first Premier today.

Ben Slimane flew to Morocco from Paris earlier in the day and almost immediately went into session with the throne council inside the white-walled palace of the Sultans of Morocco.

The meeting lasted an hour and a half. When it ended, the four-man council announced it had asked the former Pasha of Fez to form the new representative government that will negotiate with France for reforms and more freedom for this North African protectorate.

Ben Slimane, a moderate, had been the favorite for the post from the outset. He said in Paris two days ago that he would accept "in principle" the nomination if it was offered.

Asks Time to Consider.
When the actual request was made by the throne council, Ben Slimane asked for time to think it over. His final answer depended on the attitude of party nationalists.

Events moved fast in this terror-ridden French protectorate after two years of hesitation and maneuvers.

Premier Faure established the throne council over the past weekend in place of Morocco's two rival Sultans, one of whom is in exile and the other of whom "faded away" at French insistence.

In turn, the council has called on Ben Slimane, a kind-faced white-bearded man, to be the first prime minister and start the country on the road to greater self-rule.

Violence Continues.

By The Associated Press.
The French action toward reforms made little difference to nationalist extremists. Student riots continued in Marrakech, the principal inland city of Morocco. There were two bomb throwings in Rabat, the protectorate capital, with four Europeans injured. Terrorists shot down a merchant in a Rabat suburb.

Along the Spanish Moroccan frontier in the Rif country sporadic fighting continued in the Aknoul sector between French and colonial guerrillas operating from mountain slopes.

In Algeria, French troops started a clean-up campaign in the vicinity of Constantine and Philippeville after a band of terrorists waylaid a bus, killing

Russia Finally Discloses Death Of Polish General in Jail in 1946

Informing Widow War-time Leader Died in Warsaw While Serving Prison Term.

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Kremlin, breaking a decade of silence, has disclosed the death in a Soviet jail of Gen. Leopold Okulicki, a top commander in the Polish wartime resistance against the Nazis.

Polish exile sources said today the Soviet Red Cross last Friday notified the general's widow, who lives in London, that her husband died of natural causes in a Moscow jail on Christmas eve, 1946. It was the first word Mrs. Okulicki had received of her husband since he was arrested 10 years ago with 15 other Polish leaders.

The Red Cross notice came, exile sources said, after Mrs. Okulicki sent two letters of appeal to Soviet Premier Bulganin. In each she wrote only two sentences: "March 28 is the end of my husband's 10-year sentence. I have no news from him."

Okulicki, identified as the last commander-in-chief of the Polish underground home army, was one of 16 Polish leaders who went to Moscow in 1945 with the understanding they were going to negotiate with Stalin on the future of their country.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov later disclosed they had been arrested on charges of working against the Red army. They were tried in Moscow June 1945. Okulicki and 11 others received prison sentences up to 10 years. All 16 men subsequently disappeared, including the four presumably acquitted.

Over the last decade Russia steadfastly spurned protests and requests for information about the Polish leaders.

Polish exile sources here said one of the 16 recently turned up broadcasting from the Warsaw radio. He was identified as Adam Bien, a member of the peasant party and once deputy premier of the Polish underground government.

Bien was quoted as saying that others of the 16 also had returned to Communist Poland from Russia.

member of the gang, Eric Newton Bass, 16, was turned over to juvenile authorities. He is a son of Newton Bass, wealthy developer of Apple Valley (Calif.) real estate.

AUSTRIANS PLAN PROTEST ON HUNGARY BORDER POLICE

VIENNA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Austrian government sources said today the Foreign Ministry planned a formal protest to Hungary over the "invasion" of Austria by 13 armed Hungarian border police seeking a refugee.

Austrian police said the Reds crossed the border yesterday at two points south of Vienna. One group pushed a quarter mile into Austria and searched a two-mile area for an hour. Another group pointed their automatic pistols at several Austrian women living in the area and demanded if the women had seen a Hungarian refugee.

Austrian sources said four Hungarian refugees had fled into this country in recent days. Among them was an 18-year-old girl who made her way alone through minefields on the Hungarian side of the border. She asked for political asylum.

3 GET LIFE FOR MURDER OF WEALTHY CALIFORNIAN

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Three young men convicted of first-degree murder in the robbery killing of wealthy Frederick Heinz, 19 years old, at his home last July 23, were sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday. They are Harvey Lerner, 23, John M. Hurley, 18, and Neal F. Cook, 25.

Tried without a jury, they were convicted by Superior Judge Stanley Mosk.

The judge also sentenced Lerner, who admitted firing the fatal shot at a robbery attempt, to 10 years to life on each of three counts of robbery, to run concurrently with the life sentence for murder. A fourth

U.S. OFFERS U.N. NEW RESOLUTION ON ATOM AGENCY

Seeking Unanimous Vote in Assembly — Russia Also Alters Its Proposal.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The United States, bidding for a unanimous vote in the United Nations General Assembly, submitted a new resolution today for an international atom-for-peace agency today that embodied suggestions from many other countries.

Senator Pastore (Dem.), Rhode Island, described to the Assembly's political committee how the United States, Australia, Belgium and Britain had revised their original proposal on the subject to satisfy the desires of other delegations as expressed in the committee's discussion.

"I hope the committee will agree," he said, "that this new draft adequately expresses the wishes of the overwhelming majority. For its part the United States delegation earnestly hopes that this resolution will result in the unanimous support of the General Assembly."

The Soviet Union had revised its rival resolution on atom for peace only yesterday. India is pushing two resolutions of its own on that subject with the backing of Burma, Egypt, Syria, Indonesia and Yugoslavia.

Sponsors of the Western proposal are among eight atom powers that have circulated a statute among other governments to govern an 84-nation atomic energy agency.

Their original resolution merely noted diplomatic negotiations on this matter and called for a second atomic energy conference in about three years on the lines of the one held in Geneva Aug. 6-20.

The new Western resolution, Pastore noted, provides for:

1. Smaller and more specialized scientific conferences.

2. A conference of the 84 countries to decide the final text of the agency's statute. The statute itself calls for no such conference.

3. A study by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and his scientific advisory committee on the eventual link the agency would have to the U.N.

Pastore said the United States still should decide on this link once it has been established. He also said his delegation still believes the projected atomic energy body should be a specialized agency, self governing with a rather loose connection to the U.N. Some delegates have urged an earlier decision on the matter and a closer tie to the U.N.

DULLES VOICES 'MEASURED HOPE' FOR GENEVA GAINS

coming conference will see that spirit put to work.

Dulles, who has visited Mr. Eisenhower twice since the President suffered a heart attack Sept. 24, said he found "very distinct evidence of more vigorous health" on his second visit. The President, he said, seemed physically robust.

Mr. Eisenhower, Dulles continued, has taken a "keen interest" in preparations for the Big Four conference. At today's meeting, the two men discussed items on the agenda at Geneva.

West Germans Consulted.

Dulles predicted the meeting would last about three weeks. The West German government will not be officially represented at the conference but has been consulted by France, Britain and the United States in preliminary discussions.

Dulles was accompanied to Denver by Livingston T. Merchant, assistant secretary of state for European affairs, and Dillon Anderson, the President's adviser on national security matters.

Merchant did not take part in the discussion with Mr. Eisenhower but was waiting outside the hospital room and was consulted once or twice by Dulles in the course of the conversation. Anderson talked with the President later.

All three men returned to Washington immediately after seeing Mr. Eisenhower. Dulles will meet tomorrow with congressional leaders of both parties to brief them on the Big Four meeting. He will leave Friday afternoon for Rome to talk with Italian leaders before going on to Paris and Geneva.

Dulles told reporters he did not discuss with Mr. Eisenhower the problem created by shipments of arms from Communist countries to the Middle East.

He has said he intends to bring this subject up at Geneva in an informal way, through discussions with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. The secretary said today Mr. Eisenhower already knew of his intention to talk with Molotov about the arms shipments.

Comment on France.

Dulles repeated his belief that France's withdrawal from the current meeting of the United Nations General Assembly, in protest against U. N. discussion of colonial problems, was not serious enough to jeopardize either the U. N. or France's status as a world power.

Mr. Eisenhower, in his fourth week of convalescence from a heart attack, continued to show steady improvement.

The morning medical announcement on his condition said: "The President had an excellent night's sleep of nine hours. He awoke feeling refreshed and in a good mood. His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

The President lunched yesterday with his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College, then napped and listened to recorded music.

Later in the afternoon, Mr. Eisenhower conferred briefly with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams, then sat up for 30 minutes in an easy chair in his room at Fitzsimons Army hospital.

Uses Wheelchair.

For the first time yesterday, Mr. Eisenhower was permitted to use a wheelchair. Seated in the chair, he was wheeled around the sundeck where he waved to other patients on a lawn eight floors below. He has been permitted to sit in an easy chair in his room for short periods since last Saturday.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty yesterday denied reports that some essential Government business was being kept from the President's attention. He said no important matters were being withheld from Mr. Eisenhower.

However, Hagerty said official business was being consolidated whenever possible, to reduce the strain on the chief executive.

For example, Mr. Eisenhower signed one proclamation on Monday granting expanded federal flood aid to three states—New Jersey, New York and Connecticut, Hagerty noted. Ordinarily, each state would have been the subject of a separate proclamation, he explained.

On another occasion, Hagerty said, 13 Defense Department matters were lumped together in one document for the President's signature.

Adams Signs Messages. Hagerty conceded that Adams was signing many telegrams and letters in behalf of Mr. Eisenhower, after discussing each matter with the President.

But the press secretary de-

Lone Commuter Rides Train Daily From Delmar Station

JOHN A. CHAPIN, only commuter at Wabash Railroad's Delmar station, settling down for his daily trip to Union Station.

John A. Chapin is a familiar passenger to Wabash Railroad Co. employees at Delmar station—in fact, he is just about the only familiar passenger.

Chapin is the sole commuter who regularly rides Wabash trains to the downtown.

Each work-day morning, shortly before 7 o'clock, Chapin leaves his home at 816 Hamilton boulevard, walks two blocks to the station, 6001 Delmar boulevard. There he boards one of the trains which stop to discharge long-distance passengers.

Why no one else does is something of a mystery to Chapin. "I suppose people don't think in terms of commuting by train," he said.

The 25-minute trip is convenient for Chapin who simply has to walk across the street from Union Station to his office at the Railway Express Agency, where he is chief clerk to the superintendent.

Chapin, who has been commuting from the Delmar station since he moved to the area about 1951, has to make his return trip by Public Service Co. bus, however, because the Wabash afternoon schedule doesn't suit his hours.

In summer, when daylight saving time is in effect, the situation is reversed. Chapin battles crowds on buses in the morning like any other commuter, then returns in the afternoon by train.

A one-way ticket, incidentally, is cheaper. Chapin's fare is 15 cents, but if he bought a round-trip ticket, he would pay 31 cents. The extra penny is for tax which does not apply at the 15-cent level, railroad officials said.

During the recent transit strike, Chapin had some temporary companionship, which vanished when the strike ended. Chapin kept on riding the trains. "If there's something I don't like to do," he said, "it's going out on a street corner and waiting for a bus."

Chapin, who has been commuting from the Delmar station since he moved to the area about 1951, has to make his return trip by Public Service Co. bus, however, because the Wabash afternoon schedule doesn't suit his hours.

In a television interview Sunday, Hagerty described Mr. Eisenhower as "fully in control" of the duties of his office and said questions about delegating presidential powers were now "academic."

The President yesterday signed a proclamation designating Oct. 26 as a national day of prayer in line with a resolution approved by Congress on April 17, 1952.

"All of those whom we have revered as leaders throughout our history have been wont to turn to Almighty God for aid in His Providence and in His guidance," the President said.

The President signed another proclamation designating Saturday as National Olympic day, calling attention to United States participation in next year's Olympic games in Australia and Italy.

Mr. Eisenhower also designated Pennsylvania and Massachusetts regions hit by the weekend flood as major disaster areas eligible for Federal aid.

mination settlement might well preclude subsequent consideration of the question whether the contract could be rescinded or voided as contrary to public policy. It is apparent, therefore, that we would not be justified in giving our approval to a settlement agreement which would render this question moot if there were a reasonable doubt whether the contract did contravene public policy."

Charge Against Banker.

Relative to the conflict of interest statute, which provides fines and imprisonment for violators, the Kefauver subcommittee has charged that Adolphe H. Wenzell, New York investment banker, had played a dual role in contract negotiations, acting both as a consultant to and almost to the whole community," he went on.

"Even if this were a business that has an interstate aspect, recent cases in the Supreme Court of the United States say that the entire field has not been pre-empted by federal legislation—that the police power of the state has not been taken away by the Taft-Hartley law and other amendments to the labor relations statutes."

By granting Levin and Welborn time to file briefs, Judge Aronson indicated he would not hand down a ruling before the middle or end of next week at the earliest. A decision on a permanent injunction will require a more extensive hearing at a later date.

No action was taken on the second count of the union petition asking for a declaratory judgment that the King-Thompson act is unconstitutional in its entirety and that all acts performed pursuant to it were null and void. The state has 30 days in which to file an answer to this count.

Witnesses called by the union included Gaylord C. Burke, a vice president and general counsel of Public Service Co.; Rogers; Arthur E. East, president of the union, and Joseph M. Green, a union steward in the shop maintenance department.

In general, they testified the union, Division 738, AFL, Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach employees, had been certified since 1948 by the National Labor Relations Board as the bargaining agent for the operating employees of the company. They also testified the company bought many supplies from outside the state and performed repair work for bus companies in various parts of the country. This was to show the interstate character of its operations.

Welborn offered no testimony, contending the court had no jurisdiction and that Gov. Donnelly could not be sued.

SOME PAPERS CRITICIZED OVER BRITISH ROMANCE LONDON, Oct. 19 (UP)—The Press Council, a self-policing body set up by the British newspaper industry, today censured "certain" British newspapers which "have offended against good taste" in covering the Princess Margaret-Peter Townsend story.

Most of the Fleet Street press, which was uniformly reticent in reporting the early stages of the King Edward VIII's romance with Wallis Simpson, has covered the story avidly though degrees of exuberance have varied.

The Government and an executive of the First Boston Corp., a New York firm, which wound up as the financial agent for Dixon-Yates when the contract was finally drawn.

The contract, which was bitterly opposed by Democrats exposing the cause of public power development, provided that the private utility combine was to build a $107,000,000 steam generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to replace power furnished by the Tennessee Valley Authority to AEC installations.

President Eisenhower, who once had ordered the contract signed, changed his position last July and ordered the agreement canceled after the City of Memphis said it would build its own steam generating plant.

3.5 PCT. DROP IN CRIMES HERE IN SEPTEMBER

1955 and 1954 Figures
Compared — Lowest Number Reported
Since June.

Crimes reported in St. Louis last month decreased 3.5 per cent as compared with September a year ago, Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell announced today.

The total for last month was 2248, representing a decrease of 83 from the 2331 crimes reported in September 1954.

However, there have been more crimes in St. Louis for the first nine months of this year than in the comparable period in 1954, and the percentage of crimes solved has fallen off, statistics released by Chief O'Connell show.

From Jan. 1 through Sept. 30 this year, a total of 22,385 crimes was reported, representing an increase of 2216, or 10.9 per cent, over the first nine months of 1954.

In the same period, police solved 21.3 per cent of the crimes committed this year, as compared with a cleanup record of 23 per cent last year — a decline of 1.7 per cent.

Chief O'Connell said that, while crimes were up slightly since Jan. 1, the increase was solely in crimes against property. Offenses against persons declined.

Crimes in which persons were victims totaled 353 last month. The number in September a year ago was 393.

The chief's office pointed out that September crime totals were the lowest for any month since June. Figures compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on a national basis show that crime regularly increases during summer months.

The breakdown of crimes in St. Louis last month was as follows:

Homicide, 7; rape, 26; robbery, 101; aggravated assault, 219; burglary, 464; larceny, 1093; and automobile theft, 338. The figures for September 1954 were:

Homicide, 8; rape, 32; robbery, 154; aggravated assault, 199; burglary, 532; larceny, 1061; and automobile theft, 345.

ANTENNA HITS POWER LINE, 3 MARINES ELECTROCUTED

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C., Oct. 19 (AP)—Three corporals at this Marine base were electrocuted accidentally today, the post public information office reported.

The men were demonstrating use of a 35-foot radio antenna in preparations for a field problem. The antenna touched a power line.

Artificial respiration and first aid failed.

Their names were withheld until next of kin could be notified.

REDS SAY THEY WILL DEAL WITH WEST ON REICH

Tell Allies That Soldiers Will Remain Under Soviet Command 'Temporarily.'

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Soviet Union has indicated to the Big Three Western powers that the Russians and not the East German Communists would deal with the West for the present on matters concerning communications between West Germany and Berlin.

Moscow sent notes yesterday to the Western powers outlining the role of the East Germans with regard to future talks on Germany and Allied rights in Berlin, which is an island far inside the Soviet zone.

Moscow radio said the notes stated that in talks between the Soviet Union and Communist Germany it was provided that control over movements of military personnel between West Germany and Berlin would be carried out by the Soviet military command in Germany "temporarily, until conclusion of an appropriate agreement."

Sept. 20 Treaty. It said that in signing the Sept. 20 treaty, the U.S.S.R. and East Germany took into consideration obligations assumed by both "under existing international agreements concerning Germany as a whole."

The notes to Britain, France and the United States were in reply to communications sent to the Kremlin Oct. 3 by the Western powers. Those communications served notice the West would deal only with the Russians — not with the East Germans — on the future of Germany and Allied rights in Berlin.

The Soviet agreement with Communist East Germany gave that government the right to negotiate reunification of Germany, control of frontiers of East Germany and responsibility for allowing road, rail and air traffic in and out of Berlin. The West interpreted this as a move to compel the allies to deal with East Germany in such matters. This would amount to acceptance of the East German government.

The Soviet notes, Moscow radio reported, said that the treaty with East Germany provides for co-operation in the interests of peace and security and in "the re-establishment of unity of Germany on a peaceful and democratic basis."

Communications Clause.

"The note points out further that in the signing of the treaty on relations between the U.S.S.R. and the German democratic republic both sides acted according to the principle that the German democratic republic carries out its jurisdiction on territory which is under its sovereignty, which naturally also applies to communications on that territory," the broadcast continued.

"As to control over the movement between the German federal republic (West Germany) and Western Berlin of military personnel and goods of the garisons of Great Britain, France and the United States of America, stationed in Western Berlin, the note says further that during the talks between the U.S.S.R. and the German democratic republic it was provided that temporarily, until conclusion of an appropriate agreement, such control will be carried out by the command of the group of Soviet troops in Germany." The Russians have made clear they intend to press for representation for East Germany at the Geneva Foreign Ministers conference opening Oct. 27.

U.N. DEADLOCKED ON COUNCIL SEAT AFTER 9 BALLOTS

of Yugoslavia—Reds Oppose U.S. Plea to Delay Decision.

By ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.,
Oct. 19—The United Nations
General Assembly today remained deadlocked when voting was resumed in the election to determine whether the Philippines or Yugoslavia would get the Security Council seat being vacated by Turkey.

Neither nation achieved the necessary two-thirds majority in three ballots this afternoon.
Six ballots were taken last Friday without a decision.

Today's results showed:
Seventh ballot: Philippines 31,
Yugoslavia 27.

Eighth ballot: Philippines 30,
Yugoslavia 28.

Ninth ballot: Philippines 31,
Yugoslavia 27.

After today's three inconclusive ballots, United States chief delegate Henry Cabot Lodge proposed postponement of the Security Council election which reflected intense political rivalry between the Soviet Union, backing the Yugoslav candidate, and the United States, sponsoring the Philippines.

Russia Objects.

Lodge wanted to proceed to selection of new members on the Trusteeship and Economic and Social Councils. This latter motion, however, was opposed by the Russian spokesman who declared that membership in the latter groups often was influenced by the complete results of the Security Council election. He demanded that the Security Council contest be resolved first.

(There were reports that a quiet campaign had been under way to elect Yugoslavia to the Economic Council, thus eliminating it as a contender against the Philippines, the Associated Press reported. It is traditional that no country except the five big powers should be members of both councils at the same time.)

Although the ballot is secret, it was said in informed quarters that the United Kingdom and some commonwealth countries had accepted Yugoslavia as a compromise candidate after Soviet and other backing was withdrawn from Poland, the original Russian selection for the vacancy. Yugoslavia is a Communist nation but unlike Poland is not considered a Kremlin satellite.

The Philippines came within one vote of attaining the goal on the third ballot by receiving 38 votes to 20 for Poland. With France absent, and with 59 nations voting, the two-thirds majority is 39 if all ballots cast are valid. One unidentified government abstained throughout the voting last week.

The political contention between the Soviet Union and the United States which is brought into focus by the warmly fought election is a result of insistence by Russia that eastern Europe is entitled to representation on the Security Council, charged with the preservation of world peace and security.

Mentioned in Charter.

It is the view of the United States that regional distribution is not a primary consideration for election to the council although the U.N. charter directs "due regard" to that qualification. Poland was opposed on the ground it was not regarded as a "peace-loving nation." The Philippines, therefore, was put forward as an Asian alternative.

The practice of regional distribution was observed in the election last week of Cuba and Australia to succeed Brazil and New Zealand, respectively, on the council to occupy the seats of non-permanent members for two-year terms.

The council is composed of the five major powers as permanent members, and six non-permanent members. The three holdover members are Belgium, Peru and Iran.

RUSSIAN HOUSING GROUP TO VIEW CALIFORNIA PROJECT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19 (AP)—
A 10-man Russian housing delegation takes a look today at a typical housing tract in the booming southern California residential development.

The tract is in the San Gabriel valley community of Azusa.
The Russians will have lunch at the home of Richard Oliphant, a foreman on the project who bought one of the houses he helped build.

The group also will inspect methods of constructing slab foundations and pre-fabricated walls, and visit a vocational training school.

The delegation headed by
I. Z. Kozulia, Soviet minister of city and urban development, arrived from San Francisco yesterday. They saw some housing developments, shopping centers, and plants making counter tops, aluminum windows and garbage disposers.

DR. AUGUSTIN JONES ELECTED MEDICAL FOUNDATION HEAD

Dr. Augustin Jones was elected president of the Doctors' Medical Foundation at its annual meeting last night. He succeeds Dr. John L. Horner, who was elected a vice president.

Newly elected to the board of directors were Abraham Lowenhaupt, Ray F. McCarthy, Mark
R. Holloran and Drs. Lee W.
Dean Jr., William G. Becke and Charles D. O'Keefe.

The foundation is planning to build a 125-bed hospital as the first unit of a proposed medical center on a 108-acre site at Clayton road and Lindbergh boulevard.

PRESIDENT WILL PROPOSE FLOOD INSURANCE PLAN

Eisenhower Assures
New England Governors of Action—Senate Hearings Set.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (UP)—
New England's second disastrous flood in three months is likely to spur Congress to its first serious consideration of some form of federal flood insurance.

President Eisenhower assured
New England Governors by letter from Denver yesterday that the Administration will make specific suggestions to Congress next month.

The Senate Banking Commis-tee, with Sen. Herbert H.
Lehman (Dem.), New York, as acting chairman, will begin a series of hearings on the problem next month and later will move its hearings to flood and hurricane-stricken Connecticut,
New York, Rhode Island and perhaps North Carolina and Massachusetts. Exact dates and sites have not been set.

Mr. Eisenhower said the Administration, which has been studying the problem, will submit some program to these hearings for insuring citizens against flood damage, a field seldom adequately covered by private insurance policies.

No legislation is now pending, but Lehman and several other Senators have announced that they will sponsor some sort of insurance program. Generally, their bills are still in the drafting stage.

Lehman's proposal is expected to cover not only flood damage, but the risks of future wars, including atomic bombs, and similar disasters too big for private companies to handle. As now contemplated, it would involve some direct Government insurance and some reinsurance in which the Government would add its backing to that of private companies.

Other members of Congress, particularly from flooded states, have announced they also will sponsor insurance legislation.

The Government came up with a plan yesterday to let small business in hurricane and flood-ravaged states buy surplus federal equipment and materials at about 10 per cent of cost.

Under the plan, the surplus will be made available to state governments in disaster areas which in turn will channel it to business men. Edmund F. Man-sure, general services administrator, announced the decision.
He said it was based on a directive from the Civil Defense Administration which co-ordinates federal disaster relief.

Connecticut Is Still Tallying Damage From Floods.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19
(AP)—Connecticut, hardest hit of the six northeast states in
day to tally the damages.

There were smashed homes, factories piled high with debris and rusted machinery and battered stores and small businesses.

The new floods did not come with the terrific destructive force of the floods on Aug. 19.
The toll of dead and missing in the latest floods was 43, with 17 of them in Connecticut.

In Connecticut alone, the August floods took 74 lives. The damage was above $215,000,000.
What the damage would be this time, nobody could guess.
Authorities just figure it to be less.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff toured in hardest hit Fairfield county yesterday. There, in that prosperous and green New York commuter haven, placid streams boiled up to destroy homes, damage factories and stores.

He walked through populous
Norwalk on the Long Island shore; he talked to the business men in hat manufacturing Danbury. He tried to comfort home owners in Stamford, Georgetown, New Canaan and Greenwich.

In Georgetown he visited the 133-year-old Gilbert & Bennett
Mfg. Co. on the Norwalk river.
Walking through the wire mill he saw machinery festooned with muddy tree branches, shrubs and grass. At the worst of the flood, water was 10 feet deep on the main floor.

Company president John M.
Mulligan told the Governor it will take about a half million dollars and two to three months to clean up the mess.

Ribicoff learned that the average cost of the homes was between $16,000 and $19,000.
The average damage, he learned, was $5000, not including the furniture and other belongings.

He asked one housewife how the floods hit her financially.
She pointed to her battered home and said: "Everything was in the house."

GENERAL FUNDS TO BE USED TO COLLECT CIGARETTE TAX

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19
—Failure of the 1955 Legislature to make a specific appropriation for expense of collection of the new state cigarette tax will not prevent the State Department of Revenue from rounding up the new revenue, when the tax law becomes effective Jan. 1, 1956.

The Attorney General's department issued an opinion today that in the absence of a special appropriation the department could use funds from its general tax collection appropriation of $3,500,000 for the 1955-1957 biennial period.
M. E. Morris, director of the Department of Revenue, said today the field men and auditors in the sales tax unit of the department would be utilized in collecting the 2-cent a package cigarette tax. He said this would not interfere with the current state drive against sales tax evasions by retailers.

MESSANGER GIRL ROBBED OF $1200 CHECKS ON TRAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—
Two men followed a 19-year-old girl messenger onto a train in Pennsylvania Station today and robbed her of $1200 in checks before 40 other terrified passengers.

"Everybody keep their seats.
Don't shout," ordered one of the men as he faced the other passengers.

Then the pair grabbed a briefcase containing the checks from the messenger, Roberta Gibson, and fled. Miss Gibson, of Newark, N.J., was carrying payroll checks of the Ludwig Baumann Furniture Co. in Manhattan to its offices at Newark. The company immediately stopped payment on the checks.

NICKEL IN THE PHILIPPINES

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines has unearthed what experts say is the first and largest deposit of nickel ore in the Far East.
Agriculture Secretary Juan De G. Rodriguez announced the discovery of 29,000,000 metric tons of iron deposits containing 1.38 per cent nickel ore on Nonoc island, off the northeast tip of Mindanao island in the southern Philippines.

Margaret, Royal Family Dine With Anglican Church Heads

Queen Elizabeth, Princess, Their Mother and Duke Are Guests of Archbishop of Canterbury.

LONDON, Oct. 19 (UPI)—Princess Margaret and other members of the royal family dined tonight with the heads of the Church of England, who are among the strongest opponents of her marriage to Capt. Peter Townsend.

Queen Elizabeth with smiling dignity and Margaret with head-high poise went by separate cars to be guests of the Archbishop of Canterbury at the Palace of Lambeth on the banks of the Thames.

Also present were Queen Mother Elizabeth, the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of the Queen, and the bishops and archbishops of the realm.

The dinner commemorated reconstruction of the chapel at the archbishop's official residence.

What went on inside the ancient palace was not disclosed, but the dinner provided the outspoken archbishop, primate of the established church, with an opportunity to tell Margaret his views.

As the chief churchman of England, he cannot approve her marriage to the divorced Townsend. The tenets of his church do not permit the remarriage of a divorced person while his spouse is still alive.

Similarly, the Queen cannot sanction any marriage of her sister and the 41-year-old commoner who was a Royal Air Force war hero. As head of the church and sworn defender of the faith, Elizabeth must uphold its rules.

While the drama of dinner at Lambeth Palace was being played out, Townsend went off to dinner with friends. He had gone riding earlier, and for the first time in six days did not see Margaret.

The pretty, 25-year-old princess was otherwise occupied with royal duties before the evening session with the heads of her state and church.

Presents Colors. This morning she presented regimental colors to a battalion of Highland troops on Salisbury Plain, southwest of London, and told them:

"It is appropriate to recall today the loyalty which these colors symbolize. It is three-fold: Loyalty to your Queen, loyalty to your country and loyalty to your regiment."

"Today we are, thank God, at peace. But it is a peace full, alas, of unrest and uncertainty. At no time, I am sure, has there been a greater need for resolute and unwavering service."

It was her second public appearance since her return from a vacation in Scotland last week.

Her first public engagement was last evening when she left Townsend at Clarence House and drove to Claridge's Hotel for a cocktail party for a charity group which presents movies for the Royal Air Force stations.

Her old mischievous smile was back as she left, wearing a mink coat over an emerald green taffeta dress, a diamond clip and five rows of pearls. At the party she sipped a whisky and soda and puffed on a long black cigarette holder as she chatted with the guests.

60 LEAVE TURKISH PARLEY IN REVOLT AGAINST PREMIER

ANKARA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Sixty delegates walked out of the annual conference of Turkey's ruling Democratic party yesterday in a new revolt against Premier Menderes's stern leadership.

The harassed Premier took a personal hand in heading off the rebellion at a rowdy session. The session was abruptly closed by the congress chairman while some delegates were still clamoring for the floor. Others were pushing and shoving in the aisle in an uproar that ended just short of fistfights.

The outburst came after Menderes supporters rammed through a petition asking the government to expel from Parliament any Deputy who bolts or is ousted by his political party. This was obviously directed at nine Democrat Deputies who were booted out of the party and 10 others who resigned during the congress in its first serious challenge to the Menderes leadership.

Despite this, Menderes was overwhelmingly re-elected party president for the coming year.

He declared the party did not intend to allow "street corner politicians to disrupt the party's orderly progress."

GALES LASH NORTH SEA, DUTCH FREIGHTER SINKS

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Gale force winds and rain lashed the North Sea today, ripping a Dutch submarine from its moorings on Britain's south coast and sinking a little Dutch freighter off Germany.

Gusts up to 70 miles an hour were recorded along the Atlantic coasts of Britain. An inch and a half of rain fell in the Scilly Isles during the night.

The 200-ton Dutch coaster Contant foundered at dawn off the German island of Juist. Searchers reported little hope for its captain and a small child

MISSOURIAN DIES IN FIRE TRYING TO SAVE MOTHER

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A 52-year-old woman apparently preferred to stay with her aged mother rather than leap to safety when their two-story frame house burned down Monday. Both women died in the blaze. A. I. Daniels, first fireman to arrive on the scene, said he talked with Mrs. Irving Bush shortly before the top floor crashed in. He said she was in the bedroom of her 82-year-old mother, Mrs. Rose J. Huston, and stuck her head out of a smoke-filled window. He asked her to jump, but she answered that she didn't know about her mother. A short time later, the upper floor crashed into the fiercely burning lower floor.

Bodies of the women were found huddled together in the charred ruins. Mrs. Bush had been planning to accompany her daughter, Mrs. Mary Susan Lady, to their other home in Clinton, Mo., next week. Mrs. Lady had received orders allowing her to join her husband, Lt. Frank Lady, who is in military service in Worms, Germany.

'HOT ROD' MOORE IN JAIL, COUNSEL PLANS APPEAL

Court Turns Down Plea for Habeas Corpus—Violator Starts 60-Day Term.

Robert H. (Hot Rod) Moore was in jail at Clayton today, serving a 60-day sentence, as his attorney prepared to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Missouri Supreme Court seeking his release.

The notorious traffic law violator was taken to jail yesterday after the St. Louis Court of Appeals turned down his request for a writ of habeas corpus.

"I guess Peck's still a bad boy," he said with a wry smile to Chief Deputy Sheriff William Smith. Then he remarked to a Post-Dispatch reporter: "I'm a little downhearted."

Moore's attorney, Henry G. Morris, told the Post-Dispatch he planned to ask the Missouri Supreme Court within a few days to release his client from jail.

Morris contended—unsuccessfully before the St. Louis Court of Appeals—that the Pike county circuit court, which last year affirmed Moore's conviction and sentence on a traffic charge in Glendale, lacked jurisdiction.

The attorney said the bond filed after trial in Glendale did not provide for Moore's appearance in any court outside St. Louis county. A default judgment was entered in Pike county, to which the case was sent on change of venue, after Moore and his attorney failed to appear.

Moore, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Moore, 1 Portland place, was convicted Aug. 24, 1953, of careless and reckless driving and speeding 80 miles an hour on Manchester road in Glendale.

He was released on parole last Jan. 4 after serving half of an eight-month sentence in Audrain county jail at Mexico, Mo., for a traffic law violation in St. Louis. Convicted 24 times for traffic violations in the last six years, he is under court order not to drive an automobile during his parole.

HERBERT HOOVER PRESENTED WITH FRANK LAHEY AWARD

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover was presented with the Frank H. Lahey memorial award today for his "great contribution in mobilizing support for the nation's medical schools."

The award, sponsored jointly by the American Medical Association, the National Fund for Medical Education, and the Association of American Medical Colleges, was given to the former President in his Waldorf-Astoria apartment.

Hoover was the second person to receive the award, named for the late Dr. Frank Howard Lahey, founder and director of the famed Lahey clinic in Boston and a past president of the A.M.A. President Eisenhower received the award last year.

Mr. Hoover was the organizing force behind the national fund for medical education, which was formed in 1949. He has been its honorary chairman since that time. To date the fund has raised nearly $9,000,000 from industry, the medical profession, foundations and individuals.

KILLS WOMAN AND SELF ON BUSY MIAMI STREET

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—George D. Bryson Jr., 32 years old, shot Sylvia Dahl Hess, 22, to death and then ended his life with a bullet in the brain at a busy intersection yesterday.

Police said Bryson, then a first lieutenant, went A.W.O.L. from his Army unit in Germany two years ago and took Sylvia, who had married an ordnance major while on a tourist visa to Germany four months earlier, on a wild ride through the Black Forest in a stolen jeep. He was caught, court-martialed and dismissed from the service, but brought Sylvia to Miami and lived with her until about a month ago.

Bryson left a note, addressed to police, in which he said he was ending "what was once a beautiful romance." "I'm not sorry for what I'm going to do," he wrote. "There's just no other way out."

Sylvia was still married to the Army major in Germany, police said, and Bryson left a wife and two children, now believed to be in Bethlehem, Pa.

DEMOCRATS PLAN MORE FUND-RAISING DINNERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Democratic national committee announced today a new series of fund-raising dinners and party gatherings, with Gov. Averell Harriman of New York listed for four speaking appearances in the northwest.

Harriman, one of three Democrats most prominently mentioned for their party's presidential nomination next year, will speak in Seattle, Nov. 21; Oregon City, Ore., Nov. 22; and Lewiston, Idaho, Nov. 23. He also will appear at a luncheon Nov. 22 in Eugene, Ore., and attend a University of Oregon convocation there the same day. Adlai E. Stevenson and Senator Estes Kefauver of Tenn., other top-ranking prospects for the presidential nomination, are down for one speech each and may be booked for others later. Stevenson will address a $100-a-plate dinner, the Democratic National Committee is giving in Chicago Nov. 19. Kefauver will speak at Muskegon, Mich., Oct. 29.

TRUCE VIOLATIONS DENIED BY U.N. KOREAN COMMAND

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 19 (UP)—The United Nations military command yesterday denied 15 Red charges of truce violations and accused the Communists of four breaches.

United States Navy Capt. David L. Roscoe, secretary for the U.N. side of the joint military armistice commission, charged the Reds with four "deliberate violations" between Sept. 7 and Oct. 5 when Red planes flew over the truce line. He demanded "adequate punishment" of the pilots.

Roscoe denied the Red complaint of 13 truce violations, and told them to "refrain from making such false accusations." The Communists promptly listed 10 new charges, alleging they

YEAR'S SUSPENDED SENTENCE ON MAIL DELAYING CHARGE

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 19 (AP)—Kenneth Sproul, of Saint John received a one year's suspended sentence today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of delaying the mails.

Last Thursday a mail bag containing $10,000, mostly in United States currency fell off a mail truck. Sproul, following the truck in his automobile, turned the bag over to police and postal authorities—but not until Saturday morning. Its contents were intact.

Magistrate H. S. Prince warned Sproul: "In future, any time you see mail of any type, make it a point to turn it over to the nearest police officer if there is no post office nearby."

Bernard T. Miller, 502 East Gano avenue, was injured seriously last night when an automobile he was driving struck the rear of a Broadway streetcar at Ferry street.

He was injured on the head, in the chest and internally, and was taken to City Hospital. The streetcar was operated by Edward Wheaton, 814 Allegheny drive, Lemay.

RUNAWAY TRUCK KILLS FIVE ON MOUNTAIN ROAD

Roars Down Maryland Road at 85 Miles an Hour, Hits Auto and Another Truck.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 19 (AP)—A big tractor-trailer truck, its brakes failing, sped out of control down Big Savage mountain into the west outskirts of Cumberland today and killed five persons when it overtook a car and smashed into another truck.

The victims were two men and two women driving into Cumberland from Frostburg, Md., to work, and a Pennsylvania truck driver.

State police listed them as: Clifford Fearer, assistant manager of the Cumberland Steel Co.; Francis X. Spearman, long-time clerk in the office of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's superintendent at Cumberland; Miss Nellie Thomas, cashier and payroll clerk at the Buchanan Lumber Co.; Miss Grace Evelyn Lloyd, also a clerk for the B. & O., and Samuel J. Brenneman, driver of one truck and building contractor from Springs, Pa.

Brenneman was eastbound on U.S. 40 with a bulldozer on his rig and was about to turn off when the runaway truck came down behind him at 85 to 90 miles an hour. It hit Fearer's car and then smashed into Brenneman's trailer. Brenneman was decapitated.

The driver of the runaway truck, Paul Stewart Myers, 23 years old, of Dover, Pa., suffered only a scratch over one eye.

Fearer and his passengers were burned to death when the truck smashed into the sedan and dumped part of the truck load of aluminum sheeting on the twisted wreckage. The sedan's gas tank apparently exploded at the impact.

Myers told police his brakes failed as he came east into Frostburg. He disengaged his engine and gave it full throttle, trying to build up air pressure in the brake system. The truck careened through Frostburg without hitting anything.

For almost five miles it rushed on down the steep grades into the west outskirts of Cumberland.

At Allegany Groves, as it entered the Cumberland suburb of Laveale, a tire blew out and it lurched into one front yard and on through to the yard of John D. Kasekamp.

At the edge of the Kasekamp yard it overtook the Fearer sedan. Fearer apparently had pulled to the side of the road and had almost stopped in an effort to get out of the truck's way.

After crunching the car aside, the truck went another 100 feet down the highway and smashed into Brenneman's rig.

50 YEARS' IN POSTAL JOB

Henry J. Paul accepted congratulations yesterday at the main Post Office, 1721 Market street, on his fiftieth year as a post office employee. Paul, now an auditor, began work with the post office Oct. 18, 1905, as a substitute clerk at the main Post Office, then at Eighth and Olive streets.

Paul, 68 years old, lives at 6444 Sutherland avenue. He can serve two more years in the postal service, but must retire at 70.

SHIVERS DOUBTS STEVENSON WILL BE NOMINATED

Predicts Democrats Will Pick Man Acceptable to Him, Conservative Southerners.

POINT CLEAR, Ala., Oct. 19 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas predicted today the Democratic National Convention would not nominate Adlai Stevenson for the presidency but would choose a nominee acceptable to himself and the South's conservative Democrats.

Shivers told reporters at the twenty-first annual Southern Governors Conference he expects solidarity in the South at the National Convention—and that he senses in the Democratic party a declining influence by labor and eastern liberals.

Shivers again voiced his opposition to Stevenson, saying the 1952 Democratic nominee was an "extremist" who was identified with the Americans for Democratic Action "which admits being one of the most extremist outfits you can find outside of being a Communist."

He said he had heard "rumors" that Stevenson would not run for the presidency—but would seek a seat next year in the United States Senate. He did not identify the source of the rumors.

Comment on Coalition.
Shivers, who led Texas into the camp of President Eisenhower in the 1952 election, said of reports of a possible southern coalition: "I see no reason why people sharing similar views shouldn't get together if they want to."

He said he had not been approached on the idea of a coalition aimed at giving the South a more powerful voice in the National Convention. But he added it would not be unusual if those with mutual interests should work together. However, he said it would be "almost impossible" to organize a coalition of any size among southerners who have so many divergent views.

(The New York Times and the Baltimore Sun have reported that Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate majority leader, was behind a move to organize a coalition which could bring about an "open" convention with a moderate platform acceptable to the conservative South.)

The Governors who discussed the coalition idea said no one had approached them with any proposal to join in such a movement.

One Coalition Backer.
The only chief executive to give unqualified approval to the coalition suggestion was Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina. He said he thought the South should go to the convention united to speak with one voice and give the convention the same moderating influence which conservative southerners have wielded in Congress for years.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia gave his endorsement to a coalition so far as it might influence a platform, but no further.

Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida was the most eloquent opponent of coalition, saying he "wasn't much of a coalition man" and then adding:

"I don't think there is any need for the delegates from various southern states to meet in a secret conclave and propose a course of action for all the states. I think the South's position should develop normally and naturally, reflecting the will of the people."

Harold E. Stassen hinted broadly last night that Russian leaders may accept President Eisenhower's arms inspection plan because Red scientists are telling them the truth about the terrible destruction that would go with an atomic war.

Stassen gave his views to reporters after telling the Governors Conference that if Russia accepts the President's inspection plan, then the world will have time in which to find a means of controlling atomic materials. The Eisenhower plan calls for an exchange of military information with Russia and mutual aerial inspection.

UNION REINSTATES MINER WHO FILED SUIT AGAINST IT

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 19 (AP)—The United Mine Workers of America has reinstated George H. Livengood, a Uniontown coal miner it expelled in 1949 after he filed suit in Federal court in Washington asking for an accounting of the union's retirement and welfare fund.

Livengood said yesterday he received a letter from the special membership committee of the union's international executive board, informing him he has been reinstated as a member of Local 6308.

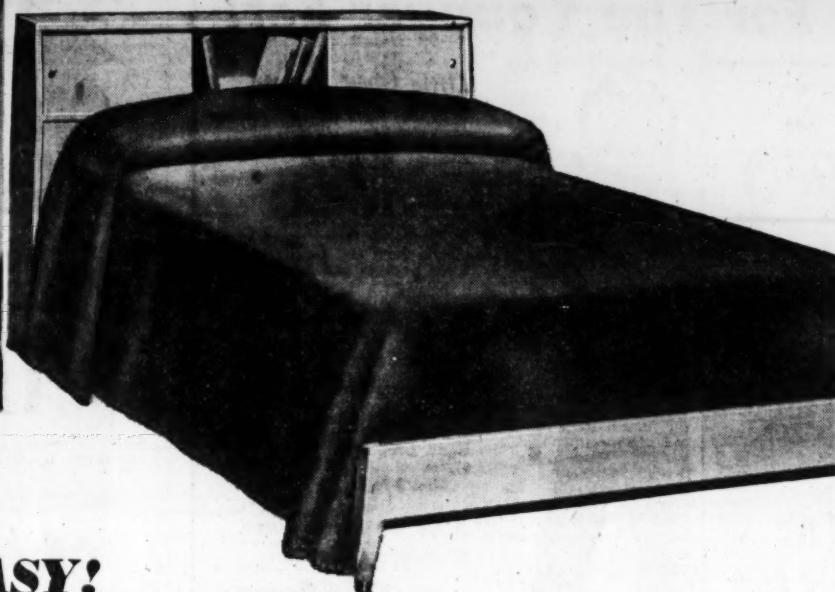

Last Sept. 30, he filed another suit against the union, claiming $75,000 for lost wages and other compensatory damages. He told newsmen yesterday he had no intention of withdrawing the suit.

TRUSTY SLIPS, ROBS JAIL QF $419 AND IS CAPTURED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19—A trusty slipped a bit in conduct last night, robbed the Cole county jail office of $419, unlocked a jail door and fled.

The trusty, Tommy Albert Gentry, 29 years old, a soldier from Fort Leonard Wood, was captured an hour later by pursuing officers when he attempted to thumb a ride in the police car at Centertown, 15 miles west of Jefferson City.

Gentry is serving a sentence of one year in jail for stealing a motor truck here last April.

RED CHINESE CRACKING DOWN ON FARMERS

Replace Private Enterprise Because of Food Scarcities.

TOKYO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Red China, admittedly short of vital grain, is laying down the law to farmers, the Peiping radio said yesterday, revealing what apparently has become a serious trouble spot in the Communist economy.

The action would mean an end to almost all private farming in the nation and substitute collective farming.

The broadcast quoted an editorial in the official newspaper People's Daily, saying there have been "serious divergencies" from the policy of the party central committee.

It said No. 1 man Mao Tse-tung in a report July 31—not announced previously—"sharply criticized the rightist tendency (capitalism) in work in the rural areas and put forward policy directives and an all-embracing plan of the scale to which agricultural co-operation should be built... and the measures for doing so."

Co-op Farming.

The editorial said it is "quite possible that (all) China's 500,000,000 peasants, with the exception of a section of peasants in the border areas, will in the main have taken up co-operative farming before 1960."

The broadcast acknowledged there has been trouble: "Some comrades within the party... believe that the growth of agricultural co-operation (socialization) should proceed at a particularly slow tempo. Instead of keenly and systematically guiding the agricultural co-operation movement forward, these comrades are pulling it back."

Such offenses are considered of top gravity in Communist ideology — and have drawn strong punishment.

Mao's report said 60 to 70 per cent of the rural population "are very serious about wanting to take the path to Socialism."

This would leave 30 to 40 per cent with whom the Red regime is finding fault.

The broadcast continued, "(Mao) tells us that the leadership lags behind the masses on rural questions because of an erroneous way of thinking..."

Food Troubles.

The Red announcement came against a background of food troubles.

Two months ago, the government ordered grain rationing effective in November, and new controls to force peasants to deliver more grain to the state.

It acknowledged: "China is not so very well off in grain."

About a month earlier Vice Premier Chen Yun said there was a "tense situation" over the nation's grain supply which "arose from rumors and incitement created by former landlords, rich peasants and certain counter-revolutionaries who took advantage of the small proprietors' sentiments of the peasants and certain shortcomings in our work."

U.S. GRAND JURY TO INQUIRE WHY 2 CHANGED MINDS

Wants to Know Why Garage Employees Won't View Suspect in Auto Seizure.

A determined effort will be made by the United States grand jury which convenes next Tuesday at Danville, Ill., to learn exactly why the manager and an employee of an East St. Louis garage refused to view a suspect in the pistol-point removal of an automobile from the establishment Sept. 17, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

James Riley, manager of England's Auto Service, 805 Exchange avenue, and the employee, Charles Hahne, were in the garage when five men seized the automobile with drawn pistols. Riley and Hahne told Detective Chief A. A. Bott of East St. Louis that "it wouldn't do any good" for them to go with Bott to St. Louis to view Kenneth Berresheim, a salesman, suspected in the seizure.

Reason for U.S. Action. "The Government is looking into the seizure of the automobile because it wants to know why the witnesses in the case changed their minds," United States Attorney Clifford L. Rader, of East St. Louis, said.

The Government entered the case when it issued warrants against suspects charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

"We would have been glad to look at Berresheim," Riley said, "but when the police wanted to give us a lie-detector test afterwards, we refused. We're not liars, and we don't like anyone to think we are."

Chief of Detectives Bott, in telling the men they would be required to take lie detector tests, was acting for Police Commissioner Russell Beebe, the Post-Dispatch was told.

A total of 13 witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury, and much of the questioning will be directed at determining whether Riley and Hahne were intimidated.

Tony DiMartino, manager of Frank (Buster) Wortman's Terrace Lounge on the East Side, is among those subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury. The automobile was seized by the armed men after it had been towed to England's garage by police. The car had been found illegally parked in front of the Terrace Lounge.

DOG NAPER SOUGHT, GOT $250 IN RANSOM MONEY

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 19 (UP)—Police searched today for a "dog naper" who got $250 for returning a German war bride's pet. District Attorney Richard Bardwell said he would prosecute to the full extent of the law when the facts have been determined.

The beagle belonged to Mrs. Margaret Paulson of Mount Horeb, Wis., a German war bride. Her husband is stationed with the United States Army in Korea. Mrs. Paulson let the dog, named Stinker, out of her apartment Saturday. A ransom note tied to a piece of pipe was thrown through the window of a friend's home the same day. The note read: "Costs you $300 for your dog back. Put in mail box. Police will get you death for your dog."

The friend said he put $250 in Mrs. Paulson's mail box Saturday night and the money was not there Sunday morning. The dog returned home safe yesterday afternoon.

MRS. W. M. HOUSER ESTATE INVENTORIED AT $160,039

The estate of Mrs. William M. Houser, widow of the former secretary-treasurer of the Globe-Democrat Publishing Co., was valued at $160,039 in an inventory filed today in probate court at Clayton. She was 88 years old and lived at Scudder Nursing Home, 440 South Kirkwood road, Kirkwood, at the time of her death last July 17.

Principal assets include: Stocks, $72,326; bonds, $62,272; cash, $21,453, and $3806 in cash held in escrow for tax liability on 50 shares of Globe-Democrat stock sold as part of recent sale of the newspaper. Her husband died in 1900 and her son, William C. Houser, was second vice president and secretary of the newspaper when he died in 1950.

Under terms of her will, Mrs. Houser left her estate in equal shares to her two daughters, Mrs. J. Soule Smith, 201 Plant avenue, Webster Groves, and Mrs. Ashley McKinley of Washington, D.C.

PUBLIC RELATIONS SESSION HONORS MAYOR TUCKER

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker was honored for "his excellence in the practice of public relations in municipal government" at the fifth annual St. Louis regional public relations conference today at Hotel Statler.

The award was presented at a luncheon session at which Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, spoke on national and international affairs. Other speakers included public relations executives and the Rev. Theodore V. Purcell S.J., assistant professor of psychology and industrial relations at Loyola University, Chicago, whose subject was "The Worker Speaks His Mind on Company and Union."

More than 400 persons attended the conference, open to individuals interested in employment relations, advertising, promotion and marketing, as well as public relations.

KILLS SELF IN AUTO AS POLICE LOOK ON

Man Leaves Note Telling of Despondency Because Woman Rejected Him.

Albert Steinert, a bakery worker, of the 3000 block of South Jefferson avenue, shot and killed himself in his automobile early today when police attempted to question him at Jefferson and Miami street, after following him for several blocks. He was about 58 years old.

Officers said they found notes in his pocket indicating he was despondent because a woman had refused to go out with him. Police had been called earlier by Mrs. Minnie Canavan, 2221A Chippewa street, who works at the bakery where Steinert was employed. She said a man in the alley behind her home was making a disturbance.

Sgt. Anthony Daves and Patrolman Frank Kaston of the Lynch street station found no one in the alley, but on going to the front were told by Mrs. Canavan, "There he goes."

They followed an automobile around several turns in the vicinity, and when both machines stopped for a traffic signal at Jefferson and Miami, Steinert was told to pull over. At that point, Daves said, the man raised a pistol to his right temple and fired.

Mrs. Canavan told the officers Steinert drove her home from the bakery yesterday but that she had refused to go out with him.

RUSSIA PLAYING WITH FIRE, SAYS ISRAEL PREMIER

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector, Oct. 19 (AP)—Israeli Prime Minister Moshe Sharett today accused the Soviet Union of playing with fire in the Middle East. Concluding a two-day foreign policy debate in the Israeli Parliament, Sharett asked: "What are the Soviet plans in the Middle East?" "Egypt did not ask Czechoslovakia for arms—Czechoslovakia did not approach Egypt about it—it was the Soviet Union which initiated the offer. "If a conflagration results from this playing with fire the responsibility will be with the Eastern bloc, but primarily with the Soviet Union."

Earlier, the Israeli leader said that faced with "an alarming increase in armed power of Egypt," Israel would not hesitate to obtain arms from any possible source.

The Jerusalem Post said today that Egypt and Syria are massing troops along the Israel border.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19—Gamp Electric Co. of St. Louis was low bidder yesterday with an offer of $235,774 to convert state capitol elevators and electrical fixtures from direct to alternating current.
The rewiring and conversion job was made necessary by the state's decision to buy its electricity from Missouri Power & Light Co. and abandon its old direct current generating plant.

GEORGE FAVORS
PEIPING PLEDGE

Senator Wants Red China to Promise Not to Resort to Force in Asia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Senator George (Dem.), Georgia, said today the United States should require a pledge by Red China against the use of force in Asia before agreeing to high-level discussion of major Far Eastern problems with the Communists.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, previously had put no specific conditions on his July 24 suggestion for an early meeting between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai. He said then, in a radio-TV interview, that such a high-level meeting should be held within six months.

He said in a telephone interview today from Vienna, Ga., he now supports Dulles' position that any near-Summit meeting must await the conclusion of ambassadorial talks under way in Geneva.
Dulles told a press conference yesterday Communist China had formally raised the question of a new high-level meeting with the United States. But he said the possibility of some agreements between American and Chinese Communist special ambassadors have not been exhausted. He made it clear he does not want to elevate the talks until there are further developments.

Dulles said U. Alexis Johnson, the U. S. ambassador, had proposed that the Peiping government renounce the use of force as a means of settling international disputes. He intimated this might open the way for higher level efforts to ease tensions in the Formosa strait area.

George said he backs this stand.

"There are some matters before the ambassadorial conference that ought to be concluded before any further steps are taken," the Georgia Senator said. "The Chinese Communists first should release the American prisoners they have promised to free and they should give some accounting of the more than 400 soldiers who remain unaccounted for after the Korean war."

"If they will do these things and make a public pledge to give up the use of force in any settlement of the Formosa issue, then we should be prepared to go ahead with a high-level conference."

'GENEVA SPIRIT' SPURS DISUNITY,
MANSFIELD SAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Senator Mansfield (Dem.), Montana, called yesterday for prompt action to halt what he called dangerous trends toward disunity in western Europe.

He cited a "general slackening" of the western defense effort, signs of a revival of "pre-war nationalistic rivalries" in the economic field, and a weakening of political unity.

He said these trends are evident "in the hazy atmosphere of carefree optimism generated by the Geneva conference."

He said "Moscow has taken full advantage of the 'Geneva spirit' and continues to hold the diplomatic initiative."

Mansfield's observations were made in a report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which he is a member, and were based on a recent trip to western Europe.

The new program "Weekday" will run Monday through Friday beginning Nov. 7. Aimed at women listeners, it will offer entertainment, household tips, family problem discussions and world events.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Arrangements for radio and television coverage of the Republican national convention starting Aug. 20, 1956 in San Francisco's Cow palace have been completed.
G.O.P. National Chairman Leonard W. Hall announced yesterday that authorization had been granted to set up arrangements for pool picture and sound coverage of the proceedings inside the convention hall. Hall said present indications are that the radio-TV coverage will be "the most comprehensive in history." He added it is estimated that television coverage alone will be seen in 40,000,000 homes.

The TRUMAN MEMOIRS

Russia's Insistence That Allies Recognize Puppets in Satellite Countries Touches Off Bitterest Row of Conference at Potsdam.

By HARRY S. TRUMAN
Thirty-third President of the United States.
TWENTY-SECOND ARTICLE
(Copyright, 1955, by The Atlantic City Publishing Co., Inc.)

JULY 22 was Sunday, but we had decided to continue the daily conferences without interruption. During the morning, accompanied by my old friend, Mr. Tiernan, and my military and naval aides, I attended Protestant church service in the Colosseum Building, a former film laboratory in the Babelsberg area. An hour later I attended a second service in the same building, a Catholic mass conducted by Col. Tiernan. I returned to the Little White House for lunch, and shortly thereafter Prime Minister Churchill called on me, and we conferred for about an hour. After attending to some urgent mail for Washington, I left for Cecilienhof Palace and called to order the sixth meeting of the conference at 5 p.m.

Our discussion was resumed where it had left off the day before, with the question of Poland's western frontier and Prime Minister Churchill restating his reasons for refusing to accept Stalin's proposal to cede the eastern territory of Germany to Poland. Stalin, in turn, challenged the Prime Minister's reasoning with the same arguments he had previously advanced.

Stalin said that if we were not bored with the question of frontiers, he would like to point out that the exact character of the Yalta decision was that we were bound to receive the opinion of the Polish government on the question of its western frontiers; as we were not in agreement with the Polish proposal, we should hear the representative of the new Polish government. If the heads of government did not wish to hear them, then the foreign ministers should hear them.

Churchill agreed that the matter could not be settled without the Poles, unless, of course, we accepted the Polish proposal. Stalin then turned to me and said that in regard to my observation that a fifth country was now occupying Germany, he wished to state that if anyone was to blame, it was not just the Poles—circumstances and the Russians were to blame.

I replied that that was exactly what I had been talking about. I then agreed that the Polish representatives could come to Potsdam and be heard by the foreign ministers who would report to us.

It was now agreed that, as presiding officer, I should issue an invitation to the Poles to send representatives to the foreign ministers' meeting at Potsdam in an effort to reach some kind of practical solution to the problem of boundaries which could last until the matter was finally settled at the peace conference.

Molotov now brought up the subject of trusteeships and said that the San Francisco Conference had settled, in principle, a trusteeship system, and there was now the question of the disposition of specific territories, such as Italy's colonies and also, perhaps, Korea.

Molotov Asks About Italian Colonies.

Molotov went on to say that he had learned from the foreign press that Italy had lost its colonies and the question was who had received them, and where had this matter been decided. Churchill replied by referring to the heavy losses which the British had suffered and the victories which the British army had achieved by "conquering all of the colonies of Italy except Tunisia."

I turned to the Prime Minister and repeated, "All?" Churchill explained that when he referred to Italian colonies, he meant Libya, Cyrenaica and Tripoli. The British had conquered these at a time when they were under heavy attacks and were without help, he said, at least during the early part. Molotov interjected that Berlin had been conquered by the Red Army.

Churchill, ignoring Molotov, continued, saying that they were not expecting any gain out of this war. At present, Churchill said, the British held these colonies. He wanted to know who wanted them. If there were claimants, said Churchill, they should put forward their claims.

I said the United States did not want them nor did we want a trusteeship over them.

Molotov said the Soviet proposals had been submitted in writing and that they would like the conference to consider them. Churchill asked what did the Soviet allies want? Did Stalin wish to put forward a claim to one of these Italian colonies?

Stalin replied that they would like to learn whether this conference was going to deal with the question of whether Italy was to lose these colonies.

Churchill said he had not considered the possibility of the Soviet Union desiring a large tract of the African shore. If that were the case, it would have to be considered in relation to many other problems.

We turned our attention to the question of Turkey. Churchill said there was an admitted need to modify the old Montreux Convention regarding Turkey, and he had frequently expressed his readiness to welcome an arrangement for the free movement of Russian ships through the Black Sea and back. But he wished to impress on Marshal Stalin the importance of not alarming Turkey. Turkey was very much alarmed, he said, by a strong concentration of Bulgarian and Soviet troops in Bulgaria, by continuous attacks in the Soviet press, and by the conversations between the Turkish ambassador and Molotov in which modifications of Turkey's eastern frontier were mentioned, as well as a Soviet base in the Straits.

Turks Propose Russian Alliance.

Molotov explained that the Turkish government had taken the initiative through the Turkish ambassador in Moscow and had proposed an alliance with Russia.

Churchill challenged the right of the Russians to consider the matter of the Black Sea Straits as one in which no one had a voice except themselves and Turkey.

I said I was not ready to express an opinion and suggested that we defer consideration of the question until necessary study could be given to it. This was agreed to.

We met the following day, July 23, for the seventh meeting of the conference.

With regard to the Black Sea Straits, Stalin said Russia regarded the Montreux Convention as inimical. Under this treaty, he complained, Turkey had the right to block the Straits not only if Turkey were at war, but if it seemed to Turkey that there was a threat of war. The result was, he continued, that a small state supported by Great Britain held a great state by the throat and gave it no outlet. He could imagine what commotion there would be in England if a similar regime existed in Gibraltar or in the Suez Canal, or what a commotion there would be in the United States if such a regime existed with regard to the Panama Canal. The point at issue, he concluded, was to give Soviet shipping the possibility to pass to and from the Black Sea freely. As Turkey was too weak to guarantee the possibility of free passage in case complications arose, the Soviet Union would like to see the Straits defended by force.

I said that the attitude of the American government was that the Montreux Convention should be revised. I thought, however, that the Straits should be a free waterway open to the whole world, and that they should be guaranteed by all of us. I had come to the conclusion, I said, after a long study of history, that all the war of the last two hundred years had originated in the area from the Black Sea to the Baltic and from the eastern frontier of France to the western frontier of Russia. In the last two instances the peace of the whole world had been overturned—by Austria in World War I and by Germany in this war. I thought it should be the business of this conference and of the coming peace conference to see that this did not happen again.

I announced that I was presenting a paper proposing free access to all the seas of the world by Russia and by all other countries. I was offering as a solution of the Straits problem the suggestion that the Kiel Canal in Germany, the Rhine-Danube waterway from the North Sea to the Black Sea, the Black Sea Straits, the Suez Canal, and the Panama Canal be made free waterways for the passage of freight and passengers of all countries, except for the fees of their necessary operation and maintenance.

Churchill expressed agreement with Stalin's proposal for revision of the Montreux Convention to give Russia freedom of navigation in the Straits by merchant and warships alike in peace and war. He said he also agreed with my proposal that this should be guaranteed by all of us.

With regard to the other waterways, the British were in full accord with the general line that I had taken in my statement. Churchill thought that the Kiel Canal should certainly be free and open and guaranteed by all the great powers. He attached great importance to the free navigation of the Danube and the Rhine. He felt that there was a great measure of agreement among the three powers on this subject.

Stalin said he wished to withhold any statement of opinion regarding my proposal, since he would want to read it attentively before discussing it.

Reds Bring Up Syria, Lebanon.

Molotov then announced that the Russian delegation wished to submit a paper on the question of Syria and Lebanon, and proposed that the situation in these two countries be considered by a four-power conference of representative of the United States, Great Britain, the U.S.S.R. and France, with the consent of France to be first obtained.

Churchill said that the burden of defending Syria and Lebanon had fallen upon the shoulders of the British. The British would not welcome the whole matter being reviewed by a body of this kind. Of course, if the United States wanted to take their place, that would be a different matter. I replied, "No thanks."

Churchill brought up the matter of the British elections.

DRUMMOND Care Needed In Selection of Vice President

Parties Will Pick Best Men for Spot Only When Public Demands.

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND
(Copyright, 1955, by WASHINGTON.)

THERE is a growing feeling that the 1956 nominating conventions ought to improve the method of selecting vice presidential candidates. There is no prospect of changing the long habit of choosing vice presidential nominees as a backstage, casual afterthought to the main event unless there is an affirmative public demand.

In 1952 neither Senator Nixon nor Senator Sparkman was considered by either party as qualified for the presidential nomination. This has been the case in every vice presidential nomination except in the earliest years of the republic.

It is rather revealing, that while the Democratic party hesitated to consider Alben Barkley for the presidential nomination in 1948 because of age, it did not hesitate to give him the vice presidential nomination.

It is not just President Eisenhower's illness which makes it important to re-appraise the casual attitude toward choosing vice presidential nominees.

The law of averages is dangerously on the side that a Vice President will succeed to the presidency without being elected to the presidency. Ten of the 36 vice presidents in 166 years have become President—seven by accident, that is by the death of the President. That makes it one in five.

The tendency to neglect the vice presidential nomination has become habit-forming in American history. The awesome responsibilities of the presidency grow and grow. They are more grinding upon the President than ever, but neither party approaches the vice presidential nomination as though it were choosing its "second best man" to be ready for the highest office.

No act of Congress, no law, no change in the Constitution can guarantee that the political parties will select their "second best man" for the vice presidency. The parties will select only when public opinion requires them to do so.

GALLUP POLL Stevenson Leads Nixon, Trails Warren in Latest Trial Heats

1952 Democratic Candidate Holds 53-to-47 Pct. Edge Over Vice President — G.O.P. Dilemma Stressed.

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.
(Copyright, 1955, PRINCETON, N.J., Oct. 19.)

RESULTS of the two latest test polls conducted by the Institute among voters coast to coast show that Adlai Stevenson would likely win over Vice President Richard Nixon, but would trail Chief Justice Earl Warren if a presidential election were being held today.

In a "trial heat" race against Vice President Nixon, the 1952 Democratic candidate comes out on top, as follows:

STEVENSON vs. NIXON
Stevenson — 51%
Nixon — 45%
Undecided — 4%
Eliminating the 4 per cent who said they would be undecided, the vote divides 53 per cent for Stevenson, 47 per cent for Nixon.

Running against Chief Justice Earl Warren, however, Stevenson today would come off second best. Warren's lead over Stevenson is virtually the same as Stevenson's margin over Nixon, as follows:

STEVENSON vs. WARREN
Warren — 52%
Stevenson — 45%
Undecided — 3%
Eliminating the 3 per cent undecided, the vote divides 53 per cent for Warren, 47 per cent for Stevenson.

Today's survey results serve to point up the three-horned dilemma confronting the Republican party high command as of now with the next presidential election just a little more than a year away.

Party leaders can not now be certain whether President Eisenhower will be a candidate. If Mr. Eisenhower himself can resolve that question, prior to the President's illness, the G.O.P. leadership had geared the party's strategy solely to the renomination and re-election of Mr. Eisenhower.

Now that the party may have to face the task of selecting an alternate nominee, the obvious question is who would be the strongest Republican candidate?

Vice President Nixon, who currently leads the G.O.P. list in Institute polls as the top favorite of party members if Mr. Eisenhower does not run, and who would be a logical candidate, today trails Stevenson, the Democratic favorite, in a trial heat contest.

On the other hand, Chief Justice Warren, who is second to Nixon in candidate popularity among rank-and-file G.O.P. voters, shows greater strength in a trial heat than Nixon by defeating Stevenson.

Warren runs stronger than Nixon by reason of his greater strength among Independents and Democrats. But Warren has said that he will not again be a candidate for political office "under any circumstances."

Warren, in today's race against Stevenson, polls 54 per cent of the independent vote, compared with Nixon's 47 per cent, as the following vote by party affiliation shows:

WARREN vs. STEVENSON
Rep. Dem. Ind.
Warren 90% 18% 54%
Stevenson 8 80 39

NIXON vs. STEVENSON
Stevenson 13% 86% 48%
Nixon 83 11 47
Undecided 4 3 5

With the political outlook completely changed by President Eisenhower's possible withdrawal from the race, G.O.P. leaders may take some comfort in the fact that both Nixon and Warren run stronger today against Stevenson than they did in similar trial heats earlier this year, when the President was very much in the picture.

Here is the Stevenson-Nixon vote in a trial heat conducted by the Institute in February of this year: (The undecided vote is included in the first column of the table.)

STEVENSON vs. NIXON
(February, 1955)
Stevenson — 56% 61%
Nixon — 35 39
Undecided — 9 —

And here is the Stevenson-Warren vote last April:

STEVENSON vs. WARREN
(April, 1955)
Stevenson — 47% 50%
Warren — 47 50
Undecided — 6 —

For purposes of comparison, here is the vote in the last Eisenhower-Stevenson trial heat

FLEESON Kefauver Not Worried, Just Biding Time

Won't Try to Stop
Harriman Boom —Doesn't Really Fear It.

By DORIS FLEESON
WASHINGTON.

SENATOR ESTES KEFAUVER's presidential strategy is that, if Carmine DeSapio wants to operate on Adlai Stevenson, Kefauver is going to relax and enjoy it. The Senator has no intention of hampering the Harriman boomlet, which he does not really fear.

All this was made plain at the Washington press conference called by the Senator's aids to discuss his trip to Europe. The conference started out on a political note and foreign affairs never got mentioned.

While Kefauver refused to announce his presidential intentions, he declined repeated invitations to take himself out of the race. The truth is he sees nothing but personal advantage in the present situation which finds Stevenson planning an early announcement and an answering challenge from Gov. Harriman in New York and his manager, DeSapio.

It seems to Kefauver that the stop-Stevenson movement is proceeding efficiently without his help. He is by way of being expert on the strategy of stopping candidates, since he has so often been on the receiving end of it. He is also aware of the political danger in frontally attacking a candidate with the deep emotional support that Stevenson has engendered.

If any Democrats are going to get mad in the next few months, he would just as soon they were not mad at all. He can be expected to continue to speak well of all Democrats and bide his time. That he feels his time will come, no one doubts.

The Kefauver people believe—rightly or wrongly—that the professional politicians are cool off on Stevenson. They suspect this is what prodded DeSapio into action. In any case they believe they will profit with "the pros" by a waiting period.

The Kefauver admirers need not worry about not seeing and hearing their hero. Scarcely pausing for breath, he will start this week a series of speeches that will take him to most parts of the United States.

Hot Coffee

IT'S FRESHLY BREWED JUST FOR YOU!

There has never been an instant or concentrated coffee that even remotely compares with the flavor and aroma of freshly brewed coffee right from the bean. That's particularly true when it's brewed by specialists whose sole business is supplying the finest hot coffee money can buy to industrial plants and offices. That's why we brew and sell more steaming hot coffee than anybody else in St. Louis.

If it's coffee you want, by all means get real coffee that's fresh and full bodied. Coffee that picks you up.

You can have that kind of coffee for those who work in your plant or office. You don't have to sign any contract or pay a deposit or buy any equipment.

You'll save a lot of money in time that's now wasted and your people can spend their entire rest periods relaxing over a cup of the finest coffee they ever drank.

Call us at PR. 3-5888 and let us tell you how easy it is to have this fine service for those who work for you. If you prefer, this same old-fashioned brewed coffee is now available through our vending machines.

Southern Democrats Whiff Victory

POINT CLEAR, Ala., Oct. 18. THE REBELLION IN THE SOUTH against the Democratic party obviously reached its peak in the 1952 Eisenhower upheaval; for it plainly is subsiding now as Southern political leaders look forward and make plans for another presidential election next year.

How the spirit of revolt has broken is the outstanding impression, politically, of the attitudes among the overwhelming majority of the 14 Democratic governors at the annual Southern Governors Conference in this Mobile Bay resort.

The influence that have dissipated the rebellion are embodied in the Eisenhower Administration and its policies that affect the South and partly in the belief generally accepted here that the President will not run for a second term.

Clement.

Gov. Clement's View.

Like Democrats everywhere, the southern party leaders are much more confident now of victory. Like other Democrats elsewhere, the Southern leaders recognized the psychological hazard in the popular symbol of "like."

With prospects of victory brightened, the inclination of party leaders is to try to work together to try to assure success and garner the fruits that come from the control of the Government.

That practical factor, which is operating in the South, was described by the shrewd and practical young governor of Tennessee, Frank Clement, who himself sees in the distance the dangling prospect of a rosy apple labeled "Vice President"—a vision, incidentally, common to many about this season.

Gov. Clement put it thus: "We Democrats have been out of office nationally for some time. We are on the outside looking in. There's just one window to look in. In order to see in that window we all have to get close together."

Emphasis on Issues.

It is the opinion generally among Southern Democratic Governors that no other Republican can get anything like the wide support among Democrats in the South that was attained by Gen. Eisenhower in 1952 and still exists there in affection and admiration for the President.

With the President out as a candidate, the emphasis—or so Democratic Governors here view it—will naturally shift to issues.

In 1952 the personality of the President tended to obscure, if not virtually obliterate, both party lines and issues. The absence in 1956 of the dominating personality, above party, was stressed by Democratic Governors in analyzing what they regard as their greatly improved position.

As for issues, lowered farm income was cited as pre-eminent in the South by Democratic Governors here who said the people blamed the Eisenhower Administration and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Voice of Revolt Muted.

Also cited, as potent in some areas of the South, Tennessee in particular, was the antagonism of the Administration toward public power as exemplified most dramatically in TVA and the Dixon-Yates deal.

As for the big issue that has split the Democratic party in the last two presidential elections—civil rights for Negroes—voted in the Supreme Court's decision banning segregation in public schools—it was the contention among Democratic Governors that the tone in this now has been transferred to the Eisenhower Administration and the Republican party.

The once-angry voices of revolt at Southern Governors' meetings were missing. The noise had dwindled to veiled suggestions for a third party by Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina.

Pale Copy of Byrnes.

He was not ready, however, to forecast any definite move, and he was vague about just what support it could get. He was frank that it aroused no enthusiasm among other Southern party leaders.

Gov. Timmerman is only a pale copy of the nationally and internationally known figure whom he succeeded, former Gov. James F. Byrnes, who got his native state, after a notable career in Washington, to organize the revolt that shoved four Southern states—but not his own—into the Eisenhower column.

The present Governor saw President Eisenhower as a special case as a vote-getter in the South.

"I don't think the Republicans will ever carry South Carolina as far as I can see into the future," he said.

MUSEUM LISTS TALKS ON ITALIAN EXHIBIT

In Another Show, Diverse Styles Are Used by Artists Hood, Lotshaw.

Six special talks on the City Art Museum's current Italian exhibition, which will close Nov. 14, will be given by members of the museum's education department, Miss Mary Powell, supervisor of education at the museum, announced today.

The first will be presented Tuesday by Miss Jaquelin Ambler, assistant supervisor. This and the five remaining lectures will begin at 2 p.m.

Dates of the other programs and speakers scheduled to give them follow: Oct. 27, Miss Ambler; Nov. 1, Mrs. Frederick Hart; Nov. 3, Mrs. Edwin Grossman; Nov. 8, Mrs. Hart; Nov. 10, Miss Powell.

The show, largest of its kind ever assembled in America, includes 178 paintings, drawings and sculptures by 34 contemporary artists, most of them especially active in the last 10 years.

In another new art exhibition, 27 oil paintings are being displayed at Petit Pigalle, 4207 Lindell boulevard, by End Hood, St. Louis artist, and B. Copp Lotshaw of East St. Louis. A reception will be held Saturday at 2 p.m.

Both artists are showing rather heavily painted portraits, landscapes and still lifes, with End Hood the more lavish in her use of textured pigment. Her "House That Haunts Me" depicts a moody, romantic ruin with subdued coloring that is subtly evocative of eeriness.

Though these exhibitors are basically representational artists, both experimented with abstraction, and the East St. Louis artist's latest pictures make essays into a variety of modern styles—cubism ("My Green Bottle"), modified impressionism ("Iron Chandelier"), expressionism ("Japanese Dancer") and abstraction ("Creature of the Sea").

The show will close Dec. 1.

REV. ALOYSIUS BISKUPEK BURIED AT TECHNY, ILL.

The Rev. Aloysius Biskupek S.V.D., chaplain for the Holy Ghost Sisters, 1438 East Warner avenue, from 1940 until September of this year, was buried today at Techny, Ill., near Chicago. Father Biskupek, who was 71 years old, died Saturday of a heart attack at Waukegan, Ill.

Born in Poland, he joined the Divine Word Missionaries at the age of 13, and was ordained in Vienna in 1909. The same year he came to America.

While here in St. Louis, Father Biskupek had six books published concerning the Catholic religion. His most widely sold book is "Ordinations," an explanation of the ordination rites to the priesthood.

DR. CARLOS DAVILA DIES; EX-PRESIDENT OF CHILE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (INS)—Dr. Carlos Davila, secretary general of the Organization of American States and a former President of Chile, died today at the official Pan American Union residence in Washington. He was 68 years old. The cause of death was given as cancer complicated by heart disease.

The Pan American Union said his body will be flown to Chile for burial.

Davila, a former newspaper man, became secretary general of the OAS a year ago last June when former Colombian President Alberto Lleras Camargo resigned to return to private life in his homeland.

He was co-designer of the main telephone building here, and also designed 140 buildings in various cities served by Southwestern Bell. He moved to St. Louis in 1917. He had held various offices in the American Institute of Architects and had been active in that organization for many years. He was a member of the Algonquin Golf Club.

CHILDREN'S BOARD OFFICERS

William F. James has been elected chairman of the board of Children's Guardians for the coming year, it was announced today.

Also elected were Circuit Judge David A. McMullan, vice chairman, and Mrs. Conrad Sommer, secretary.

William F. James has been elected chairman of the board of Children's Guardians for the coming year, it was announced today.

Also elected were Circuit Judge David A. McMullan, vice chairman, and Mrs. Conrad Sommer, secretary.

The Pan American Union said his body will be flown to Chile for burial.

Davila, a former newspaper man, became secretary general of the OAS a year ago last June when former Colombian President Alberto Lleras Camargo resigned to return to private life in his homeland.

He was co-designer of the main telephone building here, and also designed 140 buildings in various cities served by Southwestern Bell. He moved to St. Louis in 1917. He had held various offices in the American Institute of Architects and had been active in that organization for many years. He was a member of the Algonquin Golf Club.

SYMPHONY RESERVE FUNDS EXHAUSTED

Money Used to Make Up Deficit for Last Fiscal Year.

All reserve funds of the St. Louis Symphony Society were depleted in making up the deficit in operation of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in the fiscal year ended last April 30, it was announced last night.

In a report to the society at a meeting at Washington University, Newell S. Knight, assistant treasurer, said the operating deficit for last season was $213,186. Revenue from paid attendance at concerts was $139,169, against a total operating expense of $352,355.

Collection of $199,821 in last year's maintenance fund drive reduced the operating deficit to $133,565, which was made up by depleting a working capital fund, Knight told the group.

The large deficit was attributed to poor attendance at concerts given on four last season and at other special concerts and the loss of $50,000 when the Board of Education canceled the annual high school concert series.

A total of $208,000 was collected in this year's maintenance fund drive last January. A Symphony spokesman said the high school concert series has been restored.

C. Arthur Weis, president of the Globe-Democrat, was elected a director of the society for a one-year term. I. E. Goldstein, president of United Lumber Co., and M. Grayson Carroll, former president of the Women's Association, were elected to three-year terms as directors.

The following were re-elected for one-year terms: F. Bert Baer, John C. Baine, Arthur A. Blumeyer, James C. Burkham, Milton Carpenter, Donald Danforth, Charles S. Drew, Mrs. Russell E. And Now the Half-Milers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.

On May 6, 1954, a hasty medical student named Roger Bannister raced through clammy English mist on the track he had helped build at Oxford and when fatigue sent him tottering on, the four-minute mile had been accomplished for the first time in mankind's history. The spectacle of men running 1760 yards in less than four minutes was to become commonplace, but Bannister was the first and because of him 1954 was universally recognized as the year of the milers.

Apparently not many have noticed it, but 1955 has been and is the year of the half-milers, and it doesn't matter whether the distance is measured in yards or meters.

On July 15, 1953, a delegate from Hitler's Germany named Rudolf Harbig rushed 800 meters in one minute, 46 and six-tenths seconds, smashing the world record of England's Sydney Wooderson by almost two seconds. This was on a big 500-meter track in Milan, Italy, and Harbig had a hare named Lanzi setting the pace and — authorities suspected upon noting the time — a squad of SS troops behind him with bayonets fixed.

For more than 15 years, Harbig's record stood untouched as though it were a pollution. Not even the incomparable Mal Whitfield threatened it though he tied Wooderson's world record of 1:49.2 for 880 yards. Then this year everybody started running half-miles faster than Whitfield and 800 meters faster than Harbig.

Belgium's Roger Moens broke Harbig's record with a metrical half in 1:45.7 and Norway's Auden Boyesen ripped in behind him in 1:45.9. In the winter Olympics men broke or tied Whitfield's record in a race that Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh, won in 1:47.6.

Beauty and the Beasts.

Now, this isn't ordinarily the time of year to be discussing track and field, autumn being a season when nobody save cross-country runners goes out without his pants. All of a sudden, however, the runners are with us. With the winter Olympics starting in January on an Alp in Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, and the summer games booked for November in Melbourne (where the year is upside down), an "Olympic Carnival" is being held in Madison Square Garden Thursday night to start a drive for the million dollars or so needed for American participation.

This show isn't confined to foot racing. Inside the track, on which five special invitation races are to be run, there'll be an ice rink and here and there platforms and mats. When runners aren't panting over the boards, figure skaters like Hayes Allen Jenkins and Miss Tenley Albright and Carol Heiss will be making with sheer beauty; weight-lifters will huff and puff, gymnasts gyrate and fencers endeavor to skewer one another with graceful punctilio.

Ticket applications have come from such remote points as Argentina, Scandinavia and India, probably drawn by a tourist attraction comparable to the Empire State building. This is Paul Anderson, 332-pounds of southern gallantry from Toccoa, Ga., who put Munich in a dither the other day by hoisting 1130 pounds in three lifts. In beer-drinking Munich the stylish-tout represents the masculine ideal.

With Elbows Drawn.

DESPITE the half-mile renaissance, chances are the mile field will excite chief attention because it includes Lt. Wes Santee, the world's sixth, seventh and eighth fastest non-four-minute man (he has done 4:00.3, 4:00.6 and 4:00.7).

Representing the Quantico Marines in a cross-country match with New York University last Saturday, Santee demonstrated his fitness by sloshing home in front through the floods. Then the man so often pictured as a pop-off demonstrated his manners by thanking the several hundred volunteers who ventured out to watch him.

A remarkably good off-season field also includes Santee's rival of last winter, Freddy Dwyer, who has done a mile in 4:01.8 but is remembered best by his performance in the Millrose games. A week earlier Santee had set an indoor record of 4:03.8 in Boston, but in the Wanamaker mile he and Dwyer fought a dual at elbow-point so to speak, and Gunnar Nielsen galloped on ahead to a new record of 4:03.6.

Len Truex of Ohio State and the Army, the FBI's Horace Ashenfelter, Lon Spurrier, Bobby Seaman and Lang Stanley, all half-mile whippers out of California... Lou Jones, who chopped fourth-tenths off George Rhoden's 400-meter record of 45.8 in the Pan American games this year... they'll all be there. (Copyright, 1955, The New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Cards to Play Sunday Doubleheaders, Saturday Day Games

'Give Fans More' Is Lane Plan

The Cardinals' home schedule next season will discover great quantities of daylight play and Sunday doubleheaders, after all these years of leading the league in night games.

Sunday doubleheaders will be played "on every occasion possible," it was announced today in the name of Frank Lane, Cardinal general manager. Lane is taking a short vacation at his home in St. Petersburg, Fla., but things legitimately can be announced as "Lane said" because Lane does say many things daily by telephone.

The past few seasons, it has been Cardinal policy to schedule only two doubleheaders. Anything beyond that was accidental, the result of postponements. The past season, the Cardinals played 55 night games. That figure will be considerably reduced by Lane's doubleheader program.

More Mondays Open.

Two games on Sunday will result in open dates on Monday, and in afternoon games on Saturday. The Monday open date is a boon often longed for by Cardinal players. The Saturday afternoon game honors players' objections to playing night games before doubleheaders. It also serves Lane's notion, expressed at other times, that there are people for whom Saturday daylight games are the only chance to see baseball.

"We'll play at least one doubleheader with every team in the league," Lane was quoted from the Cardinal office. "Our schedule will boil down, in the end, to this. We'll have a doubleheader on Sunday, Monday will be open, we'll play night games on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and afternoon games on Saturday. There'll be some exceptions of course, but not many."

League rules prevent a full sweep of Sunday doubleheaders, because a two-for-one program can not be scheduled on the last day a team will play in any city.

What Chicago Liked.

Saturday afternoon games and Sunday doubleheaders, were the pattern for Lane when he was general manager of the White Sox. He believed the fans appreciated it, and good baseball beliefs are based on the turnstile count. The Cardinal reconversion to doubleheaders also could renew woeing of the outstate dollar, which last year could be spent on the Kansas City Athletics, as well as the Cardinals.

"It will," said the voice from St. Petersburg, "have two effects—it will give the fans more baseball for their money, and will give the players at least one day a week off while at home."

The exact number of doubleheaders has not been determined. The Cardinal schedule had been arranged, on its usual night-time and Sunday single-game basis, and was revised to conform to Lane's program. The full Cardinal schedule will be announced within two or three months, when the National League comes out with its overall schedule.—J.R.

Leading Woman Tennis Player Turns Pro

Amateur tennis lost its top-ranked woman player when DORIS HART signed a professional contract to teach the game at a Miami Beach hotel. Doris, who was born in St. Louis, is shown, left, as she signs the contract, with TOMMY THOMPSON, right, Miami hotel manager. Doris' mother watches.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—The ranks of United States amateur tennis were further thinned today with the announcement that Doris Hart, the nation's No. 1 woman player, had turned professional.

Miss Hart, an active amateur for 20 years and winner of all the world's major women's tennis titles, will become a teaching pro at the Flamingo Hotel here.

Just a week ago Tony Trabert, the men's amateur champion, turned professional at Los Angeles.

Miss Hart, who was considered sickly almost from birth, took up the game at Henderson Park in Miami at the age of 10, following an operation.

"While I still love tennis, the strain of competing is getting to be a little too much," Doris said.

"Besides, there are always the younger players coming up who have the fire you once had."

The 30-year-old Miss Hart said she was tired of traveling and wanted to quit while she was "still at the top."

L. C. (Tommy) Thompson, vice president and general manager of the hotel, said negotiations for Miss Hart's services had been going on for the past week.

Miss Hart said the high point

Sale of Frisco To Greenberg Is Expected Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19 (AP)—The deal by Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, to buy the San Francisco Seals baseball club appeared in the bag today.

"We have reached a verbal agreement on the sale," said Greenberg last night after conferring with Damon Miller, president of the Little Corp., controlling the Seals franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

Miller, who struggled with slumping attendance and growing debts all last season, broke into a big grin.

"I've gone over all the books, but there are still people and things I want to know before coming to a definite decision," Greenberg said. If all turns out as expected, Greenberg said he would make a press conference announcement today.

The offer made to Greenberg, Miller said, would be a $100,000 deal. "Hank would have to assume a $50,000 bank note, pay off $30,000 still owed the Pacific Coast League, and purchase 100 per cent of the common stock, which is worth $20,000," Miller said.

Greenberg said he would protect preferred stockholders in the Little Corp., organized two years ago to keep San Francisco in organized baseball.

Amateur Boxing Card Tonight at the Grand

An amateur boxing program of 10 matches will be presented at the Grand Theater, 516 Market street, tonight at 8:30, under the direction of the Amateur Boxing Coaches' Association. Proceeds are to be used to defray the expenses of amateur boxers at the Olympic trials next spring. It is planned to hold a card each Wednesday evening.

Tonight's bouts: Leroy Malone, Rock A.C. vs. Robert Johnson, Neighborhood Association; Heavyweight Open. Bob Lynn, Bangert A.C. vs. Douglas Nance, Vashon Recreation, Lightweight Open. Jack McCracken, South Broadway A.C. vs. Fred Flase, Rock A.C., Middleweight Novice. Richard Munstlinger, Fenton A.C. vs. Dan Fagan, Rock A.C., Middleweight Novice. Don Greer, South Broadway A.C. vs. Roosevelt Clonson, Carr Square, Welterweight Novice. Chat Lombardo, Bosco Boys' Club vs. William Clay, Carr Square, 126-Pound Novice. Fred Dietrich, Auto Workers' A.C. vs. Ralph Hilton, Fenton A.C., 130-Pound Novice. Joe Beerti, Lincoln A.C. vs. Gary Brown, Lincoln A.C., 135-Pound Novice. Mersey Menhola, Lincoln A.C. vs. Gary Hunt, Auto Workers' A.C. vs. Chat Williams, Neighborhood Association, 80-Pound Sub-Novice.

De Palma, Former Auto Race Driver, Critically Ill After Surgery

SOUTH PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Ralph DePalma, 72, who earned 1½ million dollars during his 27 years as an auto race driver, remained in near critical condition today following head surgery.

The veteran racer tired of hospital life last night, however, and took a cab home, unknown to his wife or doctor. DePalma also has pneumonia and other complications.

DePalma, who twice took the winner's flag at the 500-mile Indianapolis speedway classic, retired in 1934. He claimed he drove 2889 races in this country and Europe, winning 2557.

Kiner, Named General Manager At San Diego, Signs Bob Elliott As Team Leader for '56 Season

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Former National League slugger Ralph Kiner—his home run hitting days over—now must connect at the gate in his new job as general manager of the San Diego Pacific Coast League club.

Kiner, 32, yesterday signed a one-year contract as front-office boss of the Coast League Padres at a reported salary of $25,000.

He promptly hired his old Pittsburgh teammate, Bob Elliott, 39, to be field manager of the club, for the second year. Elliott piloted the Padres to second place in the standings in 1955.

Kiner, former National League home run king, finished his playing days with the Cleveland Indians this year. He was released by the Indians to take the San Diego offer from the club's new owners, the Westgate-California Tuna Packing Co.

What does Kiner think of making the unusual jump from the diamond to a front-office job?

He believes he has one big advantage in his favor. That is just getting out of baseball and having been closer to the picture than some other person might have been who had been behind a desk for a long time.

"I know the players from personal contact and know what they can do," Kiner said.

"I'm going to go over the rosters of all major league teams to start with," he added.

"I definitely favor a working agreement with some major league club and I would like to tie up with one which has good young players."

"I had an opportunity to deal with all the major league club owners and I'm hoping these connections will prove useful in acquiring players."

The new San Diego front-office boss said he wants to utilize Lane Field, home of the Padres, and its wind-blown rightfield wall by lining up all the left-handed strength possible.

As a player, Kiner swung one of the most dangerous home run bats in baseball history. His total of 369 homers in his career is exceeded by only five players—Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Fox, Mel Ott and Ted Williams. He led or tied for the lead in homers seven straight seasons—from 1947 through 1952—and twice hit more 50 homers in one season.

Eisenhower Proclaims Saturday Olympic Day

DENVER, Oct. 19 (UP)—President Eisenhower has proclaimed Saturday as "National Olympic Day" and urged all citizens to "do their utmost in support of the Olympic games next year."

He expressed hope that "our nation may be able to send an adequate number of representatives to participate in these games." The sixteenth Olympics of the modern era will be held late next year at Melbourne, Australia. The winter games will begin Jan. 26 at Cortina, D'Ambrozio, Italy.

decisive moments of Washington games—basically, it is an unfair question to ask a team man and an honest man—Ladd said. "Maybe we've been complacent. We went out thinking we would beat the Miners and Western Reserve."

"We took it easy, maybe; we weren't fair to Snavey. We need a leader on the field, maybe, someone to get us rednecked," he said. Asked if he carried a needle when he called plays in a huddle, Ladd said, "I try keeping 'em charged up, but it looks like I'm not very convincing, doesn't it?"

No Combat Ribbons?

His upper lip, stiff as usual, and unusually swollen, testified he had been convincing, personally. He was slugged at the start of the Western Reserve game. The lip puffed an inch. He played on, and he played in the final quarter, oblivious of a rivet into his forehead and made blood flow over his face.

Asked if Ladd still would call signals, Snavey said, "Not as long as Mike is in there." Mike is last-name Bollinger, the blocking-back understudy. Snavey gave the quick-opening answer, then reconsidered.

He turned to Assistant coach Irv Utz. "Irv," he said, which one do you think ought to call the signals? Utz said it was a matter of voice-carrying position. "It would be nice," he said, "if the two of them could get together, in time-outs."

Fifteen minutes earlier, getting ready for practice, Ladd had said, "I don't know yet whether I'll still be calling the plays. I know it'd be good if we won. We could still make this a 6-and-3 season."

Considering the shape of his lip, he said a mouthful.

Clynnon Gains Victory.

Clynnon, one of the horses which campaigned at the Fairmount and Cahokia Downs meets, scored a victory in a seven-furlong race at Sportsman's Park, Chicago, yesterday. nals and then flattening himself and a defenseman in the fond hope a ball-carrier will rediscover the line of scrimmage and even stumble a few yards farther. Yards gained—passing slightly exceeded yards-gained—rushing with the Bears so far and that isn't strictly Snavey, so help him North Carolina and Charley Justice.

A Weaving Back.

Ladd's first year at Washington, as a transfer from Bradley, found him enrolled as a physical education major with a desire to study more than basketball, and as a wingback. He was injured in the third game. He returned the next year, as a wingback, and gave the now graduated Jim Burst a full-scale battle for starting position.

When the potential starter at quarterback was injured, Ladd accepted a transfer to the position in good grace. He was playing, wasn't he?

Now he will be playing again, as a ball-carrier, and Snavey classifies him as a fond hope. The Bears running attack has had an uncommon amount of wide sweeps, gaining nothing. Ladd has speed, and an ability to cut back, instead of cutting a play's throat.

"We've been going wider and wider and getting nowhere," said Ladd, blaming nobody, just recognizing the lack of general progress on running plays. Asked why zeal has seemed to die an unnatural death in the

Bears' Hard-Loser Ladd Changes Position, Keeps Victory Urge

By Jack Rice

This is the week of the big pain in Washington University football, physical and moral, and Bob Ladd is cursing through it as an aspirin-at-large. Backfield man Ladd has an ache of his own, a lip that looked like he was going out for first trumpet in the Ubangi chamber music society. The swelling subsides, but his zeal does not. Ladd came to play football.

Washington players have been doing some wondering out loud about how much football they came to play, on various Saturdays this season. Many of them admit it wasn't much, and that another is say it should be one defeat, and three victories.

The record agrees with any Bear who puts a low estimate on the efforts to date. There is one victory, and three defeats, and players seem to agree that the least they can do for one another is say it should be one defeat, and three victories.

He Came to Win.

Ladd is among those in agreement, but with a difference. He is sullen about it, and after listening to others sound mystified, it is encouraging to hear a man on his muscle. Ladd leads the team in ability to be a hard loser.

This week's practice affords him a chance to be a leader, carrying the football. Coach Carl Snavey yesterday played checkers with the line, moving men hither and thither. It was a choice between that, and solving injury-induced shortages at left guard by moving the tackle next to the center and greeting the world and Western Michigan with a ten-man team.

The world has troubles enough without such an unbalanced line at Kalamazoo, Mich., on Saturday. The Bears will have left guards, if tentative changes develop adequately. They also will have Ladd at wingback for the third time in three years. He keeps coming back to that position in the style of Stan Musial returning to first base. Somebody gets hurt, by falling on his face or being pushed on it, and there he is.

Ladd has been most noted in the Bears' single-wing backfield as the blocking back, calling sig-

RICKEY SAYS HE'S THROUGH AS BUC GENERAL MANAGER

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 (AP)—Branch Rickey asserted today that he definitely will not be general manager or vice president of the Pittsburgh Pirates after Nov. 1.

"What I told the Associated Press August a year ago still goes," said Rickey. "I'm not changing my mind. I intend to stay with the club in some capacity, if permitted to do so. And I think I will be."

Asked who will succeed him, Rickey replied:

"That I can't answer. But I'm working on it right now. The final decision rests with Mr. Galbreath and Mr. Johnson." John W. Galbreath, Columbus (O.) real estate man, is president of the Pirates, and Tom Johnson, a Pittsburgh attorney, is vice president and treasurer.

The speculation is that Rickey's successor will be either his son, Branch Rickey Jr., or Joe L. Brown, son of movie comedian Joe Brown.

Rickey's five-year contract at a reported $100,000 a year ends Nov. 1. He was given a five-year option to renew it. The Pirates have finished in the National League cellar the past four years.

Missouri quail hunters will have two more weeks of hunting this year. The season begins Nov. 10 and ends Dec. 31. Last year it ended Dec. 15. Bag and possession limits remain at six and six.

Hunting prospects are more propitious than in the last several years. For the first time in four years bobwhite had a favorable nesting and rearing season. Three straight years of drought had thinned the birds to a new low. Intensive farming operations also played their part. This year well-spaced rains produced ample nesting cover, and temperatures during the laying and nesting season were much lower than during the sun-baked days of the past three years.

This writer interviewed dozens of rural mail carriers during August, September and early October as to whether or not there was an increase in quail population. All of them were of the opinion that there is a marked increase over the previous three years. Three rural carriers in the Ozark counties said they had seen as many as four coveys in one day. Six carriers had sighted as many as three coveys, and a great majority of them saw at least one covey on making their rounds. Only one carrier had failed to see any birds during the summer.

Most of the birds sighted were well matured and capable of full flight. One of the rural mail men, however, reported seeing birds "no bigger than bumblebees" as late as the first week in October. This is not an unusual occurrence because bobwhite is a persistent bird and, when a nest has been destroyed, will re-nest until a brood is hatched. These late-hatched birds seldom survive through the winter months and are often no larger than sparrows when the shooting season opens.

Despite drought, intensive farming, predators, and the heavy gun pressure exerted by man, the bobwhite quail remains as one of the most tenacious wild species we have. Give him a break and he is capable of bouncing back in a very short time. His reproductive potential is the greatest of any of our native game birds—as much as 500 per cent. So, quail are a renewable annual resource. Each year the population is based on the ratio of the carrying capacity of the available food, cover, and water for that given year. According to biologists who obtain their information from quail wing samples sent them by the hunters, 80 per cent of the total fall population is made up of young birds. Only about 20 per cent reach the age of one and one-half years.

In contrast to the three previous years, the vegetation this year will be extremely lush and heavy. This has been an outstanding growing season and only heavy frosts will blight the rank weed crop and make it possible for dogs to work on the birds successfully. Most of the young pointers and setters will be working under a decided handicap. Dogs three and four years of age will have had only limited bird finding experience because of the three dismal years that have preceded this season. Many pointers have disposed of their dogs as a result of the previously shortened seasons and the lack of birds.

A story is told in the Ozarks about a hunter who took the day off and journeyed forth to a nearby farm with his outstanding pointer for a day's quail hunt. He drove up to the farmer's house and asked for permission to hunt. The farmer was extremely co-operative and pointed out the various places where he had seen quail and assured the sportsman that he was welcome. "I have an extra gun and plenty of shells," the hunter said, "why don't you take the morning off and go along with me?" The farmer replied that he had never hunted quail, but finally agreed to go along.

The guns were loaded, the dog was released from the trunk of the car, and they set forth for the hunt. The dog was a wide-ranging animal and soon was lost from sight. "I'm sure the dog is on point somewhere down in that draw," remarked the hunter. "Suppose you go down that way and I'll work up the nearby hillside in the sedge grass to see if I can find him."

The farmer assented and proceeded down the draw. Soon he came on the dog on point, standing like a statue, tail high, and muzzle thrust forward. The farmer walked past the dog, snatched into a large covey of birds. They exploded in every direction and the farmer aimed at first one and then another but never fired his gun. By this time the hunter had scored a double on the birds which came his way.

"Why didn't you shoot?" inquired the hunter. "How was I to know those birds were going to jump right out from under my feet?" said the farmer. "That no-good so-and-so of a dog you have was just standing around and didn't even bark treed. If I were you I'd give him a good selling the first chance I got."

If Jack Frost does not cut down the excessive vegetation and if the dogs have to be trained all over again due to four years of idleness, it might be a good idea to follow the farmer's suggestion and teach them to "bark treed" while they are on point.

Shoemaker Suspended.
SAN MATEO, Calif., Oct. 19 (UP)—Jockey Willie Shoemaker, the country's leading rider in past years, was handed a five-day suspension at Bay Meadows for "careless riding" in the fourth race Tuesday while aboard Anno Domini.

Illini, Spartans High-Powered Offensively, Figures Show

They Rate In Top 10 On Attack

By Robert Morrison

National statistical listings in college football today gave Ray Eliot of Illinois and Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State plenty to "fear" next Saturday, and they weren't shy about viewing with alarm.

The Illini, after winning three games and losing one, now rate as the second best in total offense with a 399.3-yards-per-game average. West Virginia is first with a four-game average of 427.

But the Spartans of Michigan State, likewise boasting a 3-1 record after their inspired victory over Notre Dame, also are high in total offense. They are seventh with a 346.5 average.

Eliot and Daugherty seized upon this aspect to paint a tough outlook for their Big Ten game at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday.

Respectful Comment.

"What Michigan State has got is giving us ulcers," Eliot was quoted by the United Press. "They're the finest offensive team in the country. Our line did a better job last week, but this week that multiple offense will be a lot more tricky to defend against."

Daugherty sounded the same note. "Illinois is one of the top offensive teams in the country," he said. "They can knock anybody off. They're probably got more speed than any other backfield in the country."

Illinois is rated fourth in the rushing department with a 275-yard-per-game average. Michigan State ranks eleventh with 236.8. Illinois is thirteenth in passing with 124.3 average. Michigan State doesn't show in the top 15, but its average aerial gain of 109.7 is quite respectable.

Shade to M-State.

To bring these figures into better perspective, it should be remembered that Michigan State has played a bit tougher schedule in beating Indiana, losing to Michigan, though outplaying the Wolverines, and then trimming Stanford and Notre Dame.

Illinois lost to Ohio State while beating California, Iowa State and Minnesota.

Harry Jefferson, neither the fastest nor most powerful back by any means, has combined the two features to lead the Illini attack and rank fifteenth nationally. He now has carried 58 times for 327 yards and a 5.6 average. Abe Woodson has 256 yards for 31 carries.

Hiles Stout, whose quarterbacking against Minnesota earned him consideration as a possible starter at Michigan State, has completed 16 of 26 passes for 287 yards and an excellent hitting percentage of .571.

Metropolitan League's 300 Twins

The local bowling season is still very young but two members of the Metropolitan Classic Scratch League, at Bowl-Mor Lanes, have achieved perfect games. CARL HUNING, left, bowled his 300 game on Oct. 3, and FRANK SEDLACK, right, accomplished his feat last Monday night. These are the only perfect games rolled in league play here thus far this season.

Faurot to Use B-Team Player At Quarterback

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 19 — Desperate situations require desperate measures, so Coach Don Faurot is reaching down to his B-team in hope of coming up with a quarterback who can make the sliding-T work as the Missouri Tigers prepare for their Homecoming game with Nebraska here Saturday.

John (Hil) Simmons, who scouted the Huskers last week, rates Nebraska as three touchdowns better than the Iowa State team which won, 20-14, from the Tigers. It was Missouri's sixth loss in a row, the longest personal losing streak Faurot has experienced in his 29-year coaching career.

There's one thing in the Tigers favor as they face the Huskers, however, because the red-clads from Nebraska haven't been able to win at Memorial Stadium here since 1937. And since Faurot came here in 1935, Missouri has won 13 and lost 7 to the huskers, who long dominated the old Big Six Conference.

Grip is the Name.
Disappointed that the Tigers have been unable to come up with the clutch plays needed to win or defensively in their five losses this year, Faurot plans to turn over a large part of the quarterbacking chore this week to William Grip, 182-pound Macon (Mo.) junior.

David Doane, who ranks as tops in the conference, like Hunter, is an engineering student, but it remains to be seen if he is like Hunter in other respects.

No Hunter, but...

Hunter, sidelined for a month with a charleyhorse, probably won't play, but otherwise Faurot gave a favorable physical report.

Halfback Sonny Stringer, out almost as long as Hunter with an ailing ankle, but who played briefly against Iowa State last week is improving and probably will see more service. So will John Powell and Bill Culey, halfbacks who have been on limited service status while recuperating from shoulder dislocations.

Gene Roll, fullback injured in the Iowa State game last week, will see some service.

Aggie Star, Declared Free Agent by Frick, Signed by Red Sox

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 19 (AP)—Alabama Aggie star Tom Borland, $40,000 bonus pitcher with Baltimore until declared a free agent over a technicality, signed yesterday with the Boston Red Sox for an undisclosed amount.

Danny Doyle, Sox scout, said that Borland has been assigned to Louisville, Boston's American Association affiliate, and will report next season.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick declared Borland a free agent when it was discovered his contract with Baltimore had not been filed.

"I think Borland will make a major league pitcher of the Herb Pennock type and that he will be in the big show within two years," Doyle said.

Pascual Hurls 2-Hitter.
HAVANA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Camilo Pascual, of the Washington Senators, pitched a 2-hitter for the league-leading Cienfuegos Elephants against Almendares in the Cuban winter baseball league last night. Cienfuegos won 4-1.

Clayton and Ladue Gear For Big Battle Nov. 12

By Harold Tuthill

November 12 will be a red-letter day on the calendar of football fans in the central part of St. Louis county because that's the date when friendship will cease temporarily while Clayton High and Central High meet in their annual game.

Some of the parents will watch the important Little Six contest with mixed feelings, especially if they are sitting in the Ladue section. A few years back, before Ladue came into existence, they might have had boys playing on the Clayton side.

If Clayton and Ladue maintain their early pace they will enter the game undefeated in league competition. Clayton, with victories over Wellston and Ferguson, still must play St. Charles and Brentwood, while Ladue, having disposed of Brentwood and Wellston, will meet Ferguson and St. Charles before taking on Clayton.

Ferguson Moving Up.
This will be the last time either Clayton or Ladue plays Ferguson in league competition because Ferguson next year will replace Maplewood in the Big Six division of the largest schools in the county. Others in the big school category are Ritenour, University City, Webster Groves, Kirkwood and Normandy.

The Little Six will drop down to the Little Five and will include Brentwood, Clayton, Ladue, Maplewood and St. Charles. Wellston, now in the Little Six, will move into a division called Group III and includes Hazelwood, Lindbergh, Pattonville and Riverview Gardens.

Schedules in Group II (Little Five) already have been drawn and await only the approval of the principals before being released. Clayton, for instance, in addition to its four league games next year, will meet Hazelwood, Wellston, Normandy, John Burroughs and Principia. Ladue will play Wellston, Normandy, John Burroughs and one other in addition to its league program.

Clayton had an unusual start this fall with stalemates in its first two games—6-6 with Maplewood and 20-20 with Hazelwood. Walter Rulon's Greyhounds then trounced Wellston, 33-0, and trimmed Ferguson, 7-0.

Rulon was impressed by Ferguson's ability, describing the Comets as a vastly improved aggregation over the one which lost its first three games by good-sized margins.

Clayton Co-Captains.
Clayton has built its football hopes on its co-captains, Bruce Woolley and Larry Rogers, both halfbacks weighing about 155. Rulon, who favors the single wing, has Morty Ebeling, 160, at the signal calling spot and Dick Schwarz, 160, at the fullback post.

Glen Ikens, a transfer student from Charlevoix, Mich., has given the Greyhounds a big boost at end. Ikens, who came to Clayton as a letterman in football and basketball, is only a junior in school. Right now he is 6-1 and weighs 175. That's a good build for the specialist's job he has—that of kicking the extra points. He might have put the ties with Maplewood and John Burroughs on the right side of the ledger if the passes from center on two occasions had been more accurate. As it was, Ikens had no chance to kick the ball.

At the other end is Bob Barnes, Lyman Bishop and Dave Berry are the tackles, Bob Levitt and Buster Harris the guards and Mel Wagner the center.

In the backfield are Dick Solar, Dick Woolley, Bruce's brother, and Bill Ackerman. Other squad members include Jack

Evasion Wins Again.

BOSTON, Oct. 19 (UP)—Evasion, which couldn't win in cheap claiming company only a month ago, posted its third straight victory in an allowance race yesterday when it led home an eight-horse field in the feature at Suffolk.

The four-year-old daughter of Spy Song gained an early lead in the six-furlong test and scampered home six and one-half lengths ahead of Admiral George. Cable Jack, the favorite of 10-2, finished third.

Electronic Gadget Proposed to Judge Field Goal Kicks

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19 (AP)

COACH Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles Rams proposes an electronic eye gadget, or higher goal posts, as a more scientific method of judging whether football field goal kicks are good.

He suggests that adding 20 or 25 feet to the height of goal posts would be an improvement.

The Rams lost to Green Bay, 30-28, last Sunday on a last-minute field goal so high it appeared difficult to tell whether it was within the uprights, although the officials ruled it was.

"I want it understood that I am not protesting," Gillman said. "I hope this won't sound like sour grapes. I just think it's high time to be getting a more accurate method of judging field goals."

"For instance, maybe we could use an electronic eye. At the very least the uprights should be elevated another 20 or 25 feet. The way it is now, a short, high goal sometimes goes 30 feet above the uprights."

Volleyball Clinic.

A volleyball clinic, open to the public, will be held at the North Side Y.M.C.A., 3100 N. Grand, tomorrow from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Fundamentals will be stressed. William Winkelman, physical director, and Rodney Farmer, assistant physical director, will be in charge.

McIntosh Race Secretary at Cahokia Downs

Ken McIntosh, who has served as one of the stewards at the two Cahokia Downs race meetings, yesterday was named racing secretary for the 1956 campaign. It was announced by executive director George Edw. Day. McIntosh succeeds Jack Klucina, who has served as racing secretary since the plant was opened in July 1954.

The change was made at a meeting of the Cahokia board of directors at Springfield, Ill.

McIntosh, who was born in Canada, has been connected with racing for 25 years. For several years he has served as racing secretary at Oaklawn Park, Hot Springs, Ark., and at Ak-Sar-Ben at Omaha, Neb. During the winter he is active at Tropical and Gulfstream in Florida.

Klucina, in addition to being racing secretary at Cahokia, served in the same capacity at Fairmount Park and Sunshine Park, Oldsmar, Fla.

Carter Is Expected to Gain 135-Pound Title Fourth Time

Randy Turpin Kayoed; Says He Is Through

LONDON, Oct. 19 (UP)—Former Middleweight Champion Randy Turpin, who craved a shot at the lightweight title, retired from boxing today as a result of a four-round knockout at the hands of Gordon Wallace of Ontario, Canada.

Wallace stunned a huge crowd at Harringay Arena last night by flooring Turpin, the man who once beat Sugar Ray Robinson, four times—the last time for the full count. Wallace was down once.

"Randy will throw no more punches for me," announced George Middleton, Turpin's Manager, in his dressing room. Turpin, who holds the British empire lightweight title, nodded in sober agreement.

"Fair enough," said Turpin. "I will take them for no one else."

Turpin said he could see many of Wallace's punches coming but his reflexes didn't react quickly enough for him to avoid them. Middleton commented, "when that happens, it is time to give up," and again Turpin nodded.

British Promoter Jack Solomons, who had hoped to match Turpin against World Lightweight Champion Archie Moore here in January, said he agreed with Randy's decision to retire now.

FIGHT RESULTS

LONDON—Yolande Pomper, 169½, Trinidad, B.W.I., knocked out Yvon Durille, 173½, New Brunswick, Canada (7); Ewart Potgieter, 254, South Africa, stopped Noel Reid, 222, Jamaica, B.W.I. (3); Gordon Wallace, 177, Ontario, Canada, knocked out Randy Turpin, 177, Harringay Spas, England (4).

HOLYOKE, Mass.—Sammy Walker, 157, Springfield, Mass., stopped Jesse Turner, 158½, St. Louis, Mo. (5).

PHILADELPHIA—Charlie Slaughter, 131½, Westfield, N.J., knocked out George Lamata, 135, Philadelphia (5).

RUFFALO, N.Y.—Ruddy Jackson, 181, Springfield, N.Y., outpointed Denis Pat Brady, 144, New York (10).

Champion Bud Smith Predicts Knockout

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19 (UP)—Jimmy Carter of New York, the ring's all-time tops as a throne owner "in-and-out," will try to win the lightweight crown for the fourth time tonight in a return 15-round fight with Champion Wallace (Bud) Smith at the Cincinnati Gardens.

Carter, 31, already holds the record for having won a world title three times. And he is favored at 8-5 to succeed again tonight in his 100th fight, although 26-year-old Smith beat him for the championship in June at Boston and is performing in his own home town this time.

When the two Negroes square off for their nationally televised bout before an "expected crowd" of 14,000, it will be their third and "rubber" meeting. Each holds a victory. (On KTVI at 8 o'clock, St. Louis time.)

Before Carter became champion he won a 10-round decision over Smith at Cincinnati on May 28, 1950. But last June 29 in the Boston Garden, Smith took the 135-pound crown from him on a split 15-round verdict by the margin of a single point.

Close Voting.

In that Boston squeeze, Smith's left hooks proved a bit superior to Jimmy's straight rights, which lacked throwing space because Cincinnati Bud kept pressing the shuffling New Yorker. The two votes for Smith were 147-140 and 145-144. The one for Carter was 144-143.

Their TV-radio fight at Boston was held in comparative privacy; for Smith was given little chance to win. Only 1983 fans paid $8750, third lowest gate for any title fight in modern ring annals. But the TV-radio fee was $40,000.

Promoter Sam Becker of Cincinnati expects a gate of $45,000 tonight. A TV blackout in the Cincinnati area helped the receipts. The International Boxing Club, interested only in the television end of the fight, will get the $30,000 TV-radio fee.

Each fighter has been guaranteed $18,000, $9000 from Becker and $9000 from the I.B.C.'s television money. Each may get more than $9000 from Becker since each has the privilege of taking 30 per cent of the net gate.

The champion and challenger weighed in exactly at the 135-pound limit. They trained here at the same gymnasium, owned by ex-heavyweight ruler Ezzard Charles.

British Ryder Cuppers Arrive, Confident of First Win Since '33

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (UP)—Britain's 10-man Ryder Cup golf team arrived yesterday aboard the liner Queen Mary and expressed confidence that it would beat the United States pros in the international classic at Palm Springs, Calif., Nov. 5 and 6.

"I think these men have a darn good chance," said R. C. T. Roe, the retired Naval officer who is manager of the British team.

The Britons have not won the Ryder Cup since 1933. The matches are played every other year, alternating between Britain and the U.S.

Dai Rees of Wales, captain of the British squad, said he thought his team was better balanced than ever before and "the boys have their backs up."

Special A. A. Meeting
To Hear Braves' Plans
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 19 (AP)—The American Association, at the request of the Milwaukee Braves, will hold a special meeting in Chicago next month.

The Braves already have announced they will not operate their Association farm franchise in Toledo next year. "At this meeting," said A.A. President Ed Doherty, "they will let us know what their plans are." Doherty said he doesn't think the Braves will drop their Association franchise and buy San Francisco of the Coast League, despite reports to the contrary. He also expressed delight for the league's sake over sale of the Charleston franchise by Eddie Menendez to the Detroit Tigers. "That should be a big help to the league," Doherty said, "with a good club, Charleston should draw very well."

Jordan Is U.P. Coach of Week

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 19 (UP)—His opponents had the best pass defense in Dixie.

And he didn't have a very good passer.

So he gambled desperately, took to the air and won, ending a frustration of 13 straight defeats by this same rival.

He's the United Press coach of the week, Ralph (Shug) Jordan of the Auburn Plainsmen.

That 14-12 victory over Georgia Tech's Engineers Saturday was the sweetest in a lifetime for a fellow who got his nickname because as a boy he liked to chomp on sugar cane stalks in the fields around his native Selma, Ala.

"I figured we had to do something totally unexpected if we wanted to win," said Jordan. "I decided a few passes might turn the trick."

Losing Coach Bobby Dodd said it was the passing that put over the upset.

"Jordan beat us with the one I didn't think could beat us," he declared. "I would have given odds that Auburn couldn't beat us with a passing attack, but that's just what they did."

The victory put Auburn well on the road to the first South-eastern Conference Championship in its history. If the Plainsmen win it they will go to the Sugar Bowl. Thus far they have won three games and tied Kentucky.

Hawks' Jack Stephens To Play in Star Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (UP)—Jack Stephens, last year's Notre Dame basketball captain and the school's all-time scoring champion, has accepted an invitation to play for the College All-Stars against the New York Knickerbockers at Madison Square Garden Oct. 30.

Stephens, with the St. Louis Hawks this season, scored 501 points for Notre Dame in 1954-55 and had a career total of 1314. Dick Rickettes of Duquesne, another St. Louis Hawk, Maurice Stokes of St. Francis (Pa.) and Ed Conlin of Fordham previously accepted invitations to play in the game.

Sugar Robinson Has Spar Mate 'on Ropes'

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.Y., Oct. 19 (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson showed a razor-sharp left jab, much to the discomfort of three sparring partners, when he boxed four rounds yesterday in preparation for his mid-dleweight title bout with Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson on Nov. 4.

Robinson, who also ran five miles in the morning, sparred one round each with J. C. Williams and Lee William and two rounds with Joe Shaw. Shaw took the worst beating and was hanging on at the end of the second round.

The TRUMAN MEMOIRS

He informed Stalin and me that Mr. Attlee and he would have to be in London on the following Thursday for the elections and that they would take Eden with them. They would be back for the evening sitting on July 27. "Or some of us will be back," he added.

At the eighth session of the heads of government, on July 24, we were again dealing with the question of peace treaties and interim arrangements with Italy and the other satellites.

The bitterest debate of the conference now developed, the point at issue being that Stalin wanted us to recognize the puppet governments he had installed in the satellite countries overrun by the Russian armies.

Stalin Speaks of 'Leprous States.'

Stalin said an abnormal distinction was being drawn between Italy and the other satellite states, as if Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland belonged in the category of leprosy states. In such a distinction, he saw a danger that attempts would be made to discredit the Soviet Union, and asked whether the Italian Government was any more democratic or responsible than the governments of the other countries. No democratic elections had been held in Italy, he said.

I replied to Stalin that everybody had free access to Italy—the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union and other nations—but we had not been able to have free access to Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary, and had not been able to get information concerning them. When Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary were set up on a basis giving us free access to them, I declared, then we would recognize them, but not sooner. I said I was asking for the reorganization of the other satellite governments along democratic lines, as had been agreed upon at Yalta.

Stalin objected to the words, "responsible and democratic governments," in the draft, saying that they should be deleted since they served to discredit these countries.

Churchill said that with regard to Romania, and particularly to Bulgaria, the British knew nothing. Their mission in Bucharest, he asserted, had been penned up with a closeness approaching internment.

Stalin broke in to ask if it were really possible for Churchill to cite such facts that had not been verified.

Churchill said that the British knew this by their representatives there. An iron fence, he charged, had come down around them.

'All Fairy Tales,' Says Stalin.

Stalin interrupted to exclaim, "All fairy tales." Churchill rejoined that statesmen could call one another's statements fairy tales if they wished. He expressed complete confidence in his representatives in Bucharest and said that the conditions in the British mission there had caused him the greatest distress.

I said that in the case of the United States, we had been much concerned about the many difficulties encountered by our missions in Romania and Bulgaria.

The exchange continued sharp and lengthy, and I suggested that the question again be referred to the foreign ministers for redrafting.

Next on the agenda was a renewal of the discussion regarding the Black Sea Straits.

Churchill said he understood that it was agreed that freedom in the Black Sea Straits should be approved and guaranteed by the Big Three and other powers. He observed that my proposal to join in an organization to free the waterways of the world was, to his mind, a remarkable and important fact.

Churchill said he hoped that the guarantee proposed by the President would be considered by Stalin as more than a substitute for fortification of the Straits.

Molotov asked whether the Suez Canal was under the same international control as was proposed for the Black Sea Straits.

Churchill observed that this question had not been raised.

Molotov retorted, "I'm raising it." If it was such a good rule, he said, why not apply it to the Suez?

Churchill explained that the British had an arrangement with which they were satisfied and under which they had operated for some seventy years without complaints.

Molotov charged that there had been a lot of complaints. "You should ask Egypt," he said.

Eden intervened to point out that Egypt had signed the treaty with England.

Molotov said that the British had asserted that international control was better.

Molotov did a lot of talking at Potsdam. He would take the bit in his teeth and talk as if he were the Russian state, until Stalin would smile and say a few words to him in Russian, and he would change his tune.

I often felt that Molotov kept some facts from Stalin, or that he would not give him all the facts until he had to. It was always harder to get an agreement out of Molotov than out of Stalin. Where Stalin could smile and relax at times, Molotov always gave the impression that he was constantly pressing.

STEVENSON LEADS NIXON, TRAILS WARREN IN POLLS

that was conducted just before the President's illness:

EISENHOWER vs. STEVENSON
(September, 1955)

Eisenhower — 59% 61%
Stevenson — 37 39
Undecided — 4 —

Two factors must be kept in mind in interpreting trial heat results:

1. By its nature, a trial heat reflects the popularity of candidates to a greater extent than the popularity of the parties. In all United States elections, both candidate popularity and party strength are important.

2. The survey is based on how people say they would vote if a presidential election were being held today.

GIRL IN ASSAULT CASE DISQUALIFIED AS WITNESS

The state expected to conclude presentation of evidence in the court of Circuit Judge Fred E. Mueller at Clayton today in the case of Jess Solomon Ivey, Valley Park ironworker charged with criminally assaulting a 15-year-old girl in a parked automobile last March 21 near Tyson Valley Park.

Judge Mueller last night disqualified the girl as a witness after she gave confused answers as to whether she knew a truth from a lie. Earlier in the trial Ivey, 50 years old, who previously had been offered a 15-year sentence if he would plead guilty, spoke out in court to his counsel, saying: "Plead me out, I'll take 15 years."

The jury of 10 men and two women was sent from the room. Judge Mueller questioned the defendant and finally explained to him that the court, in view of the fact that Ivey insisted he was innocent, could not accept a plea of guilty. On the same grounds, the court-appointed counsel, Charles M. Shaw, said he could not offer such a plea. The state has indicated it would seek the death penalty.

HURRICANE KATIE FADING OUT

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—Hurricane Katie, rain and wind far out in the Atlantic today and spread out into an area of squalls.

The season's eleventh tropical storm was last reported about 330 miles south-southwest of Bermuda and 850 miles east of the Florida coast. It was spinning north-northeast at about 21 m.p.h., but had winds of only 40 miles an hour near the center.

ANTI-NOISE BILL IN COUNTY HAS REVERSE EFFECT

St. Louis county residents have been making so much noise about the anti-noise ordinance, approved by the county council a week ago, that Supervisor Luman F. Matthews said he would return it to the council today for some extensive revisions.

One letter-writer, objecting to the provision barring animals or fowls whose bark, cheer or cluck can be heard 100 feet away, said it would be "impossible to own anything but a chihuahua" and still remain a county resident. Another said the attempt to prohibit a man from driving a nail in his own home on Sunday "is absurd."

Matthews, with the approval of the bill's sponsor, Councilman Harold D. Carey, said it needed "extensive modification. It sets no standards for enforcement."

The supervisor, who got about 25 letters and 50 telephone calls about the measure, said at least one person was content. He called to learn when the ordinance would become effective, "so I can get rid of that noisy dog next door."

U.S. CONCILIATORS SEEK TO SPEED BELL CO. TALKS

Federal conciliators planned today to meet separately with representatives of the CIO Communications Workers of America and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in an effort to expedite negotiations between the two for a new contract.

Frank P. Lonergan, assistant director of the union's District 6, accused the company of "reverting to stalling tactics" after a negotiating session yesterday. Negotiations began July 20. The union's primary contract expired Aug. 28.

Union members have authorized a strike at the discretion of their negotiating committee. The union seeks wage increases averaging 10 cents an hour. The company has offered 5½ cents for some classes of employees.

TYPHOON LASHES OKINAWA

TOKYO, Oct. 19 (UP)—Typhoon Opal today lashed Okinawa with torrential rains and driving winds, forcing suspension of all military and civilian operations on the American island bastion in the Pacific.

There were no reports of casualties. Some 40,000 American servicemen and civilians and their dependents took refuge from the storm in typhoon-resistant buildings.

WORK IS RESUMED ON AIRPORT BUILDING

Jurisdictional Dispute to Be Settled by Officials of Two Unions.

Construction work on the new $5,000,000 administration building at Lambert-St. Louis Field was resumed today, although the dispute between electricians and sheet metal workers, which caused a work-stoppage Monday, has not been finally settled, a union spokesman said.

Frank Jacobs, international vice president of the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, who was out of town when the electricians pulled all switches and walked off the job, returned yesterday and ordered the men back to work.

He said the jurisdictional dispute between the electricians and sheet metal workers over the installation of a plastic cell-ing would be worked out by officials of the two unions.

The walkout of four electricians forced 100 other workmen off the job. Joseph Latta, of the L. & R. Construction Co., the general contractor, said pulling the switches could have been extremely dangerous if someone other than an electrician had tried to turn them back on.

The new building was started in the spring of 1953 and is expected to be in use by Jan. 1.

ADENAUER BETTER, LEAVES BED FOR THE FIRST TIME

BONN, Oct. 19 (UP)—Chancellor Adenauer is making "good and hopeful progress" and is being allowed out of bed for brief periods, members of his household said today.

Adenauer left his bed for one hour last night for the first time since he fell ill with an attack of bronchial pneumonia two weeks ago. He was not permitted to leave his room, however.

He walked from his bed to a chair, where he read newspapers. He was wrapped in a blanket and wore a warm dressing gown over his pajamas.

HIGH SCHOOL PAPER STAFFS JOIN IN PRESS PROJECT

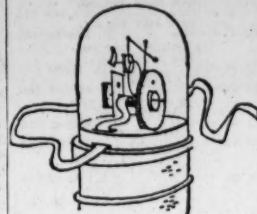

Eighty staff members of city and county high school newspapers participated yesterday in a press project sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and Tuberculosis and Health Society of St. Louis. Student newspapers and community newspapers which have student columns were asked to feature articles or cartoons on the subjects "Tuberculosis, the Unnecessary Disease," or "Tuberculosis Control and Your Future."

Representatives of the school papers toured the Post-Dispatch and Globe-Democrat buildings yesterday before attending a press conference conducted by James R. Conant, a reporter for More than a year ago, one of our foremost clothing makers went abroad to buy suit worsteds from some of England's most famous mills. Not to be tailored into ready-made units . . . too costly! No . . . these individual imported worsteds were bought only to be copied at lower cost by American mills.

Of course, this superb "sample" yardage was available after it had been copied . . . and could logically be charged off below cost. Thus, these suits can be priced far under their worth. Here is all the superb craftsmanship—all the individualized smartness you could want . . . at only 74.00.

Careful, Continental craftsmanship gives these fabrics their luxury-laden appeal—American know-how brings them to you at this price!

The European feeling of "deep rich luxury" is transmitted in these fine fabrics: crisp, clear Worsteds, rich Saxons, classic Herringbones, luxurious Silk and Wools, subdued Checks. Two and three button single breasted with flap pockets and center vent. Refreshing as a trip abroad.

10-VILLAGE MERGER OPPOSED AT MEETING

Resolution by Affton C. of
C. President Withdrawn
Before Vote.

Opposition to the proposed incorporation of Affton, Lemay, Gardenville and seven other nearby communities as a city was voiced by village trustees and fire district directors last night at a public meeting sponsored by the Affton Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting, held at Al's Restaurant, 9012 Gravois road, ended after an hour when proponents of the proposal said they did not know the answers to many questions put by the opposition.

A resolution calling for indorsement of the incorporation proposal was introduced by R.

C. Cooper, president of the Aff-ton Chamber of Commerce, but was withdrawn by him before it came to a vote.

Clarence Streib, chairman of a committee of business men favoring incorporation, told the approximately 100 persons at the meeting that a sudden increase in school enrollments and a rash of burglaries in south St. Louis county prompted the proposal.

Among those who spoke against incorporation was Al P.
Wedel, chief of the Gardenville volunteer fire department.

The seven smaller communities in the areas of the proposed city are: Mackenzie, Wilbur Park, St. George, Marlborough, Lakeshire, Bella Vista and Grantwood.

Conant Believes Aptitude Tests May Decide Scholarship Choices

Thinks 'Book Knowledge' in Conventional Examination May No Longer Be Determining Factor.

BONNY, Oct. 19 (UP) — Dr. James B. Conant believes a system of "aptitude tests" may have to replace the conventional tests of "book knowledge" to choose candidates for the unprecedented number of college scholarships to be offered in the United States.

Dr. Conant, for 20 years president of Harvard University now United States Ambassador to West Germany, was asked for his views on the creation of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. which will provide a minimum of 350 scholarships for students selected competitively from the country's 25,000 secondary schools. The corporation, backed by an initial grant of $20,000,000 from the Ford Foundation, aims ultimately at a target of 4000 scholarships a year.

One of the most significant implications of the scholarship program, in Conant's view, is the necessity to work out a satisfactory method for selecting candidates.

"Because such a large percentage of American youth is enrolled in high schools — a much larger percentage than in most European countries — it may be necessary to devise special methods for selecting scholarship students," he said.

New Method.

"Instead of using methods which are quite orthodox in Europe, where the examinations are based on the content of school courses, it may be necessary to conduct some form of aptitude tests."

"Such tests would bring out the real capacities of the student and reduce the hazards of the particular type of schooling methods to which he had been exposed."

Conant recalled that he had proposed a national scholarship program for Harvard University when he made his first report to the board of overseers as president there in 1934.

"The whole idea of providing some assistance to able students from families with limited financial means was given a big boost by the G.I. bill," the educator said. "Since then much has been done to convince the United States public of the importance of supplementing special talents through a period at college."

He said there was considerable worry a generation ago that the privately-endowed colleges with necessarily high tuition fees would find their students limited to sons and daughters of well-to-do families, while state colleges and universities would become institutions solely for students of moderate means.

"This danger was foreseen at least 25 years ago," Conant recalled. "It would have resulted in two separate types of institution of higher education based on differences in family income, which would be very unfortunate."

A Broader Base.

"The danger was recognized by educational leaders and many of us have been working on it for 25 years. It was this danger that helped give birth to the drive for a broader base for our school system."

Conant does not believe the new scholarship plan will seriously increase the pressure on already-overcrowded colleges and universities.

"The number of scholarship students will be too small to add to this problem, he said."

"The big wave of new students resulting from the sharp increase in birth rate immediately after the war will hit the colleges in about 10 years. There will be about twice as many potential students then as there were three or four years ago."

"I believe the way to meet this problem is not to double the size of the existing universities and colleges but to double the number of two-year colleges."

Already, Conant said, about 50 per cent of students leave college after two years anyway. He believes many people who go to college for a general education would get as good a one in a two-year college as he would in a four-year college.

LOTTERY CHARGES PLANNED IN INQUIRY AT ROCK ISLAND

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (UP) — Charges of promotion of a lottery will be filed against Jesse (Peg) Ganaway, Rock Island, in the investigation of a $143,000-a-year Quad Cities numbers racket. State's Attorney Bernard J. Moran said Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Moran continued his investigation of the racket, which he said netted its operators $83,000 a year. The headquarters of the numbers operation was in Davenport, Ia., just across the Mississippi river, Moran said. The headquarters have been raided by Davenport police, but they reported that nothing was found to indicate gambling operations.

Moran said the racket was known as the "P and G." Runners or salesmen were paid 25 per cent of what they collected, and daily payoffs averaged 10 per cent of the take, Moran said. Bets were accepted from 10 cents through $1.25, he said. Moran credited Rock Island Police Chief Claus Miller with collecting information that led to the investigation.

Antiproton, Matter-Destroying Particle, Finally Is Discovered

Sought for Generation by Scientists, It Constitutes No Threat as Super Weapon.

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Atomic science took another big step forward today with the announcement of the discovery of a particle which annihilates the basic unit of all matter.

The discovery was made in experiments utilizing the University of California's biggest atom smasher, the bevatron. It was announced jointly last night by Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence, famed nuclear scientist, and the Atomic Energy Commission, which financed the $9,500,000 machine.

The new particle, sought for a generation by researchers, is the antiproton. Although it is a powerful annihilator of matter, it constitutes no threat as a super weapon, no new hazard to the world.

Instead, it opens up the way for exciting new discoveries about the nature of matter. Conceivably some of these may lead to great new practical achievements of the future.

Its immediate value, said Prof. Lawrence, is that it clears up some of the uncertainties in the theory of nuclear structure. In this respect, he added, it is comparable to the filling in of a key word in a cross-word puzzle—it permits the operator to go ahead.

Could Step Up Atomic Power.

In Washington, a nuclear physicist said discovery of the antiproton increases the prospects of releasing—in controlled fashion—vastly greater energy from the atom than now is possible by the fission process.

The physicist, not associated with the Atomic Energy Commission, said the discovery improves the chances of tapping energy from the nuclear heart of the atom by an "annihilation process" rather than by fission or "atom splitting."

"What you would have to do," the scientist said, "would be to devise some means of getting a steady stream of antiproton particles and use them to bombard the atomic nuclei so they would strike protons. These would be annihilated and perhaps 99 per cent of the matter involved in the annihilation would be released as energy."

In the fission process only about one-tenth of 1 per cent of the total mass is converted to energy, and yet that produces A-bomb explosion.

The new particle is the antiproton or negatively charged proton. It is the counterpart of the proton, which carries a positive electrical charge and is the main building block of all the elements in nature.

The antiproton, a solid particle of matter, weighs 1800 to 2000 times as much as the electron, a tiny charge of electricity which normally circulates around the nucleus of an atom.

A team which included Dr. Owen Chamberlain, Dr. Emilio Segre, Dr. Clyde Wiegand and Dr. Thomas Ypsilantis produced the new particle by bombarding a copper atom with ordinary protons of very high energy, 6.2 billion volts.

Collide and Vanish.

Out of this bombardment, they said, came a proton pair, one positively charged, the other negative. They shot out at a speed of better than 100,000 miles per second. They traveled only a few feet, then collided and vanished.

Just what happened in this disappearance is not yet known, Dr. Segre said, but they probably turned into mesons, which are shortlived breakdown products of atomic disintegration, then into X-rays, which are energy as distinguished from matter.

Hereafter scientists have sought the antiproton in cosmic rays high above the earth. These rays include speeding atomic particles having energies even greater than the bevatron can produce, and are good projectiles for atom smashing.

Reports for possible antiproton discoveries have been made by the cosmic ray experts. One of them, Dr. Marcel Schulin of the University of Chicago, reported in July 1954 recordings of a cosmic ray "event" high over Texas which he believed to involve the annihilation of a particle of matter by an antiproton. Other researchers reported similar cosmic ray findings but the results were not conclusive.

Antiprotons, Dr. Lawrence said, are scarce articles. The big bevatron, working hard, produced only one every 15 minutes. The number of antiprotons in nature, however, is not important. The important thing, Lawrence said, is that antiprotons exist, giving scientists a firmer understanding of the atom and encouraging still greater research efforts.

When someone's counting on you...

you can count on life insurance

The look of trust in your youngster's face... the way your wife's eyes mirror her faith in you... these mean big responsibilities.

Your life insurance helps you meet these responsibilities. From the day you get a policy, your family is protected for the full amount of the contract. This is a unique feature of life insurance. Every year, about $35 millions are paid to American families as death benefits on policies less than a year old.

This is one of the reasons why you can count on life insurance... and why it is America's most widely used form of thrift.

A life insurance program can guarantee that money will be ready when the family needs it most... in case of the father's death... when the children go to college... to meet emergencies... for retirement. Using your life insurance wisely calls for experienced help. The best person to see, of course, is your own agent.

You'll also find many helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. A.

Yours free!

FRANCE WARNED BY WEST REICH ON SAAR FUTURE

Urges Neighbor Against Suppressing Pro-Germans if Europeanization Is Rejected.

By GASTON COBLENTZ
The New York Herald Tribune Post-Dispatch Special Staff

BONN, Oct. 19.—West German politicians and newspapers are warning France against suppressing the pro-German forces in the Saar again if the Saarlanders reject the Europeanization of their territory in the referendum on Sunday.

The French are being publicly cautioned from many quarters here that they would be risking an "explosion" if they tried to "recork the Saar bottle" after a rejection of the European plan by the German-speaking Saarlanders.

Rejection of the European scheme would amount to a vote by the Saarlanders to return to Germany after 10 years of detachment from the fatherland by the French.

No Provision.

The problem of what to do if the European plan is turned down arises because last year the Saar deal between West German Chancellor Adenauer and former French Premier Mendes-France made no provision for such an eventuality.

Their accord provided for the licensing of the pro-German parties in the Saar as one of the main preliminary measures prior to holding the referendum on the European project.

But in recent weeks there have been various statements and suggestions from official French quarters that the Saar would simply revert to the "status quo" if the European plan were turned down. That is, the Bonn-Paris Europeanization accord would have no further validity and things would continue under French control as before.

These statements by the French appeared to many Germans to carry an implication that the pro-German parties would promptly lose the liberties which they received under the Adenauer-Mendes-France accord.

Bonn Warnings.

As a result, West Germany is issuing warnings that such a move against the pro-Germans would mean trouble. For example, the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung said the free world would not remain silent if the French took such a step. The Saar Federation, a group of 65 West German parliamentary deputies of all parties, issued a similar declaration. So did former state secretary Otto Lenz, one of the top men in Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic party. In an interview at Strasbourg, these and other similar statements have made it clear that a French move against the pro-German parties after a rejection of the referendum would cause a violent reaction.

150 TERRORISTS REPORTED KILLED IN INDONESIA VOTING

JAKARTA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Government security forces sent to Celebes islands to protect the voting in Indonesia's first popular national elections were reported today to have killed 150 terrorists of the fanatic Moslem Darul Islam organization since Oct. 1. About 10,000 troops were reported on the island northeast of Java.

The state court of Jogjakarta in central Java meanwhile sentenced a parliamentary candidate named Sumantri to three months' imprisonment for voting twice.

Meanwhile, in the latest returns, the anti-Communist Moslem Masjumi party had cut the lead of the anti-western Nationalist party to less than 200,000. The Nationalists had 7,716,082; Masjumi 7,537,041; Moslem Orthodox Radicals 6,416,935, and Communists 5,953,244.

2 BREAK INTO OMAHA HOME, ROB WIDOW OF $145,000

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 19 (AP)—Two masked robbers smashed into the home of a banker's widow on Omaha's fashionable west side last night and fled with about $125,000 in jewelry and $20,000 in cash.

Mrs. Margaret W. Kellogg said the pair broke down a pair of French doors to enter the house, then battered open her bedroom door. At gunpoint they forced her to open a floor safe from which the jewelry and cash was taken, she said.

Among the items of jewelry taken was a $3000 diamond necklace Mrs. Kellogg had bought for a small, pet dog.

NEW BUDAPEST RESIDENTS NEED INTERIOR MINISTRY OK

VIENNA, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Hungarian Communist cabinet has decreed that new residents of Budapest be approved first by the Interior Ministry, the Budapest radio announced.

Previously, the only permission needed was that from the city council, the broadcast added.

The Reds want to stem migration from rural areas to the cities to boost Hungary's ailing agriculture. The same controls have already been announced in other Soviet bloc states in southeast Europe.

Granted Leave for U.S. Job.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The University of Buffalo yesterday granted a 14-month leave of absence to its chancellor, Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, whose presidential appointment as assistant secretary of defense for research and development is expected momentarily.

RAT POISON IS HELD CAUSE OF DEATH OF TWO CHILDREN

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19 (AP)—The coroner ruled yesterday that rat poison killed the two Baughman youngsters who, according to neighbors, scrounged in garbage cans for scraps of food.

Charges of criminal neglect have been filed against the children's parents, William and Helen Baughman. The victims, William, 6 years old and Lawrence, 7, died Thursday in charity hospital. Coroner Nicholas J. Chetta said accidental phosphorous poison ingestion caused death. It was not known for certain how the children came upon the poison. The coroner said a jar of mustard found under the Baughmans' residence did not contain any trace of the rat poison.

CROP RESEARCH NOW SAID TO STRESS QUALITY

Nutritive Aspects Instead of Quantity
New Goal, U.S. Official Reports.

American scientists now are giving less emphasis to high agricultural crop yields and more to improving the nutritional content of food produced.

K. S. Quisenberry of the Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, said here today.

Quisenberry addressed the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the American Dietetic Association at Kiel Auditorium. More than 3500 persons are attending the convention, which will continue through Friday.

He said much more needed to be learned about the effect of farm chemicals on the nutritive value and acceptance of foods. The field is new, and most results thus far are to be considered preliminary, he told his audience.

One of the most promising recently introduced foreign crops, Quisenberry said, is the acerola, or West Indian cherry. This fruit resembles a tiny red crabapple, and is said to have a vitamin C content 25 times higher than that of orange juice.

The extraordinary qualities of the West Indian cherry were discovered at the experiment station of the University of Puerto Rico, Quisenberry said. The Department of Agriculture is distributing stock to growers in Florida and Hawaii. The acerola already has found use as an ingredient in baby food.

Quisenberry said experiments with turnip greens in Georgia had revealed that plants grown on certain soils apparently produced vitamin B12, a vitamin formerly found only in animal products. This may open the door to new techniques for treating soils, he said.

As the nation's population grows, and the proportion of farm land and farm workers continues to shrink, the speaker said, "we will have to work harder than ever to make each acre produce its maximum of high quality foods... whether they come to us directly or through livestock products."

Meat Supply.

The job of continuing to supply people with enough meat in the years to come was discussed last night by B. S. Schweigert, associate professor of biochemistry at the University of Chicago. He said a steady increase of 158,000,000 pounds of beef each year was needed to supply that food alone.

Schweigert said extensive experiments were being conducted in feeding a large quantity of "roughage," such as corn cobs, corn stalks and straw, to cattle and sheep. In this way, it is hoped to cut down the consumption by animals of concentrate feeds, such as corn, that are useful as human food. The trouble is, Schweigert said, that the roughage diet tends to produce leaner, tougher meat. He said scientists were trying to find ways of obtaining tender meat without the expensive, wasteful procedure of "finishing" animals for market by heavy use of food-valuable grain.

Schweigert emphasized that meat from lean, utility-grade animals actually is richer in protein, mineral and vitamins than is meat from fat, choice-grade stock. The lower protein in choice-grade, expensive meat is due in part to its higher fat content, he said.

Talk on Diabetes.

Another speaker last night, Dr. James M. Hundley of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., said the United States was the "unhealthiest nation in the world" in so far as the ailment diabetes was concerned. He said one cause of this appears to be that so many Americans are overweight.

Dr. Hundley, pointing out that England has only a quarter the incidence of diabetes that this country has, said Americans tend to be four to 10 pounds heavier than English people. Not only that, but as they grow older, Americans tend to get fatter, proportionately, than do Englishmen.

The use of hypnosis as a means of inducing surgical patients to eat was described by Dr. Morris J. Fogelman, associate professor of surgery at the University of Texas. He said the technique was superior to use of drugs and other methods.

DIVORCE OVERLOOKED, WIFE MAY INHERIT $260,000

RIVERHEAD, N.Y., Oct. 19 (AP) — A Brooklyn housewife stood a chance today of inheriting the $260,000 from the estate of a husband who walked out on her 38 years ago.

The woman, Mrs. Myra R. Duck, 55 years old, remarried in 1938 in the belief she had a divorce from her first husband, Helge Nelson. Not until his death last April did she learn there never was a divorce.

Thus she may be Nelson's legal widow, and as such entitled under New York law to half of his $500,000 estate plus $10,000.

FOSSIL DEER DISCOVERED

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (AP) — Reindeer fossils believed to have belonged to animals once roaming the northern part of Michigan's lower Peninsula some 11,000 years ago, have been found in a Cheboygan county gravel pit.

The fossils of legs and antlers of a caribou, or reindeer, probably came from an animal buried in an outwash of sand and gravel from one of two glaciers which covered the area, Dr. A. H. Stockard of the University of Michigan Biological department

CHAMPAGNE TRAIL RAILROAD RUNS THROUGH GRAPE SECTION

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bath & Hammondsport Railroad, only nine miles long, has the nickname The Champagne Trail.

This railroad, strictly a local enterprise, is located in the heart of the Finger Lakes region of New York state.

The title, Champagne Trail, is no misnomer. The line serves chiefly the wine and grape industry in and around Hammondsport and the Keuka Lake grape belt. It hauls glass bottles into the area and takes them out filled with wine.

The B&H line was originally built in 1875 as a narrow gauge to connect Hammondsport with the six-foot gauge Erie at Bath. Today it is standard gauge and has 10 full-time employees with road and equipment investment of $160,000.

INDIA RESORT 400 YEARS OLD

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)—Kashmir, despite political unrest and the unsettled Indian-Pakistan dispute for its control, is still India's top tourist attraction. A record 40,000 tourists visited Kashmir valley last season. There were only 1480 foreigners, the rest Indians.

It has been the Queen of summer resorts in India for 400 years. It was first discovered by the Moghul emperors. The British preferred nearby, easily accessible Simla, 200 miles north of Delhi, for their summer capital; but went to Srinagar for a real holiday.

Russian Auto Plant Shows How Reds Rely on U.S. Equipment

American Machine Tools at Molotov Works Wearing Out — Illustrate Reason Behind Drive for Trade.

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS

GORKY, U.S.S.R., Oct. 19- A visit to the heavy machinery section of Russia's largest automobile factory, the Molotov works, located on the outskirts of this historic city, gives a striking display of how heavily the Russians have been relying on foreign equipment, especially American. It also offers eloquent evidence as to the background of Russia's current drive for more trade with the West.

As the Molotov plant director himself said, the big machine tools from Detroit, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, etc., are worn out and need replacement. Most of them were acquired either in the late 1930s, during World War II, or directly thereafter.

"We would like very much to get some new equipment from America or, in fact, from any place where it is obtainable," the director said.

A visit to the plant also demonstrates the difficulty of applying Western standards in judging whether certain exports to the Soviet Union are vital to this country.

It is often argued in the West, for instance, that there should be a relaxation on strategic goods shipments to Russia because the total amount of goods involved is so "marginal" that it can't make any real difference.

A Very Big Difference.

Certainly in a nation like the United States, where millions of cars are produced yearly, the total number of machine tools used in the Molotov auto works, for example, would be insignificant. But in this austere economy the American machines undoubtedly have made the difference between Russia's ability to produce a few thousand Pobedas — a four-door medium-priced passenger car produced at the Molotov plant, and several hundred thousand Pobedas a year. In Russian terms, it is a very big difference.

This doesn't mean that the Russians can't produce their own machine tools. It does mean that export of American machine tools to Russia and their use in the civilian economy made it possible for the Russians to concentrate their efforts in the machine tool line in their priority production—the defense industry—on such products as the new turbojet intercontinental bomber.

By contrast to the heavy machine section, most of the light machinery, as well as assembly line tools appear to have been made in Russia.

Famous Molotov Trucks.

In addition to the Pobeda, which is about equivalent to the 1936 Ford or Chevrolet, the Molotov works puts out a luxury passenger car called the Zim, and the famous Molotov trucks. These first came into prominence in north India.

Soviet delivery of trucks to Communist Viet Minh transformed that army into a mobile one almost overnight.

Total production of the Molotov factory, which is manned by 44,000 workers, is about 200,000 vehicles a year. Slightly more than two-thirds of the vehicles are Pobedas.

The high proportion of foreign-made machine tools has impressed all visitors who have toured Soviet factories. The fact that many of these machines are now wearing out doesn't by any means suggest that industry would come to a standstill if imports from the West are not made possible. But have to take raw materials and industrial capacity from defense and other heavy industry in order to devote its additional resources to its civilian economy.

That is why foreign observers believe the Russians are pressing so hard at the moment for increased trade with the West, as well as the right to buy heavy machines now on the list of materials which may not be sold to the Soviet Union.

3 COLLEGES BAR FOOTBALL GAME LIQUOR-DRINKING

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 19

(UP)—Vermont's three football-playing colleges have barred liquor drinking at football games involving their teams.

Presidents of the colleges said in a statement that "possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages is not permitted at football games held under the auspices of the colleges represented."

The statement was signed by Samuel S. Stratton, president of Middlebury; Gen. Ernest N. Harmon, president of Norwich; and Carl W. Borgmann, president of the University of Vermont.

1 Medical science knows that a pain reliever must go through the stomach and into the blood stream to relieve pain.

2 Bufferin combines aspirin with two antacid ingredients. These speed the pain reliever out of the stomach and into the blood stream twice as fast as aspirin. So...

3 Bufferin acts twice as fast as aspirin to relieve pain. And it won't upset your stomach as aspirin often does.

Ask your own doctor about Bufferin's remarkable ability to relieve pain and its freedom from harmful ingredients.

8 years of continuous medical research in hospitals and clinics have established Bufferin's effectiveness and speed of action. Bufferin has met the same rigid tests a doctor demands of medicines used in his own practice.

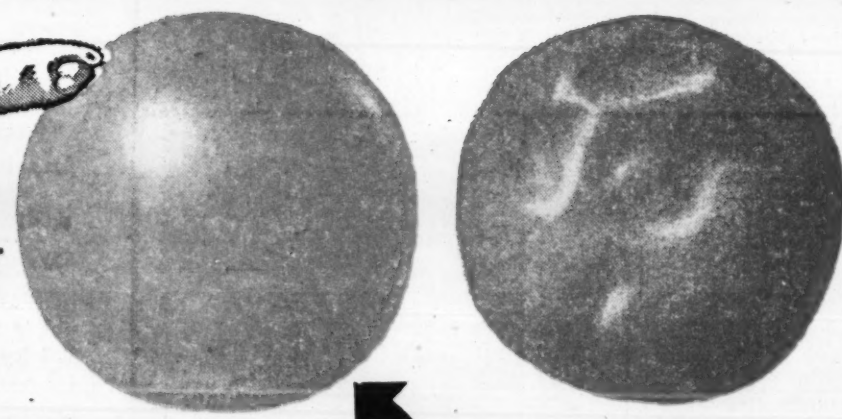

These tests prove the antacid ingredients in Bufferin speed the pain-relieving ingredient into the blood stream twice as fast as aspirin. They also protect you from the upset stomach aspirin often causes.

So, for effective, fast relief from headaches, discomfort of colds, neuralgia and ordinary muscular aches and pains use the modern pain reliever... BUFFERIN.

Keough Swings, Misses $32,000 Question; Is Out in Convertible

PATRICK KEOUGH in convertible automobile he won last night in New York as consolation prize on a television quiz show.

St. Louis Baseball Quiz Expert Has Only Long, Low Auto to Show for His Try.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—Patrick J. Keough will return to his home in St. Louis tonight with nothing to show for his five weeks as a contestant on a television quiz show except a shiny new, long, low convertible automobile and a slightly deflated reputation as a baseball expert.

He drove off the stage last night in the chauffeur-driven machine with a broad grin and a happy wave to the television audience, apparently unperturbed at losing the $32,000 question. Some people in the audience, however, murmured solicitously, because Keough missed only the sixth part of a six-part question.

Hal March, master of ceremonies on the Columbia Broadcasting System show "The $64,000 Question," asked the 62-year-old St. Louisan to name the baseball player who holds the record batting average for three different major league baseball teams, the names of the teams and the player's record with each team.

Keough, standing in a sound-proof booth, correctly named Rogers Hornsby as the player and the St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves as the teams. He got 424 as Hornsby's record with the Cardinals and 387 as his record with the Braves, but on the Cubs he was stumped. He said the answer was either 383, 387 or 389.

"I'm sorry, Paddy," March said. "It was exactly 380." Then March added, "I've been dreading this moment since the program began."

Thus Keough became the first loser at a prize level above $8000 in the 20 weeks the program has been on television.

In St. Louis, Keough's son, Harry J. Keough, who was watching the show last night, said there was "too much detail" in the question. Keough, who lives at 5021 Nottingham avenue, is assistant plant manager of the Great Lakes Carbon Corp. and has been studying the records of baseball players since childhood.

Two other contestants on the program answered $16,000 questions last night. They were Don E. Self, physicist of El Paso, Tex., whose category is mythology, and the Rev. Alvin B. Ker-shaw, rector of Holy Trinity

URGES FEDERAL DEBT CUT BEFORE REDUCTION OF TAXES

DETROIT, Oct. 19 (AP)—The staff director of the Senate House Economic Committee said today reduction of the federal debt should precede any new general tax reductions.

Grover W. Ensley, the director, expressed this personal view in a speech for the forty-eighth annual conference of the National Tax Association. Ensley said it appeared the time was rapidly approaching when federal revenues will exceed spending. That is because, he said, expenditures including the all-important defense outlays are being stabilized at current levels, while tax receipts continue to climb in a booming economy.

But "the emergency of such a surplus in the coming year should not lead necessarily to the conclusion that it automatically justifies tax reductions," the economist said. "A tax cut next January in the face of a booming economy would be inflationary."

"With total demand for goods and services pressing capacity today, and with little likelihood of reducing federal demand at any foreseeable time, consistent fiscal policy would apply the surpluses to reducing the 227 billion dollar public debt."

EX-P.O.W. ON TRIAL CALLED POOR SOLDIER, UNRELIABLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19 (UP)—Two former superiors of Cpl. Thomas Bayes Jr., described the Flat Lick (Ky.) man as a "poor soldier" and the "most unreliable man I've ever met" at his court-martial trial yesterday.

The testimony of Lt. Col. Oliver I. West and M-Sgt. Sidney C. Tegner was intended to counteract Bayes' own character witnesses, who have described him as a brave man, a great gunner and an "average" soldier.

Bayes, 32 years old, is charged with collaborating with the Communists while he was a prisoner of war in Korea.

State Department Bars Detroit To Visiting Red Journalists

Action Based on Russian Refusal to Let Americans Tour Industrial Centers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The State Department has refused to permit seven touring Soviet newspaper men to visit Detroit.

Officials reported today they rejected a request for permission to tour the Detroit area on the ground the city is off-limits to Russians.

The Russian journalists, now visiting New York where they arrived Monday, were reminded that the Soviet Government has barred visits by Americans to Russian industrial centers.

The refusal was about a month ago. State Department officials said the Soviet group accepted it without protest.

The action was taken under the "off-limits decree" declared by the United States last Jan. 3. This closed 27 per cent of the United States land area, including parts of 39 states, to Soviet visits.

The United States issued the decree because an estimated 30 per cent of the Soviet Union is closed to travel by American citizens or other foreigners.

The State Department could have made an exception for the Soviet journalists.

A Soviet farm delegation which visited the United States from July 14 to Aug. 20 was in fact permitted to visit some barred cities and areas.

At present, the Soviet reporters are scheduled to visit Cleveland, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Phoenix and Washington, D.C. All of these are "open cities" under the off-limits decree.

The Soviet group probably will be allowed to visit one barred city, Evanston, Ill., to allow them to tour Northwestern University's School of Journalism.

Russian Journalists Visit Wall Street.

THEY'RE AT MARRYING AGE

LONDON (INS)—American servicemen's wives in Britain think the main reason United States military men are taking English brides at an increasing rate is because they are at "the marrying age." The women voiced this opinion in response to a statement by an Air Force general that American servicemen are now marrying British girls at the rate of 250 a month.

of the millions of American jobs is an average capital investment of $13,700.

One of the six visitors then asked, why had not the United States been able to control the business cycle?

Funston said a free economy in which prices go up and down according to the law of supply and demand has advantages that outweigh any disadvantages from slumps.

ARKANSAS MAN CHARGED IN STEPDAUGHTER'S DEATH

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Bill Downen, 28-year-old aluminum plant worker, was charged with first degree murder Monday in the killing of his stepdaughter.

Martha Jackson, 14, was killed by a blow on the head. Her body, clad in a school dress and weighted with a concrete block, was thrown into an abandoned well. Downen signed a statement Saturday that he hit the girl with a rock. He led officers to the well near his home, and her body was pulled from 18 feet of water.

Prosecutor H. A. Tucker said that after Downen's arraignment Wednesday he would ask that Downen be committed to the state hospital for a sanity examination. Downen was moved to jail here. He had been kept since his confession in jail in Malvern, with his whereabouts a secret to prevent possible violence.

CZECH LABOR SHORTAGE

PARIS (INS)—Czechoslovakian exile circles in Paris say Czechoslovakia is suffering a rapidly growing labor shortage. It is estimated the country lacks 500,000 workers in industry and agriculture.

UNION DEMANDS JOB RETRAINING FOR AUTOMATION

AFL Man Tells Committee Many Workers Will Be Displaced and Will Need Help.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The AFL Office Employees Union, concerned that robots may displace "a lot of workers," is demanding that employers furnish job protection, retraining and liberal severance pay for victims of automation.

This was disclosed yesterday by Howard Coughlin, president of the union, who told a Senate-House economic subcommittee employers who embrace the new technology must accept "many new responsibilities."

His testimony was received just before the subcommittee called a five-day recess in its exploration of the possible need for legislation to cushion the effects on workers on the trend toward automatic processes in plants and offices.

Other Testimony. Two industry witnesses preceded Coughlin. Robert C. Tait, vice president of the Stromberg-Carlson Co., and Don G. Mitchell, chairman and president of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., testified that automation should be "speeded up" to avert a future labor shortage.

Tait told the investigators population gains and consumer demand will outrun the growth of the labor force for another decade.

"Automation in every conceivable direction, from the blueprint to the shipping dock, is the only answer," Tait said. "We desperately need automation to maintain our standard of living with the onrush of population increase."

Mitchell testified that automation "already has prevented a labor shortage," has created "an entire set of new industries," including electronics, and is providing "hundreds of thousands of new jobs that previously did not exist."

Not Predicting 'Dire Things'. Coughlin testified he does not subscribe to the view that "dire things lie ahead." But he said "a lot of people will lose their jobs. A lot of individuals will be forced to acquire new skills. There will be many new responsibilities faced on the employers of our country."

Coughlin said his union is insisting in new labor contract negotiations on provisions that senior workers displaced by machines may "bump" for lower rated jobs.

"Before that occurs," he said, "we are providing that such individuals, if displaced by virtue of the introduction of electronic equipment, be given opportunity to train for the automatic job."

"We are also providing that retraining programs be part and parcel of the company's policy. In the event of permanent termination, we are asking for and receiving a liberal severance pay program."

ROSS DICK MEETS DICK ROSS SHARING CONVENTION ROOM

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Ross Dick has always had trouble because both of his names sound like first names.

Dick said a hotel clerk at Detroit couldn't find his reservation.

"It's happened before," Dick said. "Why don't you look under Ross and see what you've got."

There it was, a room being held for Richard Ross. Dick awoke the next morning and found a strange man asleep in the other twin bed.

He rolled over and said: "Good morning. I'm Ross Dick."

"Oh, no," groaned the stranger. "Meet Dick Ross."

U.S. FIRMS SHOW INTEREST IN GUATEMALAN OIL RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—American oil firms are showing a "tremendous amount of interest" in oil exploration rights in Guatemala, a Guatemalan government consultant says.

Norman Meyers, a member of the law firm which helped prepare Guatemala's new oil code, said a "half dozen" American firms already have representatives on the spot in Guatemala.

The oil code permits foreign firms to make surface reconnaissance for oil in Guatemalan territory. They then may file for oil exploration rights on government land through a bidding system.

Dr. Schweitzer Receives Order Of Merit From Queen Elizabeth

Famed Philosopher, Musician and Missionary Only Foreigner Besides Eisenhower to Get Award.

LONDON, Oct. 19 (UP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, a man of many honors today received the Order of Merit from Queen Elizabeth II, the same decoration President Eisenhower and Sir Winston Churchill got for victory in World War II.

Schweitzer—philosopher, musician and medical missionary in Africa—went to Buckingham Palace to receive the decoration of "special distinction for eminent men and women."

Queen Elizabeth pinned on the golden medal, marked with oak leaves and topped by a crown, in a quiet private ceremony at the palace. It was Schweitzer's wish that there be no fanfare.

Later today Schweitzer goes to No. 10 Downing Street where Prime Minister Eden will add the government's plaudits to those of the Crown.

Only Two Foreign Members. Schweitzer is a native of Alsace. President Eisenhower, decorated by King George VI in 1945, is the only other foreign member of the order, which is limited to 24 Britons and additional foreign honorary members.

Schweitzer was so honored because he renounced the fame of a virtuoso musician at the age of 20 and the acclaim of a brilliant scholar at 30 to become a missionary to Africa. At 80, Schweitzer is one of the world's best-known, best-loved persons.

Schweitzer also holds the French Legion of Honor. He received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1952 and spent the $33,000 grant in enlarging his hospital in Lambarene, French equatorial Africa.

Schweitzer arrived here last weekend and immediately refused the city's big hotels. He moved into a dingy downtown neighborhood behind Westminster Abbey to stay with an old Alsatian friend, Emil Metter, who runs a teashop.

Not Recognized on Streets. Yesterday he strolled among the government buildings of Whitehall and no one on the streets recognized him. He was just another old man with flowing steel-gray hair and an untrimmed mustache, wearing a shabby dark overcoat. In tropical Africa he had no coat and refused a new one here.

He was guest of honor last night at a concert of the London Philharmonic Orchestra at the Royal Festival Hall. After-

DRIVER OF AUTO THAT KILLED SCHOOL GIRL NOT INDICTED

A St. Louis county grand jury returned a no true bill yesterday in the case of Gerald F. Crowley, 5434 Mardel avenue, whose automobile fatally injured 14-year-old Barbara Jean North, Lindbergh High School pupil. She was struck when crossing Highway 66 in Crestwood to board a school bus near her home.

Crowley, a cabinetmaker, was charged with criminal negligence by a coroner's jury. In returning a no true bill, the grand jury pointed out there is no school bus stop law in incorporated areas, unless such areas pass local ordinances to that effect.

Barbara Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert North, 9801 Highway 66, Crestwood, was struck by the machine Sept. 30. She died five days later in St. Anthony Hospital.

SCIENTISTS STUDY GIANT TOAD OF COLORADO RIVER

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Scientists at the University of California are studying a giant toad that can squirt poison 12 feet and devour rats and mice.

The researchers are trying to determine whether the toad normally uses the substance defensively as a spray technique. The poison, which has been reported volatile, may form poison gas when squirted.

Experiments in a tiny gas chamber with a skunk, however, have failed to prove the toad's poison is effective. The skunk is believed to be a natural predator of the toad.

The amphibian is known as the Colorado river toad because it is a native of the Colorado basin. It grows to a length of nearly a foot and only the marine toad of South America is larger.

ROAD DEPARTMENTS BUY TIPS OF WEATHER SERVICE

CHICAGO (UP)—Local government bodies responsible for road maintenance are turning to the use of private weather services, according to the American Public Works Association.

Mostly they contract for snow and ice forecasts so they will know when to send out snowplow or sanding crews, the association said. Some seek fog forecasts in order to set up signs reducing speed limits.

Other clients in the public service field are local transit companies that need to put storm control programs into operation.

The use of private weather services—by both business and government—largely has developed since the end of World War II.

FORECASTER OF 55 YEARS AGO CALLED TURN ON 1955

POTSDAM, N.Y. (UP)—A forecaster who made predictions 55 years ago apparently knew what he was talking about.

According to an old St. Lawrence county almanac, the summer of 1955 would be the "hottest of the century." It was.

And the forecaster said the winter of 1955 will be "mild." The forecasts, written for the almanac by a man named Dunne of the meteorologist bureau in Montgomery, Ala., covers the twentieth century.

ASC HEAD PICKED IN BOONE COUNTY AFTER OUSTER

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 19 (AP)—Robert Spiva of Hallsville became chairman of the Boone County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee yesterday and Ervin Brushwood of Columbia became a member. An election will be held tomorrow to name a third member.

Spiva and Brushwood, alternates, were elevated to the county committee posts after the state committee Monday fired the three member county committee composed of Lynn Drane, Harrisburg; Arrie Nichols, Ashland, and E. S. Wilcoxson, McBaine.

manager, said a third committee member and two alternates will be elected at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the county ASC meeting at which the chairman of each community committee will serve as the nominating and election committee.

Meanwhile, neither the ousted Boone county committee nor Murray C. Colbert, chairman of the state committee, had further comment on the firing, but Ralph Alexander, attorney for the ousted committee, said today that the action certainly will be called to the attention of the Senate agricultural subcommittee which is scheduled to hold a hearing Nov. 14 and 15 in Jefferson City on charges of "political manipulation" of the ASC program in Missouri.

13-YEAR-OLD BOY NAMED CHAMPION BREAD-MAKER

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—Peter Crissey of Syracuse, 13 years old, outscored 20 housewives from throughout New York state to win first prize in the baking competition at the 1955 state fair. Last year, he was second.

Peter's championship loaf of triple enriched bread won him a $150 sterling silver tray—and a 25-pound sack of flour.

Peter learned his baking skill from his grandfather.

KHRUSHCHEV, MOLOTOV MAP GENEVA PARLEY STRATEGY

MOSCOW, Oct. 19 (UP)—Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev has been conferring with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov during the last few days on a strategy at the forthcoming Big Four Geneva conference, authoritative sources said yesterday.

The sources said Khrushchev was "entirely satisfied by the explanations given by the minister of foreign affairs." Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin and other government officials are in the Crimea, while Molotov is in Moscow. The sources contradicted reports that Molotov had been isolated from Khrushchev, Bulganin and the others since his recent public apology for an ideological error.

AIR FORCE CLASH OVER PLANE SEAT ORDER CHARGED

Senator Johnson Says
One Branch Favored
Project, Then Another Vetoed It.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem., Texas), today described Pentagon handling of negotiations for the purchase of new type airplane seats as "a case history in frustration and confusion."

In a report as chairman of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, Johnson said the Military Air Transport Service persuaded six companies to design special type seats for MATS planes, then learned it could not get authority to buy them.

Johnson, who also is Senate Democratic leader, said investigation showed "an inexcusable absence of co-ordination" between two Air Force branches. He said the Office of Requirements encouraged the project, only to have the Office of Research and Development veto it. The project, the report said, was intended to obtain more comfortable seats for MATS aircraft.

Because of the greater emphasis placed upon safety, it said, "passenger seats in military planes are considerably heavier and for other reasons apparently less comfortable than their commercial airline counterparts."

The firms which designed the seats were listed as Aerosmith Inc. and Flight Equipment & Engineering Corp. of Miami; Hardman Tool & Equipment Co. of Los Angeles; Transport Equipment Co. of Burbank, Calif.; and Aerotherm Corp. of Bantam, Conn.

The report did not say how much the companies spent to develop and test the new seats. Subcommittee staff aids said the cost had not been determined exactly.

In a statement accompanying the report, Johnson said the sums "were relatively slight." However, he added, the "confusion and frustration reflected in this story is of tremendous importance."

The report recommended that Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles investigate "the apparent conflict" between the two Air Force branches, report his findings to the subcommittee and also tell the group "what action he has taken to prevent recurrences of such unauthorized procurement negotiations."

FIRING OF 3 BRAZIL GENERALS LINKED TO ELECTION ROW

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 19 (UP)—An army shakeup in which three generals were removed from key commands revived rumors today of a possible military coup against the winners in the Brazilian presidential elections.

Gen. Euclides Zenobio da Costa, inspector general of the army, headed the officers relieved of their commands by decrees signed by President Joao Cafe Jr. Two other generals were relieved and two generals and an admiral were shifted to new posts.

Da Costa was fired after his attack on army officers reported eager to prevent Juscelino Kubitschek and Joao Goulart from taking office as president and vice president.

Kubitschek and Goulart, regarded as the political heirs of the late President Getulio Vargas, were the apparent victors in the Oct. 3 elections although tabulation of the votes has not been completed.

GEORGIA OFFICIAL ACCUSES N.A.A.C.P. OF 'SUBVERSION'

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 19 (AP)—Georgia Attorney General Eugene Cook charged today that "subversion" is involved in the anti-segregation crusade of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He implied that he would seek to have the organization outlawed in the state.

In a presentation of what he called "the ugly truth about the N.A.A.C.P.," Cook declared that the organization is "misnamed" and that its real design is "to force upon the South the Communist-inspired doctrine of racial integration and amalgamation."

He said his statements were based on long investigation by his staff and the staffs of Representative Davis (Dem.), Georgia and Senator Eastland (Dem.), Mississippi. He added that he would welcome a chance to prove them in a court of law. In a speech for delivery before the Peace Officers Association of Georgia, he said he wanted to make clear that "the issue involved is one of race but rather of subversion."

STEVENSON, LEHMAN MEET ON NEW YORK POLITICS

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, talked politics yesterday with Senator Herbert H. Lehman (Dem.), New York.

The Senator, one of Stevenson's most outspoken supporters for next year's Democratic nomination for President, said they discussed the political situation in New York State and in other areas.

The visit gave rise to speculation that Lehman might serve as a political field marshal for Stevenson in New York. Lehman said he might have a new statement on the Democratic presidential situation "within the reasonably near future."

WARNS OF DANGER IN FOOD ADDITIVES

Consumers Research Chief Says Many Chemicals Used Are Not 'Definitely' Safe.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—A researcher said today that many chemicals used in manufactured foods "are not definitely known to be safe."

The statement was made by F. J. Schlink, president and technical director of Consumer Research, Inc., an organization which tests consumer goods, in an address before the annual National Safety Congress he said:

"It is an interesting and important fact that over 700 chemical additives are used in manufactured foods nowadays, and of these 40 per cent are not definitely known to be safe."

The figures cited by Schlink closely parallel testimony by a United States Food and Drug administration official in 1950 to a congressional investigating committee. The official said about 840 chemicals were used or proposed for use in food at that time, with 704 in actual use of which he said 428 were probably safe if used under normal conditions.

Schlink said, "The thoughtful consumer will avoid the use of untested substances in his foods and beverages, so far as he is permitted to choose."

The wise and conscientious manufacturer, more conscious than in the past of possible dangers in the use of substances which have not been exhaustively investigated, will resist the blandishments of the salesmen who are forever selling something "new and better" for food and beverage manufacture."

Schlink, of Washington, N.J., predicted that in the future more and more manufacturers will question assurances that additives with cryptic and fancy names, are just what are needed to make foods smoother and keep them fresh longer. He did not mention any specific chemical substances.

'LOST' WALLET DOES LOT OF GOING BEFORE IT'S FOUND

BROOKVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Mrs. G. Brent Doverspike of New Bethlehem stopped here for some ice cream one night. Forgetting she had laid her wallet on the fender of her automobile while waiting for change, she climbed into the car and drove home, a distance of some 20 miles.

Unable to find the wallet, Mrs. Doverspike telephoned the Brookville American to place a lost ad in the weekly newspaper.

Meanwhile, her son took the car for another trip of 30 miles. The next morning, Mrs. Doverspike said, a passerby spotted the wallet—still on the fender.

WILD GRASS BECOMES BIG REVENUE CROP FOR INDIA

BOMBAY (AP)—A type of grass which formerly grew wild and unwanted on the hills of Travancore, Cochin, India's southernmost state, has become one of that state's top foreign exchange earners.

It is lemon grass, from which an oil prized in the manufacture of perfumes and cosmetics is extracted. Last year India exported 736 tons of lemon grass oil worth 10,000,000 rupees ($2,100,000), most of it to the United States. Lemon grass is now cultivated on more than 35,000 acres of Travancore-Cochin land and a 20-acre experimental farm has been established by the government for research on the grass and the valuable oil it produces.

SOLDIERS CHEER PREMIER DIEM AFTER HIS FIRING

Move by Bao Dai Regarded as Final Effort to Avert Political Oblivion.

By JOHN RODERICK
RUNG SAT SWAMP, South Viet Nam, Oct. 19 (AP)—Battle-toughened "swamp rats" of the young Viet Name army hung from the branches of mangrove trees today to cheer Premier Ngo Dinh Diem a few hours after they heard Chief of State Bao Dai had defiantly fired him.

News of the absentee playboy's action in France reached the little nationalist leader at the end of an exhausting 22-hour trip into the Rung Sat marshes, 35 miles south of Saigon, where he acclaimed the army's final extermination of the Binh Xuyen rebels.

Spattered with mud and drenched by torrential rains, the Premier made no comment on Bao Dai's act, but his immediate entourage dismissed the move as an ineffectual eleventh hour attempt to save the emperor from political oblivion.

South Viet Nam's voters are expected to reject Bao Dai overwhelmingly as chief of state in a referendum next Sunday and to name Diem to the job.

With the destruction of the Binh Xuyen, Diem's prestige both with the army and the Viet Name population has climbed to its highest point since he took office in June 1954.

Only a few days before the referendum, Diem now has vanquished all his political and military enemies at home. The last was Pham Cong Tac, pope of the Cao Dai sect. Reliable sources said the old pro-Bao Dai leader abdicated his spiritual and military powers under military pressure last night.

A supreme council of the sect's hierarchy is reported to have assumed power temporarily.

Bao Dai Charges Diem Set Up Police State.

PARIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Former Emperor Bao Dai sent a message to the people of South Viet Nam today saying he was firing Premier Ngo Dinh Diem because Diem had set up a dictator-style police state.

Although Bao Dai, who has lived the last 19 months in France, ordered Diem out yesterday, his order was expected to have little effect.

Bao Dai in his message said he could no longer give "his name and his legitimacy to someone who plunges you into ruin, famine, and war."

He said he chose Diem as Premier because he hoped he could rally all patriots in the Viet Nam. Bao Dai also said he was influenced "by foreign friends who held great hopes" for Diem.

This apparently referred to United States backing for Diem, a Catholic anti-Communist leader.

Bao Dai said he had given Diem time to work things out, but the experiment had failed.

GRAND JURY LOOKING INTO ILLINOIS PINBALL MACHINES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 19—A grand jury in United States District Court here today opened its investigation of pinball machine gambling in central and southern Illinois. A tie-up between operations of pinball machines and syndicate gambling is being sought. United States Attorney John B. Stoddard Jr. announced.

Several operators of taverns, cafes and poolhalls where pinball machines were seized in simultaneous raids by Internal Revenue Service agents Oct. 3 have been called as witnesses. Stoddard said. Fifty-two pinball and slot machines were confiscated in the raids because operators did not have the $250 federal tax stamp required for gaming devices.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (UP)—The Navy announced today that Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the Seventh Fleet in the Far East, will become commander of the Pacific Fleet Air Force.

Pride will succeed Vice Adm. Harold M. Martin, who retires next February.

Adm. Stuart H. Ingersoll, deputy commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, will relieve Pride as commander of the Seventh Fleet. The change-over will be made in December or January.

MISS ANN JORNS FUNERAL

Funeral services for Miss Ann Frances Jorns, a piano and violin teacher, 2119 Sidney street, will be at 8 a.m. Friday at St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church, Gravois and Ohio avenues, with burial in St. Peter and Paul Cemetery.

Miss Jorns, 69 years old, died of cancer yesterday at City Hospital.

Mother, Son Die of Heart Attacks
EAST POINT, Ga., Oct. 19 (AP)—A 64-year-old mother fell dead of a heart attack in a physician's office today when she learned her 40-year-old son had died a few minutes earlier from the same cause. Ivy J. Cook was stricken at his home early today and his mother, who lived with him, rode beside him in an ambulance to the doctor's office.

NEED FOR SECONDARY AIRPORTS FORESEEN
Panel Agrees Lambert Field Will Become Too Crowded in Future.

Diversified flying operations at Lambert-St. Louis Field are overtaxing the airport and probably will create hazards in the future unless secondary airport facilities are provided at Government expense, participants in a panel discussion agreed at a meeting last night of the Greater St. Louis Chapter of the National Aeronautic Association.

The chapter appointed a 10-member committee, including several St. Louis county airport operators, to survey airport requirements in the county. The committee was also instructed to develop a program to persuade the public that more airport facilities are needed in the St. Louis area.

St. Louis county lost $100,000 in possible federal aid by not including provision for a secondary airport in the Nov. 22 bond issue election, A. Paul Vance, board chairman of the chapter, said. He presided over the meeting at Furgol's Sportsman's Inn, 7800 Clayton road.

Panel members were Arch McEwen, president of St. Louis Flying Service; Ray Branson, operator of Meramec Airport; Harley Weiss, co-owner of Weiss Airport, and Robert Baudendistel, owner of St. Charles Airport.

Lambert-St. Louis Field is inadequate to handle the various types of aircraft used by the National Guard, Navy, McDonnell Aircraft Corp. and the airlines, McEwen said. He said that aviation people should promote new airport facilities for the whole state in order to take maximum advantage of federal aid, and that such facilities here should be financed by the county, state or Federal Government, or a combination of them.

Secondary airports should be built at public expense and the facilities leased to private operators, who are unable to bear the cost of initial construction, Baudendistel said.

12 Polio Cases in Week.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19 (AP)—The number of new polio cases reported in Missouri last week totaled 12, the State Division of Health reported today. In the same week last year there were 40 cases of polio reported.

Washes Two Loads for the Cost of One—Automatically! No need to use additional hot water and detergent on second loads. Norgel saves it and returns it to the washer the one and only fully automatic way. No watching or waiting ever—no hoses to manipulate. Box of all free just for seeing the new Norgel!

Has a Normal Cycle for Regular Wash... Plus a Short Cycle for Delicate Fabrics... Both Automatic! Just like owning two completely separate automatic washers in one great appliance.

1956 NORGE—MOST AUTOMATIC OF ANY WASHER BUILT TODAY!

For regular loads... second loads... small loads... delicate fabrics... even cashmeres and electric blankets

I Just Set My NORGE And Walk Away!

No other washer lets you perform all this washday magic automatically! Suds water is returned for re-use automatically. You have choice of two complete separate cycles—both automatic. Finger-tip selector lets you choose hot or warm water automatically. Shut-off signal tells when washing is done automatically. Norgel Riplette way to wash lets you do cashmeres, electric blankets, other fussy items automatically, with complete 100% safety. Ask your Norgel Dealer for a 5-minute demonstration.

Re-uses hot water and detergent automatically... gives you two separate washing cycles automatically!

At every step in your washday procedure the new 1956 Norgel Automatic Washer takes more work off your hands... saves you more steps and time... than any other automatic washing machine made.

The new Norgel reSUDSer pumps out and stores hot water and detergent from first washing automatically. And when your first load is done, you just toss in the second and walk away. Tub refills... then agitation starts... and second load is washed, rinsed and spun dry automatically.

You have two separate ways to wash—and both are automatic—with the new Norgel Dual Time-Line control. Set it one place for regular family loads... another place for lightly soiled clothes, small loads, synthetics, and delicate fabrics.

Why Norgel recommends all all with "controlled suds" rinses out of clothes more easily than old-fashioned soaps and detergents that make thick suds. And these photos of transparent washers prove it: both were taken after wash water had drained off. Unless clothes rinse clean, they're only part clean.

Box of all FREE!

Box of all free just for seeing the miraculous new 1956 NORGE Automatic Washer. all is the modern detergent made expressly for automatic washers. It also has many other uses around the home. Get your free box today!

KING-SIZED TRADE-IN ALL THIS WEEK

Your old washer is worth money to you... money toward a new automatic NORGE. Come in and get a free estimate. In most cases, it will completely cover your down payment... leaving you to pay only a few dollars per week! Come in today... save for years to come!

1956 NORGE Dual Time-Line Automatic Washer. The most advanced, most automatic washer of them all. Only washer with fully automatic reSUDSer and Dual Time-Line Control.

PAKISTAN'S ALI PRO-U.S. ON ALL ISSUES BUT WIVES

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (INS)—When Mohammed Ali was Prime Minister of Pakistan he switched traffic from the left side of the road to the right, in the American style, and used the word "filibuster" in a parliamentary debate.

"Filibuster" snorted his opponents, after looking it up in the dictionary, "he'll be introducing chewing gum next."

But Mohammed Ali, now back for his second tour of duty as Ambassador to the United States and delegate to the United Nations, makes no excuses for being pro-American.

As a Moslem, Mohammed Ali may have more than one wife, but his marriage recently to Aliya Saadi, formerly his social secretary, stirred up a storm of controversy in Pakistan where the ancient custom of polygamy now is under attack.

Mohammed Ali quietly explained that a Moslem prefers polygamy to the Western custom of divorce, since it allows the first wife to maintain her status and dignity.

GEN. TAYLOR WARNS OF GNAWING RAIDS

Army Must Be Set to Fight
Both Minor and Major Wars, He Says.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor suggested today a new look at the nation's ability to fight a little brush war as well as a major atomic battle.

The Army Chief of Staff has been emphasizing strongly the possibility of more peripheral, gnawing action against the freedom of western nations, as distinguished from all-out, nuclear world war. He referred to that idea in addressing the National Guard Association.

"Nowadays," said Taylor, "the Army is developing a new awareness of the obligation to deal with brush wars. Since World War II, it has been the threat of a great atomic war which has engaged most of our attention. To counter this threat, we have expended great efforts in developing an atomic deterrent in order to assure our national survival.

"This effort has been properly the primary one of this period, but the time is coming, if it is not already arrived, when our defenses need to be examined particularly with regard to their readiness to deal with the small war. . . . If not quickly countered, the small war may lead to that big war which we are all so terribly anxious to avoid."

The Army must do its part in convincing any potential aggressor that an attack on the United States and its friends will fail, Taylor said. If any enemy has this conviction, said the general, "he is most unlikely to risk the dangerous gamble of war."

To be impressive, military strength should be balanced, Taylor said, but added he did not mean balanced in the sense of equal strength for the Army, Navy, and Air Force.

ACTS AS OWN ATTORNEY, LOSES $810 JUDGMENT

Harry D. Sheppard Jr., Mound City (Ill.) laborer, acted as his own attorney today in United States District Court in East St. Louis but the Government won an $810 judgment against him and his wife in a suit on a promissory note.

Sheppard argued that a fast-talking salesman induced him, through false promises, to sign a contract in 1953 for placing sidings on his small three-room home.

He failed to make payments on his note, which was insured through the Federal Housing Administration, and suit was brought. Federal Judge Fred L. Wham listened sympathetically to Sheppard's account, but said he had no alternative under the law to returning a judgment against him.

TWO MORE POLIO PATIENTS HERE, YEAR'S TOTAL NOW 67

Two more polio patients have been admitted to St. Anthony's Hospital, the St. Louis chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today. The patients brought the number of polio cases in the city and county this year to 67, as compared with 118 at this time last year.

They are Ronald Corlew, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corlew, 9050 Natural Bridge road, Carsonville, and Mrs. Arthur Werner, 23, of 420 Calhoun road, St. Louis county.

E. SIDE MAN GETS 3 YEARS FOR POSSESSION OF HEROIN

Earl Stewart, a clothing salesman of the 900 block of Converse avenue, East St. Louis, was sentenced to three years in a federal penitentiary today by United States District Judge Fred L. Wham, after he pleaded guilty of possessing 49 grains of heroin.

The court was told Stewart was an associate of William W. (Cat) Davis, who was called "the leading narcotics peddler in East St. Louis" when sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary in June. Both men are Negroes.

Judge Wham, in passing sentence, declared: "There is no worse crime against humanity than the sale of narcotics."

2 TRUCK DRIVERS ARRESTED IN FIGHT

One Says Other Was Driving Carelessly So He Made Him Slow Down.

Richard Schroeder, a truck driver approaching St. Louis on U. S. Highway 66 last night, decided that the man in the truck ahead was driving carelessly, swung around in front of him and forced the driver of the second truck to move at a slower speed, Schroeder told police.

When both stopped for a traffic signal at Kingshighway, a fight ensued and police were called, with the result that both were booked on charges of careless driving and peace disturbance.
Schroeder, of the 3000 block of Shenandoah, who was driving a beer truck, told police he pulled ahead of a truck driven by Edward J. Keightley of the 6000 block of Fyler avenue, who had a load of shoes, and held Keightley down to 20 miles an hour.
At the red light, Schroeder said, Keightley climbed down from the cab, approached him with a sharp-pointed flare and struck him twice in the leg.

Keightley's version was different. He said Schroeder got out first, knocked him down and kicked at him, and thereby hit his leg against the flare.
Both were told to appear in police court next Tuesday.

BIG GAIN IN POPULATION PREDICTED BEFORE 1975

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UP)—The Stanford Research Institute predicts the United States population will jump 35 per cent between 1954 and 1975, with a total of 221,749,000 persons compared to today's 165,000,000 plus population.

Pacific Coast states are in for the biggest part of the coming growth, according to the institute. They will show a 76 per cent growth for a total of 29,439,000 by 1975.

The Mountain States should gain 66 per cent during the period to reach a population of 9,582,000.
California will register the largest jump—87.7 per cent—with an increase from 12,554,000 to 23,565,000.
To reach these figures the institute's economists applied birth, death, and migration rates to specific age groups. This technique, called the "cohort-survival method," is considered more accurate than strict mathematical forecasts which tend to neglect the vital factors of population growth and change.

I Want a Heart to Heart Talk with Everyone Wearing False Teeth!

I had fourteen upper and lower teeth extracted at eight o'clock in the morning and full upper and lower plates slipped in my mouth at three o'clock in the afternoon. It was agony but being a salesman, I couldn't go around without teeth and I couldn't afford to stay out of circulation while my gums healed up.

Anyway, my dentist told me it was better to put the plates right in if I could stand the pain. I thought I'd never live thru those first few weeks but somehow I managed to survive. He also told me that everybody's gums shrink after teeth are extracted and my shrinkage would be worse than usual because I had a bad case of pyorrhea. How right he was. I'll never forget trying to close a big contract and lost it because my teeth fell right out on the buyer's desk. Was I embarrassed? I'll tell the world.

Did I ever hot-foot it back to my dentist the next day? Of course, he had warned me about the shrinkage so I really couldn't blame him because my plates loosened up. There was nothing to do but let him take another impression and make two new plates. I thought I was all set for awhile, but no such luck. It was only a couple of months before my plates loosened up again and my gums got awfully sore.

I couldn't afford another set of teeth right away because business hadn't been so good. So I tried powders and stickums but they were messy and a pain in the neck. Every time I ate, I had to duck into a washroom and clean my plates. I thought I would go "nuts"—when a miracle happened! A friend told me about Snug brand Denture Cushions. I didn't believe him at first, until he took out his teeth and showed me how this new soft plastic had tightened up his plates. Believe me! I tore right down to the drug store and bought a package—took them home—and, in a few minutes after following the simple directions, my plates were completely re-lined—tight as a drum.

I was like a new person. I could eat anything—corn on the cob or chew the toughest steak. I could talk my head off and never worry about losing my teeth. Another thing I found out—Snug brand Denture Cushions were so easy to clean. All I had to do was brush them with cold water. How long did they last? Well, in my case they lasted about two months. And then it was a simple matter to peel out the plastic and put in another set of cushions. Because Snug brand Denture Cushions are soft plastics, they never get hard or stick so tight that they ruin your plates.

And so my friends, why don't you profit by my experience. Don't blame your dentist if your gums shrink and your plates loosen up—get Snug brand Denture Cushions and enjoy tight-fitting false teeth. Forget you ever had sore gums due to loose fitting dentures. See your druggist and you will thank the day you laid down $1.50 for Snug brand Denture Cushions. If you are not satisfied, the manufacturer will refund your money. What could be fairer?

Yours for tighter teeth,
Joseph Snug

FLORIDA COURT DELAYS SCHOOL DESEGREGATION

Recognizes Segregation Is No Longer Legal but Stresses Need to Move Slowly.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Florida Supreme Court, in a 5-to-2 decision, today delayed desegregation at the University of Florida until it can be determined that the all-white school is ready to accept Negro students without harmful effects.

The court in an opinion by Justice B. K. Roberts ordered a court commissioner appointed to take testimony to determine when it will be possible for Negroes to be admitted to the university without creating "public mischief."

The majority opinion recognized that segregation no longer is legal in Florida as a result of the United States Supreme Court anti-segregation decision last year. The Florida justices, however, held that it is the province of the state's court to permit integration only after it can be shown that no harm to the public will result.

The court's decision, although applying specifically only to a case in which a Daytona Beach Negro, 48-year-old Virgil Hawkins, sought admission to the University of Florida law school, undoubtedly will have the effect of delaying integration of the races in any Florida public school for a period of from six months to a year or more.

Justice Roberts held that the United States Supreme Court, in its May 1954 decision, had instructed the states to proceed with caution and common sense in bringing about the end of separate facilities for the races.

He wrote that under equitable principles, which in laymen's language means tempering the law with reasonableness and common sense, "judicial discretion requires this court to withhold for the present the issuance of a peremptory writ of mandamus in this cause, pending the subsequent determination of law and fact as to the time when the relator (Hawkins) should be admitted to the University of Florida law school."

HATCH ACT CURBS LIFTED FOR ARIZONA COUNCIL VOTE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Some provisions of the Hatch act, which restricts political activity by federal workers, were lifted today from Sierra Vista, Ariz., where most families have one or more members working for Uncle Sam.

The Civil Service Commission ruled federal employees in Sierra Vista may participate actively in nonpartisan elections for local offices and may hold appointments to local offices without violating the act.

The town council of Sierra Vista requested the action, claiming it was hard to find candidates for elective or appointive office who were not federal workers.

ECONOMY PUT AT 392 BILLIONS IN 3RD QUARTER

Surge in Private Spending Main Cause — 7 1/4 Billions Rise in 3 Months.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower's economic advisers estimated today that a multibillion-dollar upsurge of private spending pushed the economy to an unprecedented 392-billion-dollar-a-year pace in the third quarter of this year.

That was a boost of seven and one quarter billion dollars in the rate of production of goods and services in July, August and September. It put the nation's economic pace 3 3/4 billion dollars, or about 8.5 percent, faster than it was a year earlier.

A similar increase in the final current-quarter of this year would put the economy practically at 400 billion dollars a year. In 1954, at the end of the depression, the nation produced goods and services valued at just more than 91 billion dollars.

By 1946, after World War II's expansion of the economy, total production was rated at 209 1/4 billion dollars. Thus, a 400-billion-dollar rate at the end of this year would mean practically a doubled rate of economic activity over the 10 postwar years. President Eisenhower has said the economy should grow to 500 billions in the coming 10 years.

The third quarter report was a preliminary estimate of economic activity during July, August and September by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. It was sent to the joint congressional committee on the economy.

The chief upward thrust on the economy in the third quarter came from the public. It boosted its spending for personal consumption during the quarter by six billion dollars, from just over a $250,500,000 annual rate to just over $256,500,000.

State and local government spending rose to nearly half a billion dollars from $29,700,000 to $30,100,000,000 a year.

Increasing Federal Government spending for goods and services also added to the rise. Federal spending altogether rose during the third quarter from $45,200,000,000 a year to $45,400,000,000. The rise was entirely in national security outlays, which pushed up from an annual rate of $40,400,000,000 in the second quarter to $40,700,000,000 in the third quarter. Other Government outlays fell off, from around $5,250,000,000 annual rate to about five billions. These outlays did not represent total spending by the Federal Government, as they did not include subsidies to the states, and some other items.

Adviser Explains Economic Views of President

BOSTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Dr. Gabriel Hauge, economic adviser to President Eisenhower, said yesterday that the President's economic philosophy is one which "seeks a safe cruising speed for our economy—one which can be maintained." Addressing the twenty-seventh annual Boston conference on distribution, Hauge said he understands the President's economic views are based on five points:

1. That private initiative operating through free markets is the best way to organize the production that will meet the demands of our people and the markets abroad.

2. That to seek incentive for superior effort and reward for extra exertion are fundamental to our kind of society.

3. That the President believes the integrity of the dollar must be maintained as a vital factor in our economy.

4. That government should foster stability in economic growth through the use of indirect monetary and fiscal measures rather than direct controls on wages, prices, materials and trade.

5. That an open system of international trade and payments is an essential complement to our free choice economy at home and indispensable to its healthy growth as well as that of the free world.

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT, PROFIT RECORDS SET

Second Quarter Exceeds All Previous Marks—Steel Hard to Get.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The nation's manufacturing corporations sold more and had higher profits than ever before in the second quarter of this year.

A joint report on the financial condition of such corporations was issued today by the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission. It said that the record sales and profits reflected the unusually high level of construction work, steel production and automobile output.

Nearly every major manufacturing group showed increased sales in the first half of this year than in the first half of 1954. Automobiles and parts led the way with a 28 per cent increase.

All principal manufacturing groups showed increased profits in the first half of this year. Textile mills led with a 246 per cent increase, from $48,000,000 to $166,000,000. Earnings after taxes of manufacturing corporations in the second quarter of this year were estimated at $3,900,000,000. This was $60,000,000 higher than in the first quarter of this year, a billion dollars higher than in the second quarter of 1954, and topped the previous record, the third quarter of 1950, by $200,000,000.

Sales of manufacturing corporations in the second quarter of this year amounted to 70 billion dollars, compared with $65,600,000,000 in the first quarter of this year and with $62,600,000,000 in the second quarter of last year. The previous sales record was set in the second quarter of 1953, when the figure was $68,700,000,000.

Steel Hard to Get, Says Metal Magazine Iron Age.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Despite the all-out push for steel production, consumer inventories are dropping, Iron Age, the national metalworking weekly, said today.

Even big companies are having a hard time getting steel and there are danger signals ahead, it added.

Iron Age reported the pressure to get steel is on from all over the country and consumers are working all the angles they can to get the steel they need from the mills.

Steel producers are pushing their furnaces and rolling mills beyond capacity in some cases. Blast furnaces, open hearths and other facilities are groaning under the strain, the magazine said. The problem will get worse with the approach of winter months, it predicted.

PUBLIC ENTITLED TO NAMES OF COUNTY PATIENTS

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 19.—Administrators of a publicly supported county hospital may not withhold from the public the name of a patient, even though he has requested such action, the Attorney General's department ruled yesterday.

The opinion, involving regulations of the board of trustees of the Audrain County Hospital at Mexico, Mo., declared invalid a rule that the name of a patient would be withheld, if the patient expressly requested such privacy.

Such a regulation in a publicly supported hospital "is unreasonable" and contrary to statutes governing such hospitals, said assistant Attorney General Walker La Brunerie Jr., in an opinion approved by Attorney General John M. Dalton.

The ruling was issued to Prosecuting Attorney Joseph M. Bone of Audrain county, after Robert H. White, general manager of the Mexico Ledger, raised the question of the legal right of a newspaper to obtain information from the hospital concerning lists of patients, deaths and births.

100 IN PHILADELPHIA AREA SEIZED IN NARCOTICS RAIDS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19 (AP)—A force of 250 Philadelphia policemen, backed by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and state law enforcement officers, today made a series of raids and arrested 100 persons accused of using, selling or otherwise dealing in narcotics. Six of those arrested were women.

The raids—extending even to Horsham, Pa., where one suspected violator now lives—were organized weeks in advance and carried out in the early morning.

Lt. Glasgow Driscoll, head of the Philadelphia police narcotics squad, said the stage for the raids was set by three rookie policemen who had been purchasing narcotics to gain knowledge of the sellers.

Czech President Recovering, LONDON, Oct. 19 (UP)—Czech President Antonin Zapotocky has been released from a hospital and "has left for recuperation outside Prague," the Czech radio announced yesterday.

The Burmese Prime Minister left today for Kabul, Afghanistan, en route to Moscow, after talks here with Nehru. He was reported taking with him a message from Nehru to Soviet Premier Bulganin.

Informants said the two south-east Asia diplomats already had begun sounding out various governments on another conference such as the Asian-African conference held at Bandung, Indonesia, earlier this year.

NEHRU, U NU SAID TO PLAN ANOTHER BANDUNG PARLEY

NEW DELHI, Oct. 19 (UP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and U Nu of Burma have discussed plans for a second Bandung conference, reliable sources said.

Dances, Concerts at Red Prison Camp Now, Freed Woman Says

Drudgery Ended a Few Months Ago, Field's Daughter Reports—Guards Are 'Correct' and 'Considerate.'

MOSCOW, Oct. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach, who spent five years in Communist captivity, said today the notorious Vorkuta labor camp appears to be going out of business.

She told reporters conditions there have improved to such a point that prisoners are entertained with dances and concerts, and have to work only eight-hour days and six-day weeks.

Mrs. Wallach, 33-year-old German-born foster daughter of Noel Field, was released from Vorkuta a few days ago and is waiting for a Soviet exit permit in Moscow.

She said a Soviet official told her that her imprisonment "had all been a mistake" and the Soviet Union sincerely regretted the error.

Mrs. Wallach's American husband Robert lives near Washington, D.C., with their two small children whom she has not seen since 1950.

Mrs. Wallach said when she first arrived at Vorkuta, a mining center in Arctic Siberia, she was put to manual labor 10 hours a day, swinging an ax, shoveling and working with a woman's road and rail building brigade.

She said all this changed completely the last few months. "The camp commander, a regular army major, is now always available to hear complaints from inmates. Regular army guards who have replaced the M.V.D. secret police, "are not only correct but even considerate."

She said the city of Vorkuta itself is growing rapidly and many released prisoners, as well as outsiders, are settling there. She said more and more of the work is being done by free labor and soon the camp itself may be closed.

Mrs. Wallach's account supports reports of a vast reorganization in the Soviet legal, judicial and penal system. Regular army review boards have slashed or annulled thousands of sentences throughout the nation.

"When I left Vorkuta," Mrs. Wallach said, "there was social life, there were concerts and theatrical performances where men and women could get together. We even had dances."

Mrs. Wallach was arrested by Communist police in East Berlin in 1950 while searching for her foster parents, Noel and Herta Field. She said that after two and one-half years of solitary confinement, she was sentenced to death as a spy by a Russian military court and shipped to Moscow. Her sentence was commuted to 15 years' imprisonment in July 1953 and she was sent to Vorkuta.

Her husband, Robert Wallach, a Washington bank employee, was overjoyed when informed that his wife was free and is returning to him, the United Press said.

However, Mrs. Wallach still faces the problem of getting a United States visa before she can join her American husband and two children in the United States. She is not an American citizen. She is a native of Germany but now, it is understood, has no citizenship anywhere.

Mrs. Wallach's parents, who

FLORIDA SUPREME COURT BARS PICKETING OF HOTELS

TALAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Florida Supreme Court ruled today that picketing of hotels in the Miami area is unlawful because the A.F.L. Hotel Employees Union represents only "an insignificant number" of the workers.

Bert Ross, the union's international vice president, announced immediately in Miami that an appeal would be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

Despite "the astounding series of legal setbacks" in Florida, Ross said the union has not wavered in its campaign to organize the hundreds of luxury hotels in the Miami resort area. The union has, at one time or another, picketed 22 of the hotels since the organizing drive was launched six months ago. Last week, it claimed a major victory when the Monte Carlo and Vanderbilt hotels signed contracts with the union.

EXPERT ON RACE RELATIONS AMONG CHILDREN TO SPEAK

Dr. Mary Ellen Goodman, teacher and student of race relations among children, will address the general session of the biennial conference of the National Association for Nursery Education tomorrow at Hotel Statler.

Dr. Goodman, who returned recently from a year in Japan as a Fulbright fellow, has done research on Negro and white children's inter-group relations in Boston, and has published works on 5-year-old children in Japan and race awareness in young children.

Dr. Frances R. Horwich, known as Miss Frances of the "Ding Dong School" television program, will be the principal speaker at the evening meeting of the conference. Before her entry into television, she was chairman of the department of education of Roosevelt University, Chicago.

Charles van Ravenswaay, director of the Missouri Historical Society, has been appointed chairman of the research committee for the Mid-America Jubilee to be held on the riverfront next September, it was announced today.

IRAN'S SENATE VOTES JOINT DEFENSE PACT

Baghdad Accord Now Goes to Lower House—Early Passage Forecast.

TEHRAN, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Senate today ratified a bill authorizing Iran to join the Baghdad defense pact linking Iraq, Turkey, Pakistan and Britain by 38 votes to 4. Premier Hussein Ala on Oct. 12 submitted the bill to the Senate requesting authorization to adhere to the Baghdad pact. It was ratified by the Foreign Affairs Committee Oct. 16. Senator Rezaali Divan Beigi accused the United States Government of maneuvering Iran's adherence. He added, "The Iranian nation cannot pay taxes in order to arrange defense facilities for the Americans."

Senator Jamal Emami, although an opponent of Ala, spoke in favor of the bill. He said he believed Iran's adherence to the pact was "one of the best actions taken by any of Iran's governments so far."

Justice Minister Ali Amini, defending the bill, assured Senators "the pact being defensive is not aggressive." Therefore, Amini said, "there is no point in the Russians' protest."

The bill will be submitted to the Majlis (lower house) in open session tomorrow. Ratification is expected within a week.

Meanwhile, reports from the frontier said Russia yesterday handed over 75 Iranian prisoners released from Siberian labor camps. Many of them had been detained since 1944.

Last year the Russians delivered across the border 150 Iranians released from prison camps. Some later were found to be trained Communists.

The Soviet Embassy in Iran told the Tehran Philharmonic Society that the arrival of eight Russian musicians and singers for a scheduled concert had been postponed indefinitely.

CAUSE OF THORNE CRASH A MYSTERY

CAA Wonders Whether Plane Was Stunting or Disabled.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Was millionaire Joel W. Thorne stunting, or was he desperately trying to control a disabled plane just before the crash plunged into an apartment building, killing three persons and himself. Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators were looking for the answer today.

A baby whose family was celebrating her christening, an 18-year-old bride and Thorne perished in the crash which wrecked two apartments of a six-unit building Monday night. The fourth victim, a 6-year-old boy, died of burns last night. He was one of the christening party.

Nearby residents reported the single-engine plane buzzed the residential area two or three times at what seemed like rooftop height just before the crash. Some thought the plane was in trouble as it roared back and forth in or just under a 700-foot ceiling.

The CAA investigators, Laurence Lightbody and Bernard T. Naught, took cognizance of these reports but hunted for a more scientific answer in the shattered fragments of Thorne's plane.

"Pieces of the aircraft along the flight path indicate it disintegrated in the air," Naught said.

Disintegration could result from excessive speed or violent handling of the plane, such as stunting or the terrific stress of a sudden pull-up at high speed, he said.

"In my opinion, it would be inconceivable Thorne would be stunting in the prevailing

KROGER, UNION TO RESUME TALKS NEXT TUESDAY

Another meeting between representatives of the Kroger Co. and Local 6, AFL Firemen, Oilers and Maintenance Men was scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday in the office of the United States Conciliation Service in the Old Federal Building, it was announced today.

M. K. Sheehan, one of the mediators, said "no apparent progress" was made in the latest meeting of the two groups.

R. A. Hughes, Kroger branch manager, said the Conciliation Service had recommended to both the company and the union that they arbitrate the dispute, "with everybody returning to work, and both parties to be bound by the decision of the arbitrator."

He added the company agreed to arbitration but the union rejected it.

Fifty-two Kroger stores in St. Louis and St. Louis county were closed as a result of the strike, which began Sept. 15.

CHILDREN DEMONSTRATE AGAINST BRITISH IN CYPRUS

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus, Oct. 19 (AP)—Two thousand school children enlisted in the Union with Greece movement held mass meetings today to protest the jailing of a schoolboy for carrying a homemade grenade.

Most residents of Cyprus are of Greek origin and are demanding union with Greece. Britain is determined to keep it as a colony, but has offered more self-government. British Government and defense authorities are using stringent measures to suppress terrorism among Cypriots.

Police and troops stood by as the boys and girls voted to send protests to the island's Governor and to the United Nations.

The protests condemned the two-year jail sentence for the boy and Britain's refusal to apply the principle of self-determination to the colony.

weather, in drizzling, overcast conditions," Naught said.

"He was an experienced pilot and flying on instruments," Lightbody pointed out.

Thorne, 40, took off on an instrument flight plan from nearby Lockheed air terminal Monday, bound for Las Vegas, Nev., where he was maintaining residence. The crash occurred 12 minutes later.

Thorne's wife, Johnnie Eager Thorne of Valdosta, Ga., who obtained a separate maintenance decree in 1946, and their son, Jonathan, 13, are currently traveling in Europe. Las Vegas friends of Thorne said he was establishing residence there for a divorce.

CANADA CATHOLIC HOLY DAY STORE CLOSING RULED VOID

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Supreme Court of Canada unanimously ruled today that a Montreal city bylaw requiring stores to stay closed on certain Roman Catholic holy days is invalid.

The court, in a judgment read by Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin, granted the appeal of seven large Montreal retail stores which had challenged the bylaw and the provincial statute on which it is based.

The ruling upset the decision of the Quebec Court of Appeals which had decided by a 3-to-2 vote that the bylaw and provincial statute were constitutional.

STRIKE GUARD FORCE WILL BE CUT IN HALF

Indiana Governor Issues
Order—Reuther Charges Him With Double Cross.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Oct. 19 (AP)—Gov. George N. Craig has ordered National Guard forces patrolling Perfect Circle Corp. strike areas cut in half.

The Governor's order came yesterday shortly before his office received a personal pledge of no violence in a 700-word telegram from President Walter Reuther of the CIO-United Auto Workers.

The guard force will be cut to about 300 men tomorrow, but martial law will remain in effect in Henry county and in Hagerstown, east of New Castle, in east-central Indiana.

The Governor had said he would not lift martial law until he had Reuther's pledge of no violence, but there was no indication today that military rule would be stopped entirely.

Reuther told the Governor in his telegram he thought the Governor had double-crossed the union.

Reuther said union members at the struck Perfect Circle plants had been instructed "to refrain from any kind of violent action regardless of any provocation by the company."

Reuther said "no violence" assurances had been given the Governor Saturday by Ray Berndt, a member of the union's international executive board and director of UAW Region 3. Craig then said Berndt's word was not enough.

Reuther said that in exchange for the union's promise Craig had agreed to withdraw martial law and to see that negotiations were resumed as of yesterday. He said the Governor had failed to do this.

The telegram said in part: "We can only regard the about face in your pledge . . . as a serious breach of good faith and in simple language represents a double cross of the Perfect Circle workers and the people of Indiana."

Reuther repeated the union's stand that the company was solely responsible for the violence at the New Castle plant Oct. 5 in which eight persons were wounded.

The union is asking for a union shop, a lay-off plan and a package increase of 21 cents an hour. The company has offered 11 cents. Pay had averaged $1.21 to "well over $2" but the company says it is paying non-strikers an average of $2.06 an hour.

The company says about 70 per cent of the normal working force is reporting at the four plants in the two cities and at Richmond. Only five pickets are allowed at the New Castle plant under a court order.

FOUR TRAFFIC SAFETY RULES FOR USE OF SCHOOL PUPILS

BOSTON (UP)—The Institute for Safer Living has issued safety rules for the nation's school children, nearly 2000 of whom are killed yearly going to or from their classes.

1. Work out and use the safest route to and from school with your child.

2. Teach him to walk on the extreme left edge of the road, always facing traffic, if there is no walk.

3. Impress your children with the need for obeying traffic officers, school crossing guards, school safety patrols or mechanical signs and signals.

4. Neighborhood mothers should take turns supervising school children at the bus stop and insure safe boarding of the bus.

SALESMEN'S WIVES TAUGHT HOW TO HELP THEIR MATES

SEATTLE (INS)—There's usually a woman behind each successful man, and that includes traveling salesmen.

A luggage concern has made it a practice to invite wives to a week of sales meetings each year so that the little woman knows and can help in hubby's business problems.

The women are asked to select names, colors and help decide on new items for the line.

Each salesman's territory is so arranged so that he is never on the road more than one weekend, and in most cases is home every weekend. Wives are instructed how to answer business calls and letters, as well as to keep records while their husbands are away.

Wives can be an added help by checking on competition lines sold in their home towns and surrounding areas.

BIG NOISE. BOSTON (UP)—A survey disclosed that there are 7500 drum corps in the United States and Canada.

TUGGING WISCONSIN FROM MUD

Tugboats striving to push the battleship Wisconsin into deeper water after the 45,000-ton vessel ran aground in New York harbor yesterday. The Wisconsin was under tow from Bayonne, N.J., to the naval shipyard at Brooklyn when a strong tide apparently caught it and nudged it into a shallow spot in the East river. Ten commercial and navy tugs churned the water for 50 minutes before freeing the ship from the mud.

A TV Anniversary

La Rosa Story Since Godfrey Fired Him

By Jack O'Brien

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (INS).

TODAY is the second anniversary of a moment famous in the history of modern American trivia, an event that proved more fascinating than global connipations far beyond the call of front pages, a nifty, noisy throwback to the era of wonderful nonsense.

JULIUS LA ROSA

It is just two years since that historical speech a few minutes before 11:30 a.m., when Arthur Godfrey fired the crooner 'round the world—Julius La Rosa.

It was an amazing incident, loaded with popular noisiness, perhaps with some important mass psychosis or neurosis involved, certainly a new insight into the galvanic impact of television personalities upon the public.

IT WAS A TINY enough incident; the story started simply, out of sheer bad judgment on the part of Arthur Godfrey—instead of firing his junior crooner (Frank Parker being the indeed very senior earbender of the Godfrey gang) in privacy, Godfrey's inclination toward the sensational led him to hurl Julius publicly right out of CBS-TV onto the nation's front pages.

The 24-year-old lad staggered out into the cold cruel world of the most public firing since the one on Fort Sumter, before some 7,000,000 radio-TV witnesses. Ramifications followed—the seemingly unimportant but strangely fascinating information that all was not serene and family-like among the Godfrey gang.

THE FIRST post-Godfrey year earned $360,000 for Julius. The fiscal La Rosa year finishing today adds another $480,000 to his financial memory book. He had been guaranteed $150,000 a year by Tom Rockwell, head of General Artists Corp. who led in similarly solvent fashion into the higher brackets such leading citizens as Bing Crosby, Perry Como, Jo Stafford, Peggy Lee, Frankie Laine.

AT THIS precise instant Julius is somewhere in Italy, escorting his mother on her first return to his native Palermo; last year Julius sent his young (47) dad on the same nostalgic tour.

He must be back in time to be guest star Nov. 5 on the Perry Como show—at $5000—then shuffle off to Las Vegas, where he will be paid $12,500 for each of four weeks at El Rancho Vegas, or $50,000 for the engagement, starting off his new fiscal year with a lovely bang at the bank.

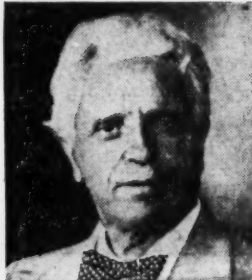

JULIUS NOW OWNS a fine home in Westchester, an apartment on Sutton place, has considerable cash in working oil properties, good stocks, real estate, a program of careful investment attended by his lawyer-manager, Frank Barone.

His finest hour came when he was hired for a summer TV show, a half hour every Saturday night, his fine high salary paid by Westchester—his old boss's old sponsor. Nice ironic happy ending.

Raising the Child

By Angelo Patri

FAMILIAR letter asks that a word be written that will set a misguided daughter or daughter-in-law straight. The young mother is making a mistake in dealing with the children and Grandmother must stand by and suffer at the sight.

ANGELO PATRI

"She leaves them to a baby sitter when I would be glad to stay with them," "She won't let them have the little toys I bring them and says I spoil them," and so on and so on.

GRANDPARENTS HAVING LIVED through at least two generations, maybe three, have learned that much that they thought extremely important in rearing children is not so important after all. Experience has taught them other values. They, no longer carrying responsibility for children, can relax and enjoy them. Not so the young mother.

To the young mother her child is the one among the world. She trembles if he sneezes, is frightened cold when he falls, is in terror when he falls sick—and one cannot blame her. All these experiences with her child are new and many of them distress her beyond proportion, but time—bringing experience—will enable her to look at the day's upsets and its joyful surprises more temperately. Meantime, granting the mother loves her child, Grandmother can rest assured nothing serious will happen to him at her hands.

THE YOUNG MOTHER is inclined to lean hard on the latest book. Good. That book is a life saver to any young mother. Still and very important, the child in the book and one in the crib are as far apart as printer's ink is from the milk in his bottle. The book's word is basic information generalized. The behavior of the baby in the basket is characteristic of that particular child, and it might well be that grandmother could be right helpful where he is concerned. It won't hurt to listen to her, anyway.

Grandmother is always wise. If they only had a chance to rear the children again, how much better they could do—now that they know so much more about how the job should be done.

Tips for Teens

By Elinor Williams

A BOY who likes a girl who isn't allowed to date—that's the puzzle for today. He writes: "I am a boy 16 years old. The girl I like very much is not allowed to have dates. Could you help me with this problem?"

Answer—There are lots of ways you can be with her until her parents allow dates. Get together at your home or hers or friends' homes. Get a "crowd" together for a hot dog roast, picnic, hay ride, etc. Go to school games, dances, plays, etc., with several other girls and boys . . . also to church and community doings. If necessary, your or her parents could take you in their car. Her parents probably won't object to "group" doings . . . and this leads to dates.

Skinnyies Have Their Troubles, Too

It's Just Not So That They Can Eat More Than the Obese and Stay Thin

By Leonid Kotkin, M.D.

Fourth article in a series from the book, "Eat, Think and Be Slender." The author is a practicing physician in New York City, specializing in the problems of obesity.

YOU have undoubtedly envied your thin friends. Well, before we go any further let me assure you that the underweight person has as much a problem as the overweight.

So often patients have come to me and said:

"I have a friend who 'eats like a horse' and he doesn't gain an ounce!"

It probably is not true; no one can eat like a horse constantly and remain thin. But more important from your point of view is the fact that your underweight friend probably suffers just as much from emotional problems as you.

Underweight and overweight are only the opposite sides of the same coin. Your underweight friend is not a fortunate person who possesses some mysterious factor in his body that prevents any of the "excessive" food he eats from turning into ugly fat.

I have had patients tell me that "life has been unjust."

"Why?" I ask leadingly, and the answer invariably is: "Because I've not been endowed with this wonderful ability to eat all I want and yet not put on extra weight like my friend does."

Let me make it quite plain to you that this attitude will be a serious block in any weight control program you undertake. If you believe that there are people who can eat as much as you and still not gain excessive weight, you are going to feel that dieting is a great and unnecessary hardship. You are going to feel unjustly imposed upon because you have been singled out for such a rigorous task.

There are no people who can eat as much as you and remain lean while you grow fat.

There is no need for you to be envious of your skinny friends. Were you to scientifically observe them for a week, you would have positive proof that overweight is no more than the result of food intake beyond the normal energy needs of your body and that no other factor is involved.

You would notice in such a test several important differences between your own and your skinny friends' behavior. Thin people tend to overeat only when they are in company. The times at which you have seen your thin friends eat more

THE TIMES AT WHICH YOU HAVE SEEN YOUR THIN FRIENDS EAT MORE THAN YOU, MAY BE THE ONLY TIMES AT WHICH THEY EAT TO EXCESS.

Suggested Menu

Dr. Kotkin's suggested menu for tomorrow:

Lunch: bouillon, broiled lamb chop, stewed tomato, green pepper, skim milk.

Dinner: celery stalks, roast chicken, endive, kohlrabi, melon, tea.

If a little exercise has made you hungry between meals try a crab-meat pepper pot. Have, clean crisp green pepper, stuff with crab meat mixed with mashed tomato and diced cucumber. Add lemon juice and salt to taste.

The prescribed diet restricts neither salt nor water, unless your doctor so directs.

appetite to eat a full breakfast the next morning and a couple of hearty meals during that day, and you can keep on that way for days to come without even lessening your usual quota of snacks, between meals—fruit, candy and soft drinks which your friend wouldn't think of eating because he doesn't want them or need them."

THE body operates much like an engine in that it converts energy. The principle that energy cannot be created or destroyed, but only changed, holds true for our bodies. Energy intake in excess of energy output will accumulate in some form. In the body, the excess intake of energy—too much food—is stored as fat.

For the most part, slim people are completely unconscious of this mechanism within their make-up. They, too, really believe that they can and do eat as much as their overweight friends and are as fully convinced that they don't gain an ounce because they cannot.

Experience has shown that these skinnyies are persons who usually hate to eat when alone. Rather than go into a restaurant by themselves, they would skip the meal. Often they will skip several in succession—filling up instead on coffee into which they unconsciously put more sugar than they usually do to compensate for the energy-giving foods they have not eaten.

Great differences in the types of food consumed by a fat and thin person will be the key to the latter's "eating more" than the obese person. Rich, starchy, sweet and fatty foods at the same meal will appeal to the overweight person. The underweight person will, on the other hand, trim all the fat from his meat, eat less bread, spread the butter extremely thin and have an aversion to rich desserts.

These two persons will sit down to the same meal at the same table, yet the overweight person will manage to consume several hundred more calories than the skinny one. At the end of the meal each will sincerely believe that they ate exactly the same amount of food.

Your underweight friend then, to repeat, has no magic component in his make-up that makes him someone to be envied. From two standpoints, though, the underweight person has an advantage over his obese friend: (1) he will tend to live longer, and (2) he will have less difficulty with any serious illness he may contract.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

THE declarer in such a touchy slam contract as the one below needs a certain bit of knowledge above all others; he must know the opening-lead habits of his left-hand opponent.

South, dealer. Both sides vulnerable. Both sides 40 on score.

♠ K854
♥ A7
♦ AK63
♣ K5

♠ Q1073
♥ 862
♦ Q8754

♠ A6
♥ 54
♦ J92
♣ Q107632

♠ J2
♥ KQJ1093
♦ 10
♣ AJ94

The stage of the score, with both sides on, persuaded South to make a shutout opening; he felt that he might buy the contract more cheaply. That, however, was not the outcome, though it was not the opponents who bid South up. The auction went:

South West North East

3♥ Pass 4♥ Pass

3♥ Pass 4♥ Pass

At this score, North's raise was only a vague and tentative slam try, but South felt that his own pre-emptive had been unusually good, so he accepted the invitation.

West opened the eight of clubs, and after South ducked on the table and won with the nine (East having played low), he had quite a problem. Should he discard a spade on dummy's second diamond honor and then try to cash the club king and ruff a club? Or should he draw trumps and play West for the ace of spades, thus aiming for one spade trick, two diamonds, three clubs and six trumps? Or should he take a completely different tack?

South quickly rejected the play for the spade ace to be on-side for a very good reason: he knew that West was an ace-leader against a slam. So (South concluded) West didn't have the spade ace. Next, South rejected the idea of ruffing out the club loser; he had a strong hunch that the opening lead had been a singleton. That left only one plan.

South cashed five trumps and the top diamonds, discarding a spade, then cashed the king of clubs and ruffed a diamond. That did it, so far as East was concerned! Forced to reduce to three cards, he had no choice but to keep the spade ace and the Q-10 of clubs. That was precisely what South figured East would have to end up with, and now South led his spade, throwing East in. The automatic club return gave South a proved finesse for the full-trick.

Kitchen Suggestion

A good way to protect painted kitchen walls and ceilings is to give them a coat of laundry starch. Use one cup of starch to each quart of water. Apply it cold with a paint roller. You'll end up with a transparent coating which can be easily removed when it becomes soiled and replaced with a fresh coat of starch.

1. WHICH IS A BETTER PERSONALITY DEVELOPER, MENTAL OR PHYSICAL EXERCISE? YOUR OPINION

Answer to Question 1.

PSYCHOLOGIST Henry Link, with the aid of 80 other psychologists, studied over 200 physical and mental habits. They found that habits involving physical activity, athletic games, walking—especially with others—playing in bands, fishing, etc., were far better for developing personality than mental exercises such as listening to the radio, reading stories, studying or going to the movies. Being on teams and in bands and social dancing were best of all.

Answer to Question 2.

True. Parents should watch a child's hobbies with prayerful interest. Creative hobbies are very significant. Nearly all children collect bottle tops, cigar wrappers, etc., but almost all great men collected significant things in childhood, according to Catherine C. Miles. Darwin not only collected insects but classified them. Franklin was always prying into the causes of things. Faraday invented things as a child. Some writers began writing before they were five.

Answer to Question 3.

Women, according to tests of emotional introversion and extroversion. These tests show that introverts have more of a tendency to add postscripts, and more women than men are introverts. There's an old gag about a woman who was nicknamed "Postscript" because her records don't show whether Adeline was an introvert or extrovert, so that still remains a mystery.

Roof Gutters

Keep tree leaves out of roof gutters. When leaves become moist they produce an acid which is harmful to many types of metal gutters. They also cause wood gutters to rot and their weight, when wet, can pull the gutter loose from its mountings.

Tips on Preventing Pipes Freezing.

IT'S pretty common knowledge in this day and age, that if you leave water in a water pipe and if the water freezes, there is a possibility that the pipe will split. If the pipe is made out of galvanized iron or brass it has more of a chance of splitting than copper which can give a little this way or that.

The way to prevent trouble with freezing pipes is to either remove the water from the pipe or insulate or heat the pipe so it won't freeze.

Some homes have water pipes that run through unheated areas and if these can't be drained before winter, cover them with asbestos air cell insulation.

Another trick for pipes that must be kept from freezing in winter is to wrap a heating cable around them. This type of cable, which can be plugged into an electric outlet, will produce sufficient heat to keep the pipe warm and unfrozen. A thermostat can be installed on the cable so that only enough electricity is used to keep the pipe just above freezing.

Many of us have had the sad experience of draining a certain line in the fall and then finding in the spring that somehow it split and has developed a leak. This is because the line was not drained dry—it takes only a pocket of water at an elbow or low spot to bust the line. Watch these low spots and fittings and, if necessary, take the line apart so it can be drained.

Shut off valves can be trouble spots because water can sit in the valve and line after the valve is closed. Most valves today have a small drain plug on the bottom or side which should be opened after the valve has been closed to drain out the water from the valve and adjoining line.

Postcard
Rich Memories
By Stan Delaplane

SAN FRANCISCO.
MY great-grandfather was an elderly man with a white beard who sat on the front porch in the shade of an orange tree on a southern Illinois farm. He had mined gold in California in 1850 and he did a good deal of thinking. When he was thinking, he did not care to be bothered by small boys. But we could approach him on his blind side (he had lost an eye in a hunting accident) and watch him think. One thing he thought was that old gold miners should get a pension. "We had hard trials and great tribulations," he wrote, "and Uncle Sam ought to give us a service pension, for we made it possible for him to have plenty of gold. And they are bigger than any fort or gun you ever heard of. We took much gold from the Sierra Nevada and made it possible for men to become millionaires, and who cares if they are taxed to help take care of us old gold hunters. Also old soldiers," he added, with an eye, I suppose, to support of Civil War veterans.

IN THE CURVED GLASS WHATNOT in the corner, among the daguerreotypes and the big conch shell, there was a lump of water-smoothed gold. Great-grandpa said it was worth every cent of $5. He said he had picked it out of a claim in French Flat.

The other day I drove over to French Flat in the Mother Lode country. The gold country of the foothills that lie between the California valleys and the great Sierra. French Flat was a rich digging and, in early days, there were hundreds of men working their 15-foot square claims. Today it is a pasture of lonely oaks and a little branch stream. Sometimes you jump a black-tailed deer among the manzanita bushes.

IT IS ONLY A FEW MILES from Amador City where great-grandpa saw one of the strange sights. "As we did not wish to work on Sunday," he wrote, "we went down to Hanford and Downs store to hear the news. They had a lot of pearls that grew on trees at one of the old Spanish missions. They were about the size of hen's eggs and were beginning to speck in spots. Hanford was anxious to sell the lot of 80 pounds to us and wanted $5. We offered him a dollar.

"I noticed a good-looking, well-formed young squaw looking very wishful at the pearls. I motioned for her to help herself. 'Bueno pears.' She began eating them, rotten parts and all, for she had a capacious stomach, being raised on acorns, roots, herbs and grasshoppers and the like. When she had filled herself, she began gouging out the speckled parts, and to clean her fingers she drew them between her well-formed toes. They came out as clean as if she had wiped them with a cloth!"

Oh, a man had plenty of memories under the orange trees if he had mined for gold in the early days of California.

THERE ARE NO INDIANS in the Mother Lode country these days. And though you can turn up a trace of gold in a miner's pan, the smooth, water-worn nuggets worth every cent of $5 are really rare.

The Wells Fargo offices where the raw gold waited shipment have fallen into their own foundations. And the old gold miner who thought he should be pensioned lies under a great elm tree on a southern Illinois farm.

Still it is a wonderful country to wander through in these Indian summer days. When the sun lies warm on the hillsides where the rock-pile tailings of long-gone miners mark the rich diggings.

You can sleep sound as a dollar and eat three square meals a day.

And though the old gentleman came home with only a small amount of gold, a souvenir nugget and a lifetime of memories, who is to say but what great-grandpa struck it rich?

Criticizing Principal

By Frances Ilg, M.D., and Louise Ames, Ph.D.
Of the Gessell Institute of Child Development

TO THE YOUNG child, his teacher, like his parents, is a pretty important person. In fact, many young children attribute to their teachers as to their parents, powers verging on the supernatural. There are many who think that teacher is just about perfect. Their feelings about her come close to adoration. A cross word from teacher, even as late as the fifth grade, can be for some admiring but sensitive souls a very crushing blow.

Come the pre-teen years, however, and many in their growing independence of and even revolt against the adults in power, seem to feel the need of doing a good deal of criticizing of their teacher. Some of it is perhaps deserved. Much of it, however, represents more their own need to revolt and criticize than any correct and fair evaluation of the person being criticized.

DURING THE PRE-TEEN YEARS, Teacher so fills the school horizon that criticism doesn't get beyond her. But even by 13, that horizon is wider. The principal now comes in for her share of criticisms. This criticism often becomes more intense at 14. Then at 15, horizons broaden once more till the critical 15-year-old's complaints include the way the whole school is run. (We don't mean of course that teen-agers have nothing but criticism for school!)

These criticisms of principals are not to be taken too seriously by the reader. They do not necessarily represent a true objective evaluation of the principals in question.

HERE IS WHAT a (really very nice) 13-year-old spontaneously told us about her principal: "Our principal is a big show-off. She struts around the hall like a peacock. Always making stupid rules. You can't stand up inside the door when the bell rings—have to sit at your desk. Always making speeches in assembly. The teachers don't like her either."

A 14-year-old tells us, also spontaneously: "I like school very much but I don't like the principal. She has the wrong idea on life altogether. She comes up with an idea and this idea has to go over. She gets all the parents to agree with her ideas. I think she should consult the children more and let them make the rules more. She's just distillable. She gives big lectures about talking in the halls. What then do they like about a principal? Very simple: 'Our principal is wonderful. She tries to figure out the children's problems and she tries to give everybody a say!'"

Festive Costumes For Winter Wear

By Sylvia Stiles

THE approach of the holiday season brings a demand for fashions that have a definite winter emphasis as well as being festive in type. Velvets, satins and decorative materials are especially appealing at this time of year. The dress with its own jacket offers extra service that adds to interest. Shown are some of the styles on display in the St. Louis stores at prices which justify even the most budget-conscious shoppers to splurge on one gala costume.

1—This satin sheath with the skirt that is slim at front but flares at the back is one of those hard-to-find dresses priced under $25. The fabric is yarn-dyed satin with a peau de sole finish. Silhouette has a definite Dior accent with the bodice cut with a high square neckline and adorned with rhinestone clips. Dress is available in pink and slate blue shades as well as black and in sizes ranging from 10 to 18.

2—Black velvet is trimmed with white satin in the design of this ensemble. The dress silhouette is slim. The bodice has bias bands of the satin crossed at the front. Bolero jacket lined with the satin adds draped folds of satin. Sizes are from 12 to 18.

3—An acetate alpaca type of material was used for this slim dress and tunic length jacket. The dress, designed in a modification of the Empire silhouette, has a slate-blue satin bodice. Plunging V neckline is finished with a satin bow. Jacket is gored to fit the waistline and flares into a wide tunic. Crossed bands at the front of the jacket are adorned with glittering buttons.

4—This unusual sheath dress is made of wool ribbing on a taffeta base to give the effect of ribbon. The dress buttons at the back. The neckline is moderately low at the front and extends to a deep oval at the back. Trimming is of black satin.

5—Wool crepe covered with a Schiffl embroidered design in a border effect is a striking material for a slender dress with wide, round neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The dress may be obtained in black, brown or camel shades and sizes from 10 to 20.

6—Created for elegant occasions but priced moderately, this ensemble consists of a slender dress of silver metallic fabric and a full length black velvet coat. The dress has a V neckline and longer shoulders forming brief sleeves. The short velvet coat has a mandarin collar.

The fashions illustrated here are available in St. Louis Shops. Patterns are not obtainable. For information call MAIN 1-1111, Station 386, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. Monday through Friday, or mail self-addressed stamped envelope to Fashions Illustrated, St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Word Game.
TODAY'S vocabulary test is based upon 10 fairly common words. Most of them will give you little trouble but be on the watch for two or three tricky ones! All will prove valuable additions to your vocabulary. For each numbered word you will find a word of almost the same meaning among the three words and phrases following it. Thus the word numbered 1 may mean practically the same as the word lettered c. Write this down as 1c. When you have written down all the answers, check against the correct pairings at the bottom. Here is how we score the quiz: 10 correct, excellent; 8 to 9, superior; 6 to 7, good; 5 or less, poor.

1. Requite: (a) to pay back; (b) insist upon; (c) not quite.
2. Reprisal: (a) international force short of war; (b) repetition of a song; (c) reproduction of art without permission.
3. Piscatorial: (a) full of beautiful pictures; (b) pertaining to fishing; (c) astrological.
4. Plaster: (a) quickly prepared plaster; (b) Syrian beggar; (c) unit of Turkish currency.
5. Peregrination: (a) expression of laughter; (b) wanderings; (c) a kind of long-haired cat.
6. Jugular: (a) pertaining to the art of juggling; (b) of the neck and throat; (c) Mexican jailhouse.
7. Junket: (a) excursion at government expense; (b) Chinese river boat; (c) German aristocrat.
8. Reprobate: (a) revision of a will; (b) secondary reproduction; (c) scoundrel.
9. Egret: (a) the bald eagle; (b) heron plume; (c) first-year military cadet.
10. Malefactor: (a) male factory owner; (b) business agent; (c) evildoer.

ANSWERS: 1a (reh-KWITE); 2a (reh-PRYZE-lee); 3b (piss-kuh-TOR-ee-ul); 4c (pee-ASS-ter); 5b (pehr-eh-grih-NAY-shun); 6b (JOG-yoo-ler); 7a (JUNK-et); 8c (SKOWN-dree-EE-gret); 10c (MAL-eh-fak-ter).

Yield: six servings.

Lumber Hint

Before you put down hardwood flooring or use similar types of kiln dried lumber, place it in the room where they are to be used for several days so that the wood can adjust to the humidity of the room. If you don't, the bone dry wood will absorb some moisture and expand causing it to buckle.

The Delicacy and Refinement of Life

By Fulton J. Sheen

THE minuteness of God's works, such as the rain drop, the snowflake, the blade of grass, signify that a value is to be put on the small things of the universe. The numbering of the hairs on the heads of children, the moulding of lips on the chalice of the lily, the sustained unholing of the wings of a sparrow, testify that the delicacy and refinement of life is in what some may call trifles.

To our generation has been reserved the wonder of discovering within the atom that invisible fission which is the way the sun lights the world.

WHAT IS TRUE IN NATURE is truer in the human order. But here what little store is put on the tiny amenities of life. Husbands take their wives for granted and children their parents. Many a man would rush into a burning building to rescue his wife, but to anticipate a convenience for her could be a more eloquent proof of tenderness. The Divine Master can detect the martyr-spirit in a tiny little heroism for a member of the family or for a friend, just as well as in the shedding of blood.

Growth in character and holiness is not the mushroom sprouting of an hour — it is rather like the process of the coral reefs in the Pacific. Millions of tiny forms of marine life died to build up what are now landing fields for our planes. Countless deaths, endless sacrifices make life possible now in those isolated atolls amidst the little waters of the Pacific. Little duties prayerfully discharged, little temptations earnestly resisted, little courtesies unendingly extended, myriad self-denials and throatings of the ego—all these like tiny little particles agglutinate to fill up with God's grace the perfect and happy life.

IN EVERY THOUGHT, word and deed, there is a moral principle involved. No crushing of the violent diatribe against the person who accidentally steps on our toes is without relation to one of the Ten Commandments. No holding back of the hand from seizing even a penny that rightfully belongs to another is outside the application of an Eternal Law.

The big deeds of kindness that find their way into the press for praise do not necessarily make character—they are like paint on a house. But the reception of the tiny deeds of charity, through days into years, working on the inside of a person; like food daily assimilated into the body, they become a part of us.

OUR DIVINE LORD said that only those who were faithful over the little things would be placed over greater things. That means from the Divine point of view that there is nothing great or small except in the motive. The magnitude of the act is not the measure of its greatness, but the moral and spiritual motive or inspiration that prompted it. Nothing is small that a soul can do; in the vocabulary of conscience there is no such thing as worth determined by "bigness" or "smallness." Nothing is small that is done from a heavenly motive—even the drink of cold water done in the name of Christ receives a reward a hundredfold!

The multiplied tiny things of life are harder than the heroic things done once. Man is much more inclined to look for the hero's crown for one great deed; but the woman who sprinkles a thousand tiny sacrifices each day in the rearing of a family finds it hard to be honored for the "trifles"; yet the small duties are often harder just because of their insignificance and their constant repetition. On the negative side too, great crimes begin with little ones—the stealing of a pencil is the prelude to the stealing of a gun. The act of stepping over the limit, no matter how small in the beginning, is the throwing down of the gauntlet to the eternal Moral Order. Tiny dishonesties may not be noticed, it is true, but it is the refraining from those things which are not noticed that constitutes the moral act—for God sees all and judges all!

Out-of-Town Visitors To Be Here for Party

By Margaret Allen Ruhl

NOT a family reunion, for they happen only once in five years and the guest list mounts to 250, but a small family gathering of a mere 20 out-of-town members of their family, is being arranged by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Allen Thomas, 609 South Warson road, Ladue.

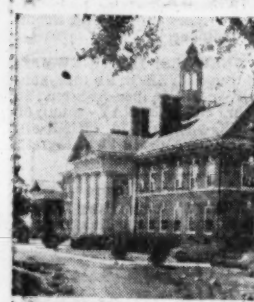

The visitors will be here for the weekend of Nov. 11, 12 and 13. No entertainment is being planned in accordance with their wishes.

The guests will include Mrs. Thomas's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Talbot, New York; her brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Duddleson Brown, Mr. and Mrs. P. Schuyler Church and Mr. and Mrs. George Mead, all of Dayton, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Thayer, Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Jones, Sea Island, Ga.; her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hilliard Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa., and her nephew, John B. Greene, Dayton.

Mary Institute Country Fair.

FOR their biennial contribution to charity, the students of Mary Institute are planning a Country Fair to be given at the school, Warson and Ladue roads, Saturday, Oct. 29, from 10 to 4 o'clock.

Assisted by their mothers, the pupils have monogrammed pajamas and smocks with the Mary Institute initials and have marked glasses, waste baskets and ash trays in similar fashion. They will make cakes, cookies and candies to be sold in a food booth, and candles, Christmas tree ornaments and hurricane lamp stands for another booth. A flower and plant stand is in the making.

Since spring the children, their families and alumnae living abroad have been sending to the school parcel post packages to be sold at a special "parcel post" booth without being opened.

A resale of pupils' own books, toys and records will be a feature, as will concessions, including a fortune teller, on-the-spot photography and a fish pond.

Booths will be set up in the corridors and gymnasium, but the most interesting money-raising project will be out-of-doors, a "stake your M.I. claim," in which small plots around the flag pole will be "sold." The winner will find buried treasure beneath his plot. Eugene Kropp, father of a student, is in charge.

Mrs. Ralph Doughton is general chairman of the fair, with Mrs. John T. Blake co-chairman. Miss Letitia Butler is student chairman and Miss Dale Bodenheimer, student treasurer.

Of the mothers' committees, Mrs. Robert J. Noland heads sewing; Mrs. Barney Fisher and Mrs. Ernest H. Schultz, two varieties of handicrafts; Mrs. J. Bruce Butler, table decorations; and Mrs. Ben F. Jackson, booth decorations.

There are to be two auctions. Luncheon will be served to those with reservations.

The Student Council, which for the fourth time has chosen the recipient of the proceeds, has decided to divide it this year between the United Fund and the Mary Institute Endowment Fund.

Dunbar-Hippenmeyer Wedding Plans.

PLANS are now complete for the Dec. 27 wedding of Miss Sally Ann Hippenmeyer to Air Force Lt. Richard William Dunbar. The marriage ceremony will be performed at 11:30 o'clock in the morning at the Church of St. Mary Magdalen in Brentwood with the Rev. John F. Dollard officiating.

MISS HIPPENMEYER, TO BE DECEMBER BRIDE.

The bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hippenmeyer, 7815 Lafon place, University City, will give a breakfast immediately afterward at Le Chateau.

Miss Mary Ann Manion will serve as maid of honor for her cousin. Bridesmaids will be Miss Helen Ritter, Miss Lucia Novak; Mrs. William Hunsicker (Janet-Jo Patterson) of Santa Monica, Calif., and Mrs. Charles Brankie.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mrs. Daniel G. Dunbar, 17 Lindworth lane, Ladue, and the late Mr. Dunbar, has asked his brother, Daniel L. Dunbar, to be best man. His fiancée's two brothers, Harry Jerome and Thomas Frederick Hippenmeyer, Air Force Lt. James Leonard Burt and Donald Franz will be ushers.

Fall Activities for Ferguson Residents.

MRS. WILLIAM A. HATCHER, 426 Tiffin avenue, and her daughters, Miss Mary Ellen and Nancy, flew to Kansas City Thursday. Mrs. Hatcher and Miss Mary Ellen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Walsh, and Miss Mary Ellen attended the American Royal Coronation Ball Friday night.

Nancy visited the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Barnard of Bucyrus, Kan., formerly of Ferguson. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Durham, 345 Tiffin avenue, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary Sunday, with a reception at their home from 2 to 5 o'clock. About 200 friends called. The marriage of Miss Hazel May Miles and Robert K. Durham took place Oct. 16, 1895, in Moberly, Mo. They lived in Moberly until they came to Ferguson in 1910. They have a son, Robert B. Durham, a resident of Ferguson. Out-of-town guests were Mr. Durham's sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Durham of Camdenton, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Durham of Moberly.

***

Mrs. Tom C. Atwood, 118 South Clay avenue, left by plane Thursday for Lexington, Ky., to spend a week or two with her mother, Mrs. William B. Loughridge.

***

Miss Edith Williamson of Mount Vernon, Ill., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Williamson, 25 North Clark avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bethel, 806 Rowles avenue, and their sons, Robert A. and James F. Bethel, have returned from a three-week visit with relatives in Santa Rosa, Calif.

Wallace-Hopkins Ohio Wedding

MISS PATRICIA ANNETTE HOPKINS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lawrence Hopkins of Delaware, O., became the bride Oct. 8 of William Hilton Wallace II, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Wallace, are former St. Louisans now living in Lakewood, O.

The afternoon wedding took place in Delaware at Asbury Methodist Church with the Rev. Thomas Cromwell officiating. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie trimmed in tulle and alencon lace. A close-fitting cap of lace-edged silk held her finger-tip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies.

Mrs. Charles Kaiser of Akron, O., was matron of honor while Mrs. Conrad Shisler of Columbus, O., and Mrs. Richard Guster of Akron were bridesmaids. Their ballerina length gowns were made of rose taffeta trimmed in ruby red velvet to match their tiny hats. Fuchsia and pink daisy chrysanthemum bouquets completed their costumes.

Mr. Guster was best man while William Ziegler, Lt. Eugene Weis and Donald Lefton, all of Cleveland, and Alfred Sheriff of Cadiz, O., were ushers.

A reception was held afterward at Women's City Club, after which Mr. Wallace and his bride departed for a wedding trip to The Cloister, Sea Island, Ga. They will live in Cleveland.

OPINION

Dear Martha:

I HAVE been a housewife and mother for 16 years. I don't smoke or drink and have very few clothes. My husband thinks new furniture, curtains, bedspreads, lamps and everything that makes a home livable is extravagant. We have second-hand furniture since we were married, and some of it is about to fall apart. If I make a small purchase without consulting him, he acts as though I had committed a crime. I am really ashamed of our house. Our friends, who live on the same salary as we, have nice furniture. You know men never think they might be driving their wives away from them. Don't you think a wife that likes a home and children is entitled to decent furnishings?

FED UP.

Of course I do. Most couples who are planning to be married shop together for their new home, buying the best they can afford and keeping each other's tastes in mind. But if you haven't been able to persuade him in 16 years to take an interest in his home, I doubt if you can do so now. However, that doesn't mean you can't have a bright, cheerful and attractive home. Make that second-hand furniture gleam with polish. Watch for yard goods, sales and make some pretty curtains. Plant flowers and foliage. You'd be surprised how much beauty they add to a home.

Dear Martha:

I AM ALMOST 62 YEARS OF AGE. I am now with my daughter and her husband and their son. All I get to do is stay here and work. I am hardly ever out of the house, and when we do, it is to get to the store and right back home. It is getting on my nerves. I sometimes think I would like to meet a nice man my age. Do you think I could find a good kind gentleman?

VERY TIRED.

I'm sorry, but I can't locate a husband for you, however, I may be able to help otherwise. Is it necessary for you to remain in your daughter's home? Why not get a small apartment or house of your own, or even a room or two? Then you will be more independent and will have an opportunity to get out more often rather than be tied down by work all the time. You don't have to get married in order to live an independent life. Why let yourself be a slave to your family? Go to church or to social clubs for older men and women. Invite your friends to meet you for lunch or a movie. Develop hobbies and special interests. If in the course of all this you find a man you think you could care for, then the time to be thinking about getting married. But don't just try to land a man—any man—in order to get out of your present situation. Too many have jumped from the frying pan into the fire doing just that.

Martha Carr has compiled a leaflet of children's prayers and grace to be said at table. Write today for your free copy, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Reducing the Hips

By Josephine Lowman

LETTER from a reader says, in part, "I am not overweight but I have a very large lower hip line. I do not want to reduce my hips generally, just this spot. My husband isn't at all pleased with my figure because of my excess baggage."

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We all have seen figures like this. Exercise is the magic answer. It is possible to reduce this measurement if you will exercise faithfully. There are many exercises for each figure fault. Today I am going to repeat the two most effective ones I know: One for the lower back hipline and the other for the upper hipline the pads of fat in the back below the waistline).

FOR THE LOWER BACK HIPS: Sit on the floor with your legs straight out in front of you. Lean back on your hands as you raise both legs from the floor. Lean back until your body weight falls directly over the largest part of your hips. Now roll onto your right side, keeping legs and body in the same position. Roll onto the left side. Continue rolling from side to side and catching yourself on each side with your hands.

This time bend the trunk and try to touch the right hand to the right toe. Raise trunk and continue, alternating left and right. If you cannot touch the floor come as close to it as you can without bending your knees.

If you would like to have Josephine Lowman's tested hip slimming exercises, which will give you a loss of a few inches in a few weeks time, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3. Address her in care of the Post-Dispatch.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

DEAR MRS. POST: A friend and I are having a dispute on the following matter and wish you would settle it for us. This friend had been going out with a young man for the past year (they were not engaged) and during this time he gave her several presents of jewelry, such as a wristwatch, bracelet, etc. They no longer see each other. I told her that I thought she should return these presents to him, but she refuses to do so and says she is quite within her rights to keep them.

Answer: If they were not engaged and there was no thought of an engagement between them—in other words, they were merely Christmas and birthday presents—it is quite right for her to keep them.

DEAR MRS. POST: I am married and my name is no longer the same as that of my brother, who is a doctor. In making introductions, may I properly introduce my brother as Dr. John Jones or would it be improper to say "... my brother, Dr. Jones"? I believe you have said that one does not use title for members of one's own family.

Answer: It is quite proper to use a title if you make a pause in between. If you say, "My brother, John," wait a moment and then add for information, "He is Dr. Jones."

Frank Lloyd Wright's New Furniture

Architect Features Geometrical Lines in Designs for Mass Production

By Virginia Kachan
CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (INS).

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT'S new furniture for American homes is just like his architecture—built along all sorts of geometrical lines.

There are squares, rectangles, triangles and hexagons aplenty in the furniture, the first the 86-year-old architect has designed on a mass production basis.

The furniture was previewed yesterday at the Chicago Merchandise Mart and was displayed in settings for the bedroom, living room and dining room.

Wright's chests, cabinets and desks are rectangular with no attempt to round any corners. He favors square outlines for pull-up and upholstered chairs and his sofas are either straight-line or sectional combinations of the straight line and angle. In the room settings, put together under Wright's supervision, the chairs and sofas all were placed against the wall to leave the center of the room free. Pull-up chairs were lined up like settees.

Wright explained in an interview that he doesn't like furniture "cluttering up the middle of a room so people stumble over it."

Most of the architect's furniture is simple, almost severe in line. But he lets himself go in his occasional tables, many of which are like jig-saw puzzles. For instance, he has designed low, triangular wedge tables that fit together to form a hexagonal table. These triangles also can be put out and, with little velvet cushions, serve as extra seats.

The triangles also were stacked in different ways—in tiers for a corner "curio" cabinet; one on top of another on a table to show off gimped or scattered singly on chairs or window sills to hold potted plants.

Besides the triangular form, Wright has a fondness for the hexagon. He uses it as the design for high lamp tables, low snack and cocktail tables and for large upholstered ottomans.

In one setting, three hexagonal ottomans were clustered together at the end of a straight-line, armless couch to provide an additional sitting island.

Most of Wright's tables have unique fin-like bases of solid wood panels rather than conventional legs. Wright explained the fins were designed "to eliminate leg straddling and shuffling."

Like other contemporary furniture designs, Wright's pieces are low. One round "informal" dining table is only 24 inches off the floor.

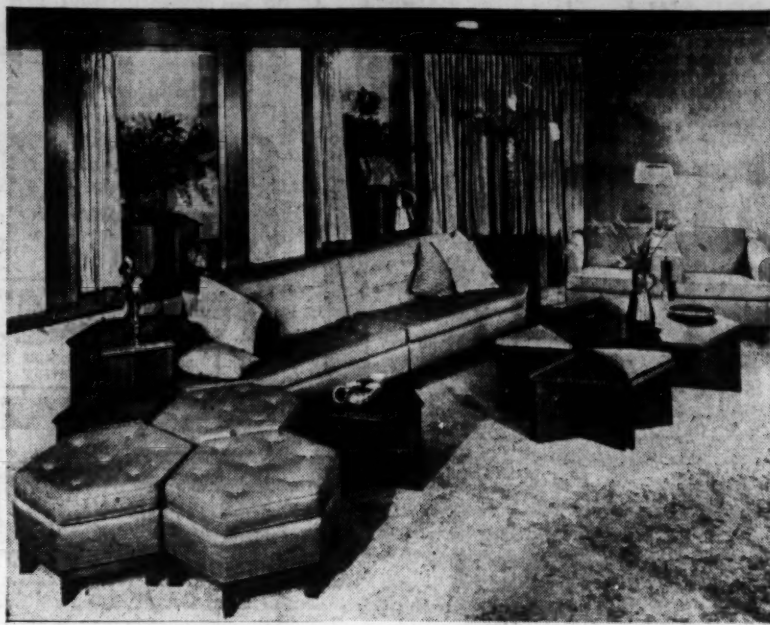

Most of his furniture is designed to be used interchangeably from room to room and many of the units are modular so they can be arranged in different ways.

WRIGHT has used only one wood throughout the collection, his favorite mahogany in a natural matte finish.

None of his cabinet pieces has pulls; instead finger slots have been carved in drawers and doors.

Another type of carving, a variation of the Greek key design, is the only ornamentation Wright has permitted himself. This decorates the rims of tables, the outlines of chests and the base of upholstered pieces.

The room settings were decorated with Wright's own fabrics, some of them prints of the sign for high lamp tables, low snack and cocktail tables and for large upholstered ottomans.

In one setting, three hexagonal ottomans were clustered together at the end of a straight-line, armless couch to provide an additional sitting island.

Most of Wright's tables have unique fin-like bases of solid wood panels rather than conventional legs. Wright explained the fins were designed "to eliminate leg straddling and shuffling."

engagement ring Walter had given her years before. She needed, now, she realized, Dora and diamonds to match.

Amy had been happy in her old life and had looked five years younger than she actually was because of a good-humored acceptance of things as they came. With Walter's success and his responsibilities, she looks harassed, feels inadequate, and wishes to heaven she could get back into her old rut. A few more months of their new pace and it's not unlikely that she and Walter will both be heading for a psychiatrist's couch.

AMY'S FLIGHT reminded me of the New York policeman who awhile ago refused a promotion and a raise because, he said, he would rather see more of his wife and four children than accept a promotion that would take him away from home additional hours.

I'm certainly not going to argue against people going up in the world but there are times when a choice must be made between additional money and something more precious. And oddly enough, some unexpected good fortune seems as hard to bear as an avalanche of hard luck.

Lucille Ball told recently of suffering an almost complete breakdown at just the moment when, from an outsider's point of view, all her dreams had come true. Her television show was a sensational hit, the financial rewards were startling, she was happily married and had the children she and her husband both wanted. Yet suddenly she was frightened, her success seemed unreal and temporary.

The policeman may regret his choice (and one wonders what his wife had to say about his decision) but it seems to me that the really civilized human being, all other things being equal, may decide, as Amy did, against money in favor of more important considerations.

I have to hand it to my Sal. She's just a whizz at taking the work out of housework. For instance, most gals practically kill themselves scrubbing and waxing wood floors. But not my Sal! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. The job's done in half the time and with a lot less work. And you should hear all the swell compliments about our beautiful wood floors! My Sal and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure make simple work of a tough chore. And they make me mighty proud too!

My Day

A Minor Inconvenience

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK. WHEN I first reached New York Sunday morning the full implications of the rain-storm did not dawn on me. And I was certainly alarmed when my son, John, phoned to say that at Hyde Park we were threatened with as much damage as we had had in the August hurricane. He said he had installed four gasoline pumps in the cellar to forestall damage, if possible. At the time, however, the water pump, the lights and telephone were intact, though the contents of one of my food freezer units had already been ruined. In comparison with what the poor people in Connecticut towns were suffering, though, this seemed a very minor inconvenience.

Mrs. Roosevelt

by train. The timetable showed there was one train I could make, even though I had people in to lunch. So I hurried my guests a little and made the train, and my niece, Amy Roosevelt, and Mrs. Jules Moch, who wanted to go out with me, decided they would brave the train trip also.

We reached North White Plains, which was the last stop the train made, and, fortunately, the road to the high school was clear. I confess, however, that I expected very few people would come to the meeting. To my surprise, more than 500 people showed up, but in a hall that seats nearly 1000 it looked like a scattered gathering. However, I thought they were valiant to come at all.

ON MONDAY MORNING I visited an exhibition of photographs by Bette E. Barber of Campobello Island at the art gallery in the Barbizon Plaza Hotel. These are charming photographs and show many views from the island, and on the island, as well as some of the houses.

I was particularly interested to see a picture of the house which Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hammer bought from us, which my husband and I had owned for a good many years.

If you made a trip to Peru, and visited parts away from the coast, you could find some of the bridges which were built by Incas in the far past. Many of these date back from 400 to 500 years, and a few are believed to be more than 1000 years old!

Some Inca bridges were made of logs or of stone blocks. These usually crossed streams at low levels. Inca cables a foot thick or even more were made by weaving vines, twigs and strips of bark together. Cables of this type were employed in making bridges for some of the high mountain gorges.

Q. What kinds of things did the early Incas make from cloth?

A. The women wore shawls and loose robes for themselves, also belts and cloth bags. Inca weavers have been called "the most skillful in either North or South America."

Work baskets have been found in the graves of some Inca women. These contained copper needles, as well as balls of thread.

Q. How tall were the Incas?

A. They were short by modern standards. The average height of the men was hardly more than five feet and four inches. The women averaged about five feet and one inch.

We speak of Inca Indians as people of the past, but let us remember that millions of their descendants live in western parts of South America—chiefly in Peru—to this day. In learning their average heights, we are guided by modern measurements, as well as by reports of the early Spanish explorers.

Q. What kinds of homes did the Incas have?

A. In warm areas, the huts were made of wood and often had open sides with roofs of thatched grass or matted reeds. In cold districts, on the other hand, huts with stone walls were common. Adobe huts—made with blocks of sun-dried mud—also were used by these tribesmen. To this day, adobe homes serve the needs of many Indians in Latin America, also in Arizona and New Mexico.

FORECAST
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight

Fog and light frost greeted St. Louisans on their way to work this morning. The thermometer dropped to 43 in downtown St. Louis and 39 at Lambert-St. Louis Field.

High temperature yesterday was 57 at 4 p.m., exactly 30 degrees below the record high for the date, recorded in 1953. Record low for the date was 30 in 1846.

Weatherman Harry F. Wagner forecast the temperature will be in the upper 60s tomorrow with the outlook generally fair.

In Missouri this morning a number of stations reported minimum temperatures below freezing. Union and Farmington were lowest with readings of 29. The St. Louis reading was the highest minimum reported in the state. Maximums yesterday varied from 56 at Clarkville to 65 at West Plains, Joplin and Butler.

In the nation, temperatures this morning were from 9 at Fraser, Colo., to 73 at Key West, Fla. The mercury dropped to 35 as far south as Jackson, Miss. Highs yesterday ranged from 56 at Park Falls, Wis., to 90 at Gila Bend, Ariz.

REDHEAD from TEXAS

by Anne Allison

CHAPTER FOUR

None of the occupants of El Rancho slept well that hot June night and by 5 o'clock the sun rose to add heat to the dusty dryness.

Promptly at 8 everyone met for breakfast on the terrace. Everyone except Debra Symington.

"She leave," Wong announced with satisfaction as he served H.J. his favorite codfish cakes from a silver dish. "Very early in the morning. Mr. Matt take her in the plane."

Matthew Brady had not put in an appearance since the arrival of the guests but this morning he was sitting next to H.J. Molly suspected at his invitation. "That's right," Matt said noncommittally. "She wanted to go to Dallas to get a plane seat so I flew her in."

Only Walter was puzzled over his sister's sudden disappearance but he was accustomed to Debra's capriciousness and obviously he was relieved.

Molly glanced anxiously at her father. There were dark circles beneath his eyes. His manner was strained and ill at ease. If she thought that Debra's departure would make things easier she was mistaken.

"Shall we ride together, like we used to?" Molly suggested as H.J. finished his coffee. "I'm sure Walter will excuse us."

"I wouldn't think of taking you away from your guest," H.J. informed her coldly. "And I'm sure he's not interested in joining us."

When he and Matt had gone Walter said, "I'm afraid there's no use, darling. Your father is not going to accept me on any terms."

"He'll get used to you," Molly said uneasily. "He had a scene with Debra last night. She was listening to our conversation in the drawing room and said some pretty nasty things. He ordered her out of the house. That's why she left so early this morning."

WALTER'S face was grave.

"I see. Is there any use for me to apologize for my sister, Molly? It seems I've been doing it all my life."

"It's not your fault," she insisted. "But why does she seem

MOLLY BRADEN, daughter of a wealthy Texas rancher, H.J. Symington, who has been married to her father since 1912, is the new manager of the ranch. Her father is away but she learns he is angry with her because she has married Walter. When she returns her father, she goes for her father. He greets the guests coldly and after they retire, tells Molly she must not marry Walter—that he will disinherit her if she does.

to hate H.J. so?"

"She hates all men," her brother reminded her. "And she's jealous of my money. It's the only god Debra respects. You know Molly, I have the feeling that your father would like to have you marry a man like Matt Brady. Obviously he approves of him."

"I can't stand him," Molly said with a shrug. "Oh, Walter, I do wish you'd ride with me out on the range. I want you to understand why I love this place so much. Perhaps it will help you to understand H.J. better, too."

She was proud of Walter. He tried so hard. Much as he disliked horses he consented to ride a gentle mare while Molly went ahead on Thundercloud. The familiar taste of Texas dust was in her mouth and Molly loved it. She did not mind the sizzling sun or the bare plains or even the hot wind which blew over the flat land.

"There's something about the bigness of it," she explained as they stopped the horses to contemplate the vastness of the Braden empire.

"It seems lonely to me," Walter said honestly. "But being a New Yorker, born and bred, it's different from anything I've ever known. I can understand how you would love it though, Molly, and I'm not jealous of the ranch or your father. I don't expect you to change into an entirely different type of human being just because you're going to be my wife."

"I know you don't, Walter. You've been very fair about everything. It's H.J. who's unreasonable." She glanced at him with affection. He was blond like his sister with the same blue-gray eyes. But there was kindness and compassion in his face. None of Debra's coldness—or H.J.'s stubbornness. It would be a relief to live with a man who would not rule her every thought, Molly decided, as they turned back toward the house.

THEY WALKED toward the horses because of Walter—and Thundercloud was disgusted. Usually he and Molly galloped over the range and he showed his disapproval by snorting loudly.

"I told you horses didn't like me," Walter stated cheerfully. "Can you see now why I belong in New York?"

Molly laughed, her spirits rising. She flung off her Stetson, a small sized copy of H.J.'s big one and let her auburn hair fall over her forehead. Walter's attitude had reassured her and in time H.J. would be fair. But H.J. Braden was not a man to be underestimated. Although Walter Symington spent a week at El Rancho, H.J. became more sarcastic, more discourteous at every meeting. Molly learned to dread the meals where H.J. and Matt discussed ranch business to the exclusion of every other topic of conversation. Even Wong in his unobtrusive way did all he could to show Walter that he was unwanted. And Walter was not a fool.

"I'm leaving for the east tomorrow," he told Molly as they walked in the fragrant garden outside the den. "If you still want to follow me, I'm not going to try to force you, Molly, much as I love you. It's up to you to decide between your father and me."

In the strange light which seemed to emanate from a summer sky in Texas, Molly's face was pale. "I've already decided, Walter. But I'll stay on here another month, as you suggest. Perhaps by then..." Her unspoken words drifted between them. But they both knew now that H.J. was not going to change his mind.
